A PATENT WAY OF SETTLING THE ALABAMA CLAIMS SUBMITTED TO THE HON. W. H. SE-WARD .- Mr. Editor,-I am tired to death of hearing about that stupid Alabama question, which I could settle in two minutes. But men are so conceited. My husband, now declares in his nasty slang, that the following suggestion is all bosh; so I am determined to send it to you, who have more sense, I know. Why, worth Dixon says that while we in England have 365,000 extra young ladies, in the United States there are actually 730,000 young men longing for wives. Very well. Then let Mr. DRY GOODS & FURS, Seward send us over 365,000 of these young men. For the credit of his country, of course he would pick out the handsomest and pleasantest. Let him woo 365,000 of our daughters, and let generous England give way the brides —with her blessing—to America, in full satisfaction of the Alabama claims. Fancy making 365,000 young couples happy tout d'un coup!
Wouldn't our negotiations go "as merrily as a marriage bell" after that? and do you suppose we should ever have the heart to quarrel with purchasing elsewhere, the Americans again, when our own darling grandchildren were carrying off the prizes at As they may rely on Bargains. their baby-shows? Bless their little hearts, what pretty Anglo-Yankees they would be !- I remain, dear Mr. Editor, A MATCHMAKER con amore. P. S.—On second thoughts, the 730,-000 had better come, as Scotland and Ireland would wish, no doubt, to share in making com pensation .- Echoes from the Club.

On GUARD FOUR YEARS .- A Curious story of the War. The Winchester (Va) Times is responsible for the following: During the year 1864, when the hostile forces were struggling for the supremacy in and round Winchester, Mr. — went to Major Parsons, United States Provost Marshal. and applied for a safeguard. General Fessenden was called on to fill the demand, which he did by detailing for this duty Mr. John of the Second New York Cavalry, to whom he issued imperative orders to remain until he was relieved by proper authority. W. stood manfully by his post. The tide of battles s him, but his was a charmed life, for he had that authority which saved him from melestation by the " rebs." The war closed, but with it came no order to the sentinel, and faithful to the trust confided to him, he is still at his post of duty! The case has been reported to the proper authorities, and Mr. W. will doubtless WHITE CO.
