THE SAILOR'S WEDDING

BY THEODORE TILTON.

"Q loitering ship," the sailor cried, "Now speed me home to meet my bride!"

The ship, through flying spray, Went bounding on her way.

"O midnight bells! my watch is done; O happy morrow! haste the sun." Then down he lay and slept,

He dreamed that suddenly the waves Stood fixed and green, like churchyard graves.

And in his dream he wept.

And then a mournful bell Rang out a funeral knell.

With eager feet he leaped ashore,

And stood at Mary's cottage door.

Was in her grave at rest!

I'd swear for her,

I'd tear for her.

'd lie for her,

The Lord knows what I'd bear for her;

I'd sigh for her, I'd drink Big Muddy dry for her; I'd "cuss" for her,

Do "wuss" for her, I'd kick up a thunderin' fuss for her;

I'd weep for her,

The bride in white all dressed,
