Extraording wife of a countryman, in the Burdock district, had given birth to sixty-nine Mosfen at 27 confinements; four times 4 at one birth, seven times 3, and sixteen times twins. In the year 1809 the Vienna newspapers contained the following announ ement:

"Maria Anna Helon, the wife of a poor linen of the most important and interesting subjects of life, how they are lost, and how they can be recovered."

A distinguished Queen's Council, in addressing the Court of Queen's Bench in reference of this work, observed, observed work, observed—"This is an extremely ystable book, written by an eminent and experienced medical man, upon one of the most important and interesting subjects of life, which every one, married or single, ought to be acquainted with." It points out how all the attributes of Manhood can be preserved to an advanced period of life, how they are lost, and how they can be recovered.
