horses still carrying their riders; for, as long as a troop horse in action feels the weight and hand of a master, his deep trust in man keeps him seemingly free from great terror, and he goes through the fight, unless wounded, as though it were a field day at home; but the moment that death or a disabling wound deprives him of his rider, he seems all at once to neur for want of a hand to guide him.

knows the dread accent that is used by missiles hereby made and established. of war whilst cutting their way through the air, for as often as these sounds disclose to him the near passage of bullet or round shot, he shrinks and cringes. His eyeballs protrude. Wild with fright, he still does not most commonly above cited, to these Regulations, and to such further gallop home into camp. His instinct seems authority. Licenses may be granted to manufactur rather to tell him that what safety, if any, there ing in Bond the articles herein enumerated, viz:is for him must be found in the ranks; and he rushes at the first squadron he can find, urging piteously, yet with violence, that he, too, by right is a troop horse—that he, too, is willing to charge, but not to be left behind-that he must and he will "fall in." Sometimes the riderless charger thus bent on aligning with his fellows will not be content to range himself on the flank of the line, but dart at some point in the squadron which he seemingly judges to be his own rightful place, and strive to force him-

Riding, as it is usual for the commander of a regiment to do, some way in advance of his regiment. Lord George Paget was especially tormented and pressed by the riderless horses which chose to turn round and align with him. At one time there were three or four of these horses advancing close abreast to him on one side, and as many as five on the other. Imside, and as many as five on the other. Impelled by terror, by gregarious instinct, and by their habit of ranging in line, they so "ciosed" in upon Lord George as to besmear his overalls with blood from the gory flanks of the nearest introduced and solve that to eight gallons of proof spirits, such mixing to be done under such superintendence as the Minister of Inland Revenue may from time to time approve.

SCOURING THE INSIDES.

Persons who take Pills for the purpose of getting "a good scouring out" are perhaps not aware that they are wearing away their intestines, irritating the Mucous Membrane, and laying the foundation for Piles, inward Ulcers, Sores, &c. Mandrake, that is claimed by some to be a substitute for Mercury, will produce this effect; it will scour the bowels like any other drastic, and will wear them out (see page 666, Weak, Edited and the season of uncured Syphilitic and Scrofulous Diseases, Fever-Sores, Ulcers, Tumors, Swellings of the Glands, and Mercurial Sores.

In diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary passages in Diabeates, Gravel, Bright's Disease, in Suppression of Urine, and in cases where the urine deposits "Brick Dust," Lime concretions, white thread, or albumen, like the white of an egg, or the urine is thick, cloudy, &c., and when the patient has great trouble to hold water with constant desire to discharge, and it comes away in drops, and has a strong smell of ammoniac, and sharp darting pains are experienced along the canal of the back, thighs loins, and over the bladder and kidneys, the Sarsaparillian Resolvent will soon change all these difficulties, and cure the patient. This remedy is better than Buchu, Digitalis, Cubebs, Copabia, Turpentine, Creosote, and all other agents used in these cases. Let those suffering give it a trial. Hundreds of persons who were compelled to use Catheters to secure a discharge of water, have by the use of six bottles been completely cured, and by one teaspoonful, three times per land.
