EXTRAORDINARY NEWS FROM SOUTH AMERICA.—The people of Peru have passed through a terrible excitement. According to Lima cerrespondence, the inhabitants of Lima and Callao, depending upon the predictions of Lieut. Saxby and a German Abbe Falb, and fearing earthquakes and tempests, packed up their effects and left these cities. "From the 28th to the we were threatened by the dreadful announcement of Falb and from the 1st of this month to the 5th by the searcely less terrible prediction of Saxby. Fully 20,000 people left the two cities, carrying themselves and their property to the plains and gardens in the vicinity, where, under the shelter of tents and improvised buildings, they were to pass the fatal week. Although no earthquake was experienced the effects of the anxiety and fright caused by the prophesies are already apparent. Physicians report that the insufficient nature of the refuge sought for has HARVEST HOME.

It is estimated that in the expense of moving and the loss sustained by merchants in consequence of the complete suspension of business, nearly $1,000,000 have the people of Peru paid owing to these predictions. The government itself ordered the closing of the Custom House and public offices, thereby adding greatly to the consternation. Large amounts of money changed hands on the event, and the gainers are the only persons in the republic inclined to view the authors of the scare with complacency.
