THANKSGIVING.

The purple hills are golden at the top.

And rounded as a poet's silver rhyme;

The mellow days are ruby-ripe that drop

One after one into the lap of Time.

The long day of the year is almost done,

And nature in the sunset musing stands,

Looking abroad o'er yellow harvest lands :

Gray-robed, and violet-hooded like a nun,

As in the twilight of the year she stands,

In the sweet Sabbath of this autumn calm.
