quantities of petroleum are brought:—
On Tuesday evening about 9 o'clock a train cons sing of six oil cars and two passenger cars reached the summit on its way to the junction. Here, by some cause as yet unexplained, one of the oil tanks took fire. The passenger cars were at once detached, and the brakes stopped them. WHOLE NO.-1079 Next the oil cars were cut off, and the locomotive, tender and box-car, containing two valuable horses and two men, passed down the road, the engineer supposing that the brakemen on the oil cars would arrest the course of those; but what was his horror, on looking back, to see the six cars in pursuit of him down the grade in BRIGHAM YOUNG IN TROUBLE.—The following dispatch was published in the San Francisco
