You'll meet with a thousand temptations, Each day with evil is rife. This world is a stage of excitement; There's danger wherever you go. But if you are tempted in weakness, Have courage, my boy, to eay no.

The syren's sweet song may allure you; Beware of her cunning and art; Whenever you see her approaching, Be guarded and haste to depart. The billiard saloons are inviting, Decked out in their tinsel and show; You may be invited to enter;

Have courage, my boy, to say no.

The bright ruby wine may be offered —
No matter how tempting it be, From poison that stings like an adder, My boy have the courage to flee. The gambling hells are before you, Their lights, how they dance to and fro If you should be tempted to enter, Think twice, even thrice, ere you go.

In courage alone lies your safety, When you the long journey begin, And trust in a Heavenly Father, Will keep you unspotted from sin Temptation will go on increasing, As streams from a rivulet flow But if you are true to manbood, Have courage my boy, to say no
