A FRIGHTFUL STORY .- We do not know when we have read anything more horrible than this, from the Louisville (Clay county, Ill.,) Ledger:—The Rev. Dr. Hankins of Ridgeway gave to B. Rotan, Esq., of this place the particulars of the following frightful story, and to the last-named gentleman we are indebted for the same. Dr. Hankin was the attending physician, and is a man of responsibility, and as the story, unreasonable as it may seem, comes through only one person of trustworthiness, we can safely vouch for its truth : Mrs. Sarah Parker, the wife of Thomas Parker, living near Shawneetown, had been afflicted for some time, and about two months ago grew worse, and was troubled with frequent spasms. Just as she was re-covering from one of these fits, while suffering very much, her attendants discovered four snakes, some ten or fourteen inches long, crawl from her mouth, gape and gaze around, and then seek a hiding-place among the hair of her head. These the doctor secured and Items foreign & Local. placed them in a jar of water, and fed them on sugar to keep them alive. About an hour after the four snakes came from her mouth, another much larger and nearly three-quarthat Mrs. Parker caught sight of it, when she A man in Zanesville, Ohio, who has buried by the physician to seize this one with his three wives, has their photographs in a group, within which his own picture is the centre The snakes captured were, as we have stated, The Worcester, Mass., Silk Company have his little finger.
