

Anti-Slavery Sentinel

Editors & Proprietors.

WHOLE NO.—1155.

SAMUEL & JAMES WATTS.]

VOL. XXIII.—NO. 9.

WOODSTOCK, N. B. SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1871.

Professional Cards.
DOCTOR SMITH
Has Removed his Drug Shop to QUINN'S NEW BUILDING,
MAIN STREET,
Two doors South of B. Lynch's New Store.
WHERE his stock of DRUGS, PATENT MEDICINES, HORSE MEDICINES, STATIONERY, BOOKS, and FANCY GOODS, will be found equal in quality and as low in price as any in the market.
Woodstock, Feb. 5, 1869.

Dr. C. P. Connell,
WOODSTOCK, N. B.
Office and Residence, next to Honorable Charles Connell's.

STEPHEN SMITH, M. D.
Physician, Surgeon, and Accoucheur
Has removed his residence, to his new Building, two doors north of the Episcopal Church, Main Street.
Office—In Quinn's New Building, Main Street.
Woodstock, April 29, 1869.

N. R. COLTER, M. D., (L. R. C. P. L., ENGLAND.)
Office and Residence, GIBSON HOUSE.

Dr. COLTER has held public appointments in Medicine and Surgery at St. Thomas' Hospital, London, and as Lecturer at the Woodstock, Feb. 7, 1868—3m-pd-7.

Dr. REYNOLDS,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
CENTRAL OFFICE,
UPPER CORNER, WOODSTOCK.
Residence—Mr. Archibald Plummer's,
Jacksonville Road. [22-4]

WILLIAM M. CONNELL
Attorney at Law, Solicitor, Conveyancer, NOTARY PUBLIC,
INSURANCE AGENT, &c.
WOODSTOCK, N. B.

STEPHEN B. APPEBY
Attorney at Law.
Office—In Allen's Brick Building, (up stairs).
WOODSTOCK, N. B. [34]

SAMUEL J. BAKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Solicitor, Conveyancer, &c.
ANDOVER, Victoria County, N. B.
(Month of Tobique River).
Residence—At Newcomb's Hotel.

James Edgar,
BARRISTER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, SOLICITOR,
CONVEYANCER, &c.
Office—Brown's Brick Building, opposite Cable House, Woodstock, N. B.
JANUARY 27, 1870—5

HUGH DAVIS, JR., MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN Pine, Spruce, Butternut, Bass, Hemlock, Birch and Ash Lumber.
Mills of Scattering Sawed to Order.
CLAPBOARDS SAWED BY THE THOUSAND,
AND FOR SALE.
Mills and Lumber Yard
At the Railway Station.
Woodstock, N. B., 1870—1-7.

Donaldson House,
Late Caldwell or International Hotel.
THIS HOUSE is now pleasantly situated, near the Steamboat Wharf, furnished in Good Style and will be kept as a First-Class Hotel.
ROBERT DONALDSON, Proprietor.
Woodstock, N. B., April 1870—15

HIRAM SMITH, MANUFACTURER OF
Buggies, Waggon and Sleighs, ALL MANNER OF
REPAIRING;
Painting, Trimming and Blacksmith Work Promptly attended to.
Jacksville, April 15, 1870—16

LONG'S HOTEL,
FREDERICTON, N. B.
THOS. W. SMITH, Proprietor.
First Class Accommodation for Transient and Permanent Boarders, AT REASONABLE PRICES.
Good Stabling, and a Careful Hostler always in attendance.
Fredericton, July 2, 1868—27

AMERICAN HOUSE
C. F. ESTEY, PROPRIETOR.
39 KING STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B.
Good Stabling on the premises. [20]

PARK HOTEL,
KING SQUARE, ST. JOHN.
H. FAIRWEATHER, Proprietor.
This House is now pleasantly situated,
furnished in a superior manner and will be kept as a First-Class Hotel. [24]

Carriage Factory!
John & Robert Loane, Proprietors.
Shop, next Building West of Cable House

THE undersigned are prepared to furnish Carriages of every description, made in the most workmanlike manner, and from the best materials, at low prices.
Painting, ironing and repairing done, at short notice, and on moderate terms.
Horse shoeing performed in the most careful manner.
Woodstock, March 24, 1870—17-13

A FIRST CLASS
HAIR DRESSING
SHAVING AND SHAMPOOING SALOON.
NOW OPEN.
THE subscriber would return thanks to his friends and the public for the patronage
hitherto bestowed, since commencing business in Woodstock, in most instances ask a continuance of such favors, as he is now prepared with
experience and greatly increased facilities,
attend to the various branches of his business,
as Hair Cutting, Shaving, Shampooing, and Hair Dressing. Ladies' hair cut in the latest style. Particular care given to Cutting Children's hair.
GEORGE STAPLES
154 White Street,
Woodstock, April 29, 1870—18

A NEW GRIST MILL!
THE Building formerly used for crushing copper ore, at the Copper Mine, near Abner Butt's, is converted into a mill, and is now
a First Class Grist Mill, which is complete running order, and can do work that will compare with the best in the County.
Good rates may be expected. A liberal share of patronage is solicited.
J. & C. LEAVES & CO.
Woodstock, August, 1866.

W. A. BALLOCH,
Surgeon Dentist.
Office in Hon. Chas. Connell's Brick Building, Queen Street, Woodstock.
—6m-pd-1

USE THE "VEGETABLE" 1820 PULMONARY BALSAM—1871
The old standard remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, "Whooping Cough," Asthma, Hoarseness, &c. Sold in Woodstock by STEPHEN SMITH
Jan. 9, 1871—4m-pd-6

Winter Arrangement.
Clark & Davis' Express
WILL, until further notice, leave Woodstock Station every Wednesday at 10 a.m.
Leaves Boston every Monday morning at 8 o'clock.
Leaves Railroad Wharf, Portland, every Tuesday at 8 o'clock, p.m.
Money and Freight of every description
forwarded with dispatch and promptly delivered.

Principal Offices:
57 Killy Street, corner Water, Boston
100 Broadway, New York
Eastern Express Company, 100 Broadway, New York
Sole Agents for N. B. & C. Agents, U. S. W. V. & C. CO., Agents,
Woodstock, Dec. 15, 1870

WANTED!
BY
F. A. STEVENSON.
DEALER IN COUNTRY PRODUCE, &c., 30,000 Cedar Sleepers, Woodstock, Dec. 3, 1870.

JOHN C. WINSLOW,
Barrister and Attorney at Law,
FIRE & LIFE INSURANCE AGENT.
Office in Hon. Charles Connell's Brick Building on Queen Street, N. B.
Woodstock, Nov. 25, 1870—17-48

W. H. OLIVE,
Insurance, Custom House, Forwarding, Commission
AND TICKET AGENT.
TICKETS SOLD
For California and for Port West, via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad.
For all points in Canada, via Vermont
and Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad.
For New York and all Points South, via Fall River, Stonington and Norwich and for all other ports.
Office—Head of International S. S.
Co.'s Landing, Reed's Point.
SAINT JOHN, N. B.

REPRESENTATIVES BY PERMISSION.
Hon. S. M. Tully, S. B., H. P. M. Mill.
Hon. A. M. L. Seely, Messrs. Jardine & Co., Hon. Thos. R. Jones, Messrs. Daniel & Boyd,
Messrs. L. E. Burgess & Co., Smith, Rey,
St. John, June 2—3moe-24

BARKER HOUSE,
Queen Street, Fredericton.
THE attention of travellers is called to this old and favorite first class Hotel.
No pains spared to make visitors at home and comfortable.
ROBINSON & COLBY, Proprietors.
Fredericton, Dec. 9, 1870—17-50

NOTICE.
THE subscriber begs leave again to remind the public that he Issues Marriage Licences
at his office, Woodstock, and at the office of James Grover, at St. John, N. B.
H. M. GARDEN, Issuer Marriage Licences.
Woodstock, Dec. 2, 1870—4m-49

NOTICE.
L. W. SHERMAN will continue the business of the late firm of SHERMAN & ROBIN-SON, at the old stand, in his own name and on his own account.
L. W. SHERMAN.
Fredericton, Oct. 1, 1870.

NOTICE
To the Travelling Public!
THROUGH TICKETS FROM
Houlton to Portland & Boston.
PASSENGERS are Ticketed from Houlton to Portland and Boston at the following rates:
From Houlton to Portland, $1.00; to Boston, $1.50. Apply at the EASTERN EXPRESS OFFICE, or to
JOHN WOODBURY,
Or EDEN E. MCINTYRE,
Houlton, Feb. 14, 1870—8

Surveying.
THE subscriber would return thanks to his
friends and the public for the patronage hitherto bestowed. He would likewise ask a continuance of such favors, as he is now prepared with
experience and greatly increased facilities,
attend to the various branches of his business,
as Surveying, Land and Water, &c. to his care may rely upon his best attention being given to further their interests. He will also receive and advance on LUMBER as Seasoned Lumber, when desired.
Office in Hamm's Building.
STEPHEN B. STUBBS,
Indian Town, St. John.
18—lypd

Fire Insurance Companies
Capital and Cash Assets, $17,000,000
Deposited at Ottawa, 400,000
ROBERT MARSHALL,
General Agent for New Brunswick.

Fire & Life Insurance Agency.
THE subscriber is agent for Woodstock and vicinity, at St. John of the NORTH BRITISH MARITIME INSURANCE CO.
of Edinburgh and London.
ESTABLISHED 1809.
CAPITAL, £2,000,000 stg.
Invested Funds, 1864, £2,304,512, 7s. 10.
Accumulated and Invested Funds, £3,500,000
These Companies are of the most reliable class in Great Britain, and do business on the most reasonable terms, consistent with safety to the insured. As such, I can confidently recommend them to my friends and the public generally, and shall be glad to receive application from those desiring to insure their property or lives.
JAMES GROVER,
Woodstock, August, 1866.

Business Cards.
WOODSTOCK HOTEL,
RE-OPENED.
BEING thoroughly repaired, refitted, and furnished, is now open for the accommodation of permanent and transient Boarders. This House being conducted on strictly TEMPER-ANCE PRINCIPLES, the subscriber hopes to receive a liberal share of patronage. There is attached to this House a Good Stable and attentive hostler. Charges moderate.
J. MARSHALL, Proprietor.
Woodstock, May 15, 1870—20

WILLIAM R. NEWCOMB, STAGE HOUSE—TOBISQUE.
Comfortable Extra Furniture at the shortest notice for any point. [3] Russell House,
ON
PARK STREET, NEAR THE
PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, OTTAWA.
J. A. GOUGH, Proprietor.
March 18, 1868—13

UNITED STATES HOTEL,
PORTLAND, ME.,
E. GRAM & CO., Proprietors.

JEWELRY STORE!
REMOVAL!
THE subscriber wishes to inform their numerous friends and customers that they have removed to the new and elegant shop, fitted up expressly for their business, on the corner of Queen and King Streets, in the new House of Hon. Wm. Lindsay. They have now on hand a carefully selected stock of Clocks, Watches, Jewelry, Silver and Plated Ware, Fancy Goods,
and a good variety of all the articles as are usually found in a first-class establishment.
All goods warranted to be as represented.
Please call and examine our Goods before making your selection; you will find us attentive and obliging.
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired as usual.
Remember the sign of the BIG WATCH.
BRIDGES, BROTHERS,
Woodstock, August 25, 1869—45-25

WOODSTOCK MARBLE WORKS
THE business heretofore carried on by the firm of HARVEY & ALMOND, will in future be conducted in this place by the subscriber, as an
IMPORTER OF MARBLE, AND MANUFACTURER OF MONUMENTS, TOMB TABLES, GRAVE STONES, &c.,
Centre, Pier Tables and Mantels, FREE STONE AND GRANITE CUTTING EX-ECUTED IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

MASTERS, WOODSTOCK, N. B.
Orders filled at the shortest notice and cheapest possible rates. Patronage respectfully solicited and satisfaction guaranteed.
W. B. HARVEY,
Woodstock, Aug. 20, 1868. 34

See Here! See Here!
THE subscriber having had a long experience in the business, has opened a TIN SHOP
Where he will repair and supply customers. Having on hand at all times, all kinds of work in
TIN AND SHEET IRON, Copper, Brass, and all other articles
usually found in a tin shop.
C. B. CHURCHILL,
Woodstock, Oct. 15, 1868—44-21

REMOVAL!
THE subscriber has removed his Large Stock of HARDWARE to his New Store, the next door to the old one, on North side of the Bridge,
where he will be happy to meet his old customers and his new patrons. He has also given him the advantage of having purchased his stock in the Cheapest markets, for Cash, he will be enabled to sell as low as any in the trade.
He will keep for sale
Harness, Upper and Sole Leather, Harness Mountings, Oils &c.
Give us a call and see for yourselves. Terms Cash.
Parties entrusting Lumber or Book account of one year and upwards, will do well to call and arrange for future patronage will soon be to be of virtue.
WILLIAM LINDSAY,
Market Square, Woodstock, July 21, 1868—30

LOOK SHARP!
BARGAINS THIS WAY!
FURNITURE WAREHOUSES
South Side Meduxnakik.
THE undersigned have constantly on hand a fine assortment of BEDSTEEPS, BUREAUS,
Rocking, Case and Wood Seat Chairs,
Tables, Washstands, Sinks, &c.
It is quickly and effectually reduced to the
lowest prices, and is a steady player,
while, from what I had seen of Fraser's
play, I judged that he became nervous and
irritable if I lost against him ever so
little; therefore I did not hesitate to accept
of his offer, and was very much gratified
by my opponent's brilliant victory.
We had got about half-way through the
game, and our scores were nearly equal
when I made three most palpable blunders
in one break, and this so annoyed my semi-
debauched antagonist that he played wildly,
missing most cues, and at last making
denouncing my style of execution in no very measured terms. When sober he was the most courteous and urbane of men; but when excited by wine he was inclined to
be insolent and overbearing.
When a spot presented itself to me that was a very difficult accomplishment. It was a stratagem, but in order to make it, the
object ball had to be very finely grazed.
My ball scarcely moved the object ball,
though it undoubtedly touched it, and the
cue ball, which was in the pocket, making
the carom. A dispute instantly arose when I claimed the shot.
"You never hit the first ball, sir,"
cried Fraser, loudly.
"I know I did not, but my ball did,"
I replied calmly.
"It is false! There was no carom."
"Do you insinuate I lie, sir?"
"Yes, you are both a liar and a cheat!"
"Human nature could not stand that."
I slapped my forehead. My brother
officers interfered, and when my temper
cooled I found myself making the venue, with my miniature friend Ned Howson.
"Come, Holroyd, let's get some soda
water, and then turn in. You must get your head steady, for Fraser is sure to challenge you to-morrow." I was not
reluctant to relinquish the beverage he
recommended, and was up bright and early
the following morning. About ten o'clock, Captain Raper came to my quarters. He took a seat and a "peg" before he explained
his mission. As I had expected, he was the bearer of a card from Mr. Fraser.
"This is a devilish unpleasant business
altogether, Holroyd; but I suppose you see there is no alternative. Will you name
your friend, for I don't suppose you intend

GRAHAM'S PAIN ERADICATOR
The best remedy in use for the following
complaints:
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spinal Complaints,
Felon or Whitlow, Abscess, Broken Breast, Furunculosis, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Wounds, Bruises, Sprains,
Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Asthma or Phthisis, Coughs, Pain in the Chest or Back, Catarrh, &c., &c.
It is quickly and effectually reduced to the
lowest prices, and is a steady player,
while, from what I had seen of Fraser's
play, I judged that he became nervous and
irritable if I lost against him ever so
little; therefore I did not hesitate to accept
of his offer, and was very much gratified
by my opponent's brilliant victory.
We had got about half-way through the
game, and our scores were nearly equal
when I made three most palpable blunders
in one break, and this so annoyed my semi-
debauched antagonist that he played wildly,
missing most cues, and at last making
denouncing my style of execution in no very
measured terms. When sober he was the most courteous and urbane of men; but
when excited by wine he was inclined to
be insolent and overbearing.
When a spot presented itself to me that
was a very difficult accomplishment. It was
a stratagem, but in order to make it, the
object ball had to be very finely grazed.
My ball scarcely moved the object ball,
though it undoubtedly touched it, and the
cue ball, which was in the pocket, making
the carom. A dispute instantly arose when I claimed the shot.
"You never hit the first ball, sir,"
cried Fraser, loudly.
"I know I did not, but my ball did,"
I replied calmly.
"It is false! There was no carom."
"Do you insinuate I lie, sir?"
"Yes, you are both a liar and a cheat!"
"Human nature could not stand that."
I slapped my forehead. My brother
officers interfered, and when my temper
cooled I found myself making the venue, with my miniature friend Ned Howson.
"Come, Holroyd, let's get some soda
water, and then turn in. You must get
your head steady, for Fraser is sure to challenge you to-morrow." I was not
reluctant to relinquish the beverage he
recommended, and was up bright and early
the following morning. About ten o'clock, Captain Raper came to my quarters. He
took a seat and a "peg" before he explained
his mission. As I had expected, he was the bearer of a card from Mr. Fraser.
"This is a devilish unpleasant business
altogether, Holroyd; but I suppose you
see there is no alternative. Will you name
your friend, for I don't suppose you intend

Foster, Swazey & Co.
LUMBER
AND GENERAL
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
No. 15 Doane Street,
BOSTON.
ALEXANDER FOSTER, HENRY BUCK SWAZEY, GILMAN COLSON.

REMARKS.
Messrs. Robert Banks & Co., St. John, N. B.
"E. D. Jewett & Co., " "
"Andrus & Co., " "
"Cuddeback & Co., " "
"Seamless Bros., " "
J. Lewis, Esq., West Bank New Brunswick, 17-33

Select Tale.
THE CHALLENGE.
The following story was told to me by an officer belonging to H. B. M's regiment stationed in the East, as we passed the book of the Hesperus, one fine night, while on the passage from Calcutta to London. I present it to my readers in the words of the narrator, a tall, well-built man, whose olive-like complexion indicated long residence in tropical climes.
"When I first received my commission
as Esquire in the British Army, I was gas-trolled to the 11th Regiment, then in India;
and as the P. and O. Company did not then exist, I took passage via the Cape of Good Hope.
"In due course of time I arrived at Madras, and joined my Regiment, in which I remained only three years, however; for at the expiration of that period, I purchased my lieutenantcy, and exchanged into the 11th, which was stationed upon the coast.
"Until a man gets thoroughly used to it,
there is nothing so monotonous as a life of the P. and O. Company. I had been in the office of a life in an isolated locality in India. There is a continuance in everything—in duty, in lodging, eating, shooting, smoking, sleeping, reading, billiards, or card-playing, and this is only varied in the chance, he happens to be in a district where the pig sticking, elephant or tiger hunting is obtainable. At times, too—especially if ladies are with the regiment—amateur hops are in vogue, and occasionally a 'hop' is improvised; but the climate is so enervating
that neither officers nor men of any regular habits could long remain in the country time, felt very often disposed to provide amusement for their comrades.
"The 11th had been six years in India,
and in consequence, all members of that corps were afflicted with lassitude that had almost become chronic. There was a great desire of female society—that sine qua non of pleasurable existence—and the hunting had been pronounced by old stagers, who considered themselves genuine shikaris, to be infernally bad; therefore, when it was announced that a new collector had been appointed to succeed the late Mr. Fraser, who had been in the country for seven years,
held office in that district, and a note beneficially added, asserting that he was the fortunate possessor of an extremely beautiful wife, every one was on the qui vive to receive him. Much to our disappointment, however, his arrival alone, having left his family at Calcutta for a few weeks, after in Calcutta for a few weeks, after to be followed him with his only child.
"Mr. Norman Fraser was a man about thirty-five years of age, tall, muscular and pre-eminently handsome; moreover, he was highly educated, and of a most superior order of pleasing that he won his way to all hearts, and soon became a universal favorite.
"He infused new life into our little cotterie, and many were the lamentations when he left the country. He did not beam with the usual military bearing, but he had hard featured daughters regular 'garrison girls' who had stirred successfully with every day they had met with during the last ten years—were enhanced by him and openly lamented that he was already a Benedict; for, though they were all civilized, they were not altogether enough to have had the ghost of a chance to endure him in the silken meshes of matrimony.
"It was a custom in those days for officers to remain over the mess table long after the club had been removed, and unless a man possessed a very strong head, he was pretty certain to retire to rest in a lamentably befuddled condition. One night, when we all had been indulging pretty freely, the conversation turned to billiards
—an interesting topic, for most of us were players.
"Have you seen Fraser play? He beat Webb easily to-day, and I'll back him against any man in the regiment," said Capt. Baper, who considered himself an authority on matters connected with games of skill.
"I always give Webb points, and I won't shrink measuring cues with the collector, though he certainly plays a very good game," I replied.
"Fraser, old fellow, Lieutenant Holroyd thinks there is your equal at billiards. Will you let back up for a game?" Raper cried across the table.
"The collector, who was 'half-seas-over',
promptly expressed his willingness to engage with me, so I registered a bet of a hundred rupees with Capt. Baper, and we adjourned to the billiard-room. I had predicted a good deal in my leisure hours,
and knew myself to be a steady player,
while, from what I had seen of Fraser's
play, I judged that he became nervous and
irritable if I lost against him ever so
little; therefore I did not hesitate to accept
of his offer, and was very much gratified
by my opponent's brilliant victory.
We had got about half-way through the
game, and our scores were nearly equal
when I made three most palpable blunders
in one break, and this so annoyed my semi-
debauched antagonist that he played wildly,
missing most cues, and at last making
denouncing my style of execution in no very
measured terms. When sober he was the most courteous and urbane of men; but
when excited by wine he was inclined to
be insolent and overbearing.
When a spot presented itself to me that
was a very difficult accomplishment. It was
a stratagem, but in order to make it, the
object ball had to be very finely grazed.
My ball scarcely moved the object ball,
though it undoubtedly touched it, and the
cue ball, which was in the pocket, making
the carom. A dispute instantly arose when I claimed the shot.
"You never hit the first ball, sir,"
cried Fraser, loudly.
"I know I did not, but my ball did,"
I replied calmly.
"It is false! There was no carom."
"Do you insinuate I lie, sir?"
"Yes, you are both a liar and a cheat!"
"Human nature could not stand that."
I slapped my forehead. My brother
officers interfered, and when my temper
cooled I found myself making the venue, with my miniature friend Ned Howson.
"Come, Holroyd, let's get some soda
water, and then turn in. You must get
your head steady, for Fraser is sure to challenge you to-morrow." I was not
reluctant to relinquish the beverage he
recommended, and was up bright and early
the following morning. About ten o'clock, Captain Raper came to my quarters. He
took a seat and a "peg" before he explained
his mission. As I had expected, he was the bearer of a card from Mr. Fraser.
"This is a devilish unpleasant business
altogether, Holroyd; but I suppose you
see there is no alternative. Will you name
your friend, for I don't suppose you intend

"When my senses returned, I discovered that I was lying upon a couch in my own quarters, and by my side was standing Lieutenant Howson. Two other gentlemen were seated near the verandah, with their backs turned towards me.
"Who was that, Ned? Is she dead?"
I asked, when I remembered what had occurred.
"Ere my friend could reply, the two gentlemen I had noticed rose from their seats and came quickly towards where I was lying. One grasped my hand, I glanced upward, and saw the collector bending over me.
"In a few days, my brave fellow, and in a few days I hope she will be sufficiently recovered to thank you personally for having so gallantly rescued her from a terrible death. She only arrived yesterday morning, and was riding over to the Colonel's with Capt. Raper, Dr. Middleton, and I, when the horse bolted, and this accident occurred. As for it, other matter between you and I, Holroyd, you may call me a coward or whatever you choose, but I tell you plainly I will never raise my hand against you—you have proved yourself such a hero—yet, to whom I owe an everlasting debt of gratitude; for you nobly risked your life in saving that of my precious Bertha,
and may God bless you for the gallant action you performed, the said, and his fine eyes gleamed, and his eyes glinted with tears, as he gazed upon me.
"I tried to reply, but I was terribly prostrated, and a choking sensation in my throat stayed my utterance. I sunk back upon my pillow, and closing my eyes, mentally to myself, I was having said, I would preserve unto my late comrade a life valued far more than his own.
"Some weeks passed before I gained convalescence; but Mrs. Fraser, who had not sustained such severe contusions as myself, nursed me so tenderly that I at length recovered my ordinary vigor. Many years have gone by since then, and Mrs. Fraser's looks are grayish now; but her daughter's have the golden hue her mother's were when first we met, and her face has the same sweet expression. The dearest friend I have on earth is the man whose wife I saved. When the time comes to fight a duel that was never fought!"

THE BAROMETRE.—The barometre was first invented and introduced by Torricelli,
a student of Galileo in 1643, who, sufficing from Pagan persecution, arising from his advanced philosophy, touching the real motions of the planets of the solar system,
dared not include it among his own results. In 1646, Pascal, at Rouen, repeated the experiments of Torricelli, with similar results, and to him we owe the discovery of the great value of the barometre as an engineering instrument in taking altitudes.
There are various kinds of barometers, the Mercurial Barometer, so called, all of which depend upon a glass tube, quicksilver,
or other fluid, being placed in a glass tube,
now used, is a tube of glass about 33 inches long, the upper end closed, the lower open and inserted into a small reservoir or cistern with mercury, the whole beautifully mounted in brass tubing, forming an ornament for parlor, hall or office.
The wheel barometre, introduced by Dr.
Hooke, is composed of a glass tube bent in the shape of a syphon, also filled with mercury. This instrument, which, from its construction, has very little value as a scientific instrument, and is entirely disregarded by scientific men, has the disadvantage of being delicate in its adjustments, very liable to derangement and is quite difficult of repair.
When re-adjustment is necessary, it can only be considered as an ornamental piece of furniture and nothing else.
The Aneroid Barometre was invented by Mr.
Paisanier, in 1785. This instrument is familiar to every seaman, and until the introduction of "Vidua's" Aneroid Barometre has been used altogether as a Marine instrument.
The Aneroid Barometre is an instrument of great intrinsic excellence of itself, chiefly in that it is exceedingly portable, not liable to injury in transportation, and very accurate. It is constructed entirely of metal, and its actions depend on the effect produced by the pressure of the atmosphere
on a metallic spring which the air has been exhausted and then hermetically sealed.
The above instruments embrace all the different styles of barometers now generally found by the public, that are in the line
of any utility as an index pointing to approaching storms, and the like, and are of great service, &c.—North Western Review.

An aristocracy of wealth is the most inexorable, the silliest of any social distinction, and yet it is that which many of our citizens, many of our otherwise sensible young people are fostering and trying to establish. It is quite too fashionable to sneer at labor, to give the cold shoulder to those who are not ashamed to do their own work, or whose circumstances compel them to do it. If we are to have an aristocracy at all, let it be one of brains and character,
and not of purse and dancing shawls, and let it be one of those who are not ashamed when the true woman and the true man, are in their proper position in the social world, in the highest scale will be thousands who know how to work, and when necessary,
are willing to work, while the brainless and pursued by the cold shoulder will sink by the weight of their own copper.

If a man or woman, a "gentleman" or "lady," is able to live without actual manual labor, let them be thankful; it is a pleasant position to occupy; but to be ashamed of the knowledge sufficient to manage the shop or kitchen, the stove or the house, to be ashamed to be asked to do those who do work—this is evil, and to day is an abomination in "our best society."
Vain woman, was your mother ashamed of her labor? And young man in kilt and cloak, did your father get his competence from his own labor? We honor the woman who, when necessary, "does her own work," and despise those who sneer.
—Watchman and Reflector.

CONTRADICTIONS FOR BOTH SEXES.—For the girls: Could you love a man who wore false hair on his head, when he had enough of his own? Who painted his face and improved his form as you improve (?) yours? Who pinched his feet with small shoes, his hands with small gloves, his waist with corsets; and then as if he had not already deformed himself enough, tied a huge bustle to his back and thrust tiny mountains of wire into his bosom? For the boys:
Could you love a girl who defied her mouth with tobacco and loaded the air with fumes of cigars? Who staggered home several times a week the worse for liquor?
Who indulged in fast horses, bet high at races, and swaggered about the streets
with questionable companions?

Mr. Editor.—My last letter found us in the DYE ROOM, where we still follow in the cloth, and here it is introduced into a vat of dye-wood, containing the coloring matter—
the whole is heated by steam pipes, and the cloth being placed on a spoked reel kept in motion, is repeatedly wound out of the vat and returned thereto. The result is, that wherever the mordant adhered to the cloth,
the coloring matter is attached thereto, and little or no trace of color adheres to the unmordanted parts. We go with it from this to the
CLEARING AND BRIGHTENING ROOM,
to witness the last operation in connection with its printing. Here the colored cloth is introduced into warm baths of water, containing soda, soap, or, for the most delicate tints, bran, and is thereafter acted upon by weak acid solutions. The object is to clear the colors, and at the same time to confer upon them the property of resisting the