The grapes were much larger than last year and of a much finer quality. If some of the farmers of Carleton could see what can be done in this line of raising produce, no doubt but that they would soon have a nice vine growing over their verandas or along the sides of their houses. Why is it that this Province produces so much superior fruits to what is raised in the sister Province? It cannot surely be the soil. And surely the climate is not so much colder than here, as The Garleton Sentinel. to make it impossible to grow as good a quality of fruit; and then it cannot be the tillers of the soil that do not take as great interest in these things.
