The exercises at these entertainments consist usually of music, recitations, readings, and occasionally of short original essays. The programmes can be so arranged as that a great variety of tastes may be suited. They are held weekly or fortnightly; sometimes several churches or moral and social institutions will each have a course of these "penny readings" going on, and by mutual arrangement they can so alternate the evenings or the weeks of holding them as to give each a good opportunity to cater to the public. There is money in them, too, although the returns each need be no expense attending them, and the amount of receipts soon swell up .-In the city of Ottawa almost every church has its course of penny readings each vestry, and lay organizations have also, there, recourse to the same means of raising funds for special purposes. Peo ple soon learn to like them and become regular attendants. The names of the persons who will appear in the severa exercises are generally announced the week previous. We think the thing would work well in Woodstock and other parts of the County. There is plenty of material for the various portions of the programme to be had for the asking .-Who will make the first move in the matter.
