DISEASE OF THE LIVER.

The liver is much more frequently the seat of disease than is generally supposed. The regular execution of which depends not only The celebrated Lion of Thorswalden at the general health of the body, but the powers of the stomach, bowels, brain, and the whole nervous system, shows its vast and vital importance to human health. When the liver is seriously diseased, it in fact no only deranges the vital functions of the body out exercises a powerful influence over th mind and its operations, which cannot be easily described. It has so close a connection with other diseases, and manifests itself by so great a variety of symptoms of a most doubtful character, that it misleads mor-Physicians, even of great eminence, than any ther vital organs.
