Poetry.

"WAITING." Learn to wait-life's hardest lesson; Cenned perchance through blinding tears, While the heart-throbs sadly echo To the tread of passing years.

Learn to wait-hope's slow fruition; Faint not, though the way seem long; There is joy in each condition; Hearts, though suffering, may grow strong. Constant sunshine, howe'er welcome,

Ne'er could ripen fruit or flower;

Giant oaks owe half their greatness To the scathing tempest's power. Thus, a soul untouched by sorrow, Aims not at a higher state; Joy seeks but a brighter morrow-Only sad hearts learn to wait.

Human strength and human greatness Spring not from life's sunny side; Heroes must be more than drift wood Floating on a waveless tide.
