MR. EDITOR,—I am glad that you have at last brought a distinguished advocate, in the person of the Attorney General, upon the field for dissection, for I am tired of threshing at men whose arguments are of straw, and beating them is like beating the waves of the sea, they are continually returning with the same arguments, forgetting they have been already answered. I am in hopes that in dealing with Mr. King's arguments, he being at the head of the party, it (the party) will be somewhat in the position that the cruel Emperor desired for the people of Rome, when they should have but one neck that they might all be decapitated at one blow. As Professer Goldwin Smith's testimony, in favor of the schools in which liberality and toleration are allowed, has wiped away all fears except pretended ones, from those who oppose the extension of a similar liberality to this Province; so if the learned Attorney General is found, upon a quiet exmination of his fine effort, to have dealt in untruthful statements of law, in baseless arguments, in fallacious, sophistical, unsound deductions, in attempts to pull wool over the A patent coffin dealer advertises that those try with the cry of Wolf, when there is no that they cannot give a single sound reason for what they are about to do; that in considering this question the party has retreatmount, in this locality we are in a minority; young lady whom he had been training for force; we only ask that our reasonable and the position of his wife ever since she was conscientious feelings shall be respected by
