

The Carleton Sentinel.

Our Queen and Constitution.

[Editors & Proprietors.]

VOL. XXVII.—NO. 41.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1875.

WHOLE NO.—1384.

DOCTOR SMITH'S
Office in his Drug Shop,
QUINN'S NEW BUILDING,
MAIN STREET,
Two doors South of B. Lynch's New Store,
WHERE HIS STOCK OF DRUGS, PATENT MEDICINES, AND FANCY GOODS, WILL BE FOUND EQUAL IN QUALITY AND LOW IN PRICE
TO ANY IN THE MARKET.

Dr. C. P. Connell,
WOODSTOCK, N. B.
Office and Residence, next to Honorable Charles Connell's.

N. R. COLTER, M.D., (L. R. C. P. L., ENGLAND.)
Office at H. R. Baird's Drug Store. Residence, near the Methodist Chapel.

Dr. Reynolds,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
UPPER CORNER, WOODSTOCK.
Residence—Mr. Archibald Plummer's,
Jacksonville Road. [32-42]

DR. F. A. NEVENS,
Physician and Surgeon,
64 Hartland, Carleton Co., N. B. p19

RANDOLPH K. JONES,
Barrister & Attorney-at-Law,
WOODSTOCK, N. B.
Office—In the further end of his residence,
west side Main Street, fifth house above office
of Registrar of Deeds.
Woodstock, May 20, 1875—21

APLEY & COUSEER,
BARRISTERS AND ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Conveyancers, Notaries, &c.,
WOODSTOCK, N. B.

JOHN B. TRAFFORD,
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW,
Fort Fairfield, Maine.

WILLIAM M. CONNELL,
Attorney at Law, Solicitor, Conveyancer,
NOTARY PUBLIC,
INSURANCE AGENT, &c.,
WOODSTOCK, N. B.

SAMUEL J. BAKER,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
Whitby, Conveyancer, &c.
Grand Falls, Victoria County, N. B.

JOHN C. WINSLOW,
ATTORNEY & BARRISTER,
AGENT FOR FIRST-CLASS ENGLISH & AMERICAN
Insurance Companies,
FULL DEPOSITS AT OTTAWA.

ALSO,
Estate Agent,
OFFICE—In Post Office, WOODSTOCK.

Surveying.
STEPHEN E. STEVENS,
INDIAN TOWN, ST. JOHN.
Office in Ham's Building.

THIS subscriber is returning thanks to his numerous patrons for the liberal patronage they have shown him, and the public that he is still prepared with great interest to accommodate them, to proceed with his business as heretofore, and to receive from them the same liberal patronage as heretofore.
Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

THE SUSSEX
Boot & Shoe Company,
Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers.

SUSSEX, N. B.
Selling Agency in St. John, N. B.
MESSRS. WARWICK & CO.,
No. 8, North Ward.

WOODSTOCK HOTEL,
RE-OPENED.
BRIEFLY RE-OPENED, refitted, and furnished, is now opened for the accommodation of permanent and transient boarders. This House being conducted on a strictly TEMPER-ANCE PRINCIPLES, the subscriber hopes to receive a liberal share of patronage. There is a billiard room, bath room, and a stable and attentive coachman. Charges moderate.

J. MARSHALL, Proprietor.
Woodstock, May 15, 1870—39

Russell House,
on
PARK STREET
NEAR THE
PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS,
OTTAWA.
J. A. GOUIN, Proprietor.
March 15, 1868—15.

LONG'S HOTEL,
RE-OPENED.
Corner of King and York Streets,
FREDERICTON, N. B.
This is a strictly Temperance House.
GEORGE HUME, Proprietor.
Superior Stabling and a careful hostler.
—18

WILLIAM B. NEWCOMB,
STAGE HOUSE—TOBIQUE.
Comfortable Extra Furnished at the shortest notice for any point.

ALBION HOTEL,
McGill and St. Paul Streets,
MONTREAL, CANADA.
HAS, for twenty years, been the favorite resort of the general travelling public in the United States, as well as in Canada, when visiting Montreal on business or pleasure. It is centrally located on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare
and commercial centre of the city, commanding magnificent view of the River St. Lawrence, the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of Victoria Square and Mount Royal on the right.
The Hotel is furnished throughout in a superior manner, and everything arranged with a view to the comfort of guests.
As one of the largest hotels in the Dominion, having ample accommodation for 500 guests, will be charged as liberally as possible, and will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

United States Hotel,
PORTLAND, MAINE.
THIS house popular hotel, centrally situated in the business quarter of the beautiful Portland City, and in close proximity to the leading places of amusement and public buildings,
has been thoroughly re-modelled, refurnished
and enlarged, and is now open to the public.
Billiard Room, Bath Room, Barber Shop, Telegraph Office, and Gentleman's Parlor, in connection with the house.
Permanent and Transient Boarders accommodated on reasonable terms.
August 15, 1873—15-33

"PSYCHOMANCY, OR SOUL CHARM."
HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 35 cents. Write to Marriage
Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies,
&c., 1,000,000, &c. A queer
T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia, 17-18

GIBSON HOUSE.
THE subscribers wish to inform their numerous friends and customers that they have removed to the CALDWELL HOUSE, lately kept by Mr. O.
B. Wallace, and they will be pleased to wait on all who may favor them with a call.
A Good Stable, and a careful hostler always in attendance.
ALEX. GIBSON, Proprietor.
Woodstock, October 1, 1874—19

QUEEN HOTEL,
QUEEN STREET, - FREDERICTON.
J. P. BURNHAM, Proprietor.
(Formerly of "Sail House," Houlton, Me.)
Livery Stable in connection with the House.
Sept. 1, 1874—13-36

Temperance Hotel,
ST. GEORGE STREET,
Annapolis Royal
M. POTTER, Proprietor.

THE above Hotel is pleasantly situated, one door east of St. Luke's Church, and five minutes' walk from Steamboat Wharf, Railway Station, and Post Office.
Accommodation for permanent and transient boarders.
Terms—$10 per week, or $1.00 per day.
Permanent Board, from $3 to $5 per week. 34

G. W. VANWART,
EXCHANGE BROKER,
WOODSTOCK, N. B.
ISSUES DRAFTS on St. John, Boston, and other places.
Makes TELEGRAPHIC TRANSFERS in St.
John.
Particular attention given to buying and selling United States Currency.
Woodstock, March 9, 1872—10

Carriage Manufactory.
JOHN LOANE,
Connell Street, Woodstock, N. B.
CARRIAGES, SLEIGHS, FUNGS, SIDE-
SPRING BUGGIES, EXP-SPRING BUG-GIES, SINGLE AND DOUBLE SEAT CONCORD WAGONS, SULKIES, EXPRESS WAGONS; in fact Wagon of every description made, and ready for delivery.
PAINTING & REPAIRING punctually attended to.
A first-class Trimmer and Blacksmith always on hand.
Nothing but the best Western Timber used,
none but first-class Mechanics employed, and consequently All Work done to this Establishment Won- derfully.

Parties in want of any of the above description of Wagon or Buggy, or in need of repair, or examining for themselves, when they cannot call in person, will be pleased to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

Parties entrusting him to his care may be
assured that his best and personal attention will
be given to their interests, and that he will
be pleased to receive from them the same liberal
patronage as heretofore, and to receive from them
the same liberal patronage as heretofore.

W. D. CAMBER,
DENTIST.
OFFICE—Connell's Brick Building,
1 Queen Street, Woodstock.

W. A. BALLOCH,
Dentist.
OFFICE—Over Col. W. T. Baird's Drug Store,
23 Corner Main and King Streets.

J. T. FLETCHER,
Architect and Builder,
RESIDENCE, WATERVILLE.

HAVING a thorough practical knowledge of the construction of architecture in all its details,
I am prepared to furnish Plans, Specifications, Bills
of Materials and Estimates for all kinds of Buildings, either public or private, on reasonable terms.
I have been engaged in the construction of buildings of first-class work.

REFERENCES, BY PERMISSION:
Hon. S. B. Appleby, Woodstock.
Lieut. Col. C. K. Upton, Fredericville.
G. W. Boyer, Esq., Victoria Corner.
D. W. Smith, Jacksonville.
Waterville, May 11, 1875—15-20

Harness Shop!
23 Down Below Baker & McEwen's Shoe Shop,
ON MAIN STREET.

HAVING REMOVED from my old stand, in front of American House, I take this opportunity to inform my customers, one and all, of my new stand, and to solicit a continuance of their patronage. Having an enlarged Shop and Stock, I feel confident I shall be able to accommodate all short notice. Constantly on hand: Harnesses of all kinds, Blankets, Curries, Combs, Carriage Bells
and Straps, and everything usually found in a first-
class harness shop.
Please give me a call.
R. CLIFF, Harness Maker.
Woodstock Nov. 10, 1871—45

Removal!
THE subscriber having removed from his old stand to the new one, opposite the side of the street, 23 Down Below Baker & McEwen's Shoe Shop, ON MAIN STREET, I take this opportunity to inform my customers, one and all, of my new stand, and to solicit a continuance of their patronage. Having an enlarged Shop and Stock, I feel confident I shall be able to accommodate all short
notice. Constantly on hand: Harnesses of all kinds, Blankets, Curries, Combs, Carriage Bells
and Straps, and everything usually found in a first-
class harness shop.
Please give me a call.
R. CLIFF, Harness Maker.
Woodstock Nov. 10, 1871—45

Light & Heavy Harness
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,
Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c.
Inspection respectfully solicited.
T. L. REEVE,
Harness Maker.
Woodstock, Oct. 24, 1873—43

ARROSTOCK
Express Company!
SPRING ARRANGEMENT.
THREE TRIPS PER WEEK.

WILL, until further notice, leave Woodstock
TUESDAY, THURSDAY, and SATURDAY
Mornings, for St. Andrews, Calais, Sagor, Portland, Boston, and intermediate places.
Leave Boston every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at 6 o'clock, p. m.
Money and freight every description forwarded with dispatch and promptly delivered.
All freight will be collected on delivery of goods.
Freight being shipped to the United States, in order to prevent detention, must be all cases be accompanied with an invoice.
PRINCIPAL OFFICES: Boston, Montreal,
St. John, and St. Andrews.
Charges less than by any other line.
JOHN MCALUCHAN, Agent.
Woodstock, June 17, 1873.

EXPRESS NOTICE.
The Eastern Express Company
WILL FORWARD DAILY.
In charge of the Special Messenger, via N. B.
& C. & E. N. A. Railway,
Money, Packages, Packages and Freight, Calais, Sagor, Portland, Boston, and intermediate places. No Packages or Freight received at the Office after 5 o'clock, p. m.
G. W. VANWART, Agent.
Woodstock, Feb. 2, 1872—4

BELL ORGAN.
STOCKS.
ROOFS.
As Good as the Best!
Buy a BELL ORGAN,
and save 175 per cent. the duty on all American Instruments.
Every Instrument fully warranted for five years.
W. LEONARD ALBERTON.
Woodstock, Dec. 28, 1874—32

Agents Wanted.
AGENTS WANTED in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and P. E. Island to take orders for the rapidly selling work, "Glorious of the Immortal Life." Address, for circulars, to C. H. FERGUSON,
—U-12 Waterville, Carleton Co., N. B.

Everitt & Butler
RESPECTFULLY invite the attention of their customers and friends to their stock of
New Fall Goods
JUST OPENED.
Special inducements will be offered to Cash
Buyers.
Country orders promptly and carefully executed.
WHOLESALE WAREHOUSE,
No. 50 and 51 King St.
St. John, Sept. 3, 1875.

R. B. JONES,
NEW BRUNSWICK HOUSE, AGENT FOR THE
GLASGOW DYE WORKS.
ST. JOHN, N. B.

SMITH & BURTON, Dyers, Scourers, French
Cleaners, and practical Cloth Dressers.
Blacks for Mourning can be done in one day's notice.
Gentlemen's Coats, Vests and Pants cleaned or dyed without injury to the fabric. Kid Gloves cleaned or dyed. Carpets cleaned with a new process without beating.
All orders left with the above agent will be promptly attended to.
August 20, 1875—2m-34

Poetry.
The Two Travellers.
BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

"Twice evening, and before my eyes
There lay a landscape gray and dim;
Fields faintly seen and twilight skies
And clouds that hid the horizon's brim.

I saw—or was it that I dreamed?—
A waking dream?—I cannot say;
For every shape as real seemed
As those that met my eye to-day.

Through leafless shrubs the cold wind hissed;
The air was thick with falling snow;
And onward, through the frozen mist,
I saw a weary traveler go.

Driven on by that landscape bare and bleak,
Before the whirling gusts of air,
The snowflakes smote his withered cheek,
And gathered on his silver hair.

Yet on he fared through blinding snows,
And murmuring to himself he said—
"The night is near, the darkness grows,
And higher rise the drifts I tread."

Deep, deep in each autumn flower they hide,
Each tuft of green they whelm from sight;
And they who journeyed by my side
Are lost in the surrounding night.

I loved them; oh, no words can tell
The love that to my friends I bore;
We parted with the sad farewell
Of those who part to meet no more.

And I, who face this bitter wind,
And o'er these snowy hillsides creep,
Must end my journey soon and find
A frosty couch, a frozen sleep.

As he spoke, a thrill of pain
Shot to his heart; I closed my eyes,
And when I opened them again
I started with a glad surprise.

"Twas evening still, and in the west
A glowing crimson light;
I saw the merry stars and heard
That promise of a glorious day."

The waters, in their glassy sleep,
Shone with the hues that tinged the sky,
And rugged cliff and barren steep
Gleamed with a brightness from on high.

And one of those whose journey lay
Into the slowly gathering night;
With steady step he held his way
O'er shadowy vale and gleaming height.

I marked his firm though weary tread,
The lifted eye and brow serene,
And saw no shade of doubt or dread
Pass o'er that traveler's pale mein.

And others came, their journey o'er,
And bade good-night with words of cheer:
"To-morrow we shall meet once more!
'Tis but the night that parts us here."

"And I," said he, "shall sleep as long—
Shall sleep as long, and wake as strong,
In the bright day that yet will dawn."
—Atlantic Monthly for February.

Select Tale.
STORY OF A CHECK.

John H. Wilbur was my business partner.
He was a good, easy-going fellow, with whom people liked to deal, but he was none too careful, none too accurate, none too energetic. When I worried about little complications, and was running around over our establishment in a high state of nervous excitement, he would deliberately sit down, with good nature beaming all over his face, and read funny things in the comic papers, or he would buying, then, when anything went wrong he would sit down and wait for it to come around right, just as placidly as a mis-crawling waiting for something to turn up.

But I always liked John, and I never once found it in my heart even to grow impatient with him.
We were general business partners, but once upon a time we had a streak of bad luck.
We met with some heavy losses just as my full season came frowning upon us.
Month after month passed away, and owing to the dull times our business dwindled away till we found ourselves barely able to meet our obligations and pay our expenses.

At this period my partner started out to visit several small cities within a few hundred miles of our city on business connected with the firm. He left by the steamer, and I saw him off with the usual
"good-bye" and returned to the counting-room.

I had just taken my seat at the desk
to answer an important business letter
when a gentleman named Edgington came in to collect a bill of twelve hundred dollars, which we promised to pay that day.
I gave him a check for the amount, our balance in bank being as I supposed eleven thousand dollars.

In all haste he came to the counting-room, with a look upon his face which I instinctively felt was portentous of something wrong.
"That check," he said, hesitating—"the fact is—"

"Why what's wrong?" I asked interrupting him.
"I went to the bank, and the teller
said—"

"Well, he wouldn't pay it."
"Wouldn't pay it? Why?"
"He probably would if I had urged it,
but he stated that no check was ever signed on your part, as the check was drawn for a larger amount than you had on deposit."

"What I have made a mistake! Let me see it." He handed me the check.
I received twelve hundred dollars. That's right.
Why, I have just drawn a check for the sum of the bank. What does he mean? He's crazy! Come with me.
I took my hat from a hook and put it on with some emphasis; then we started for the bank.

I naturally felt keenly the imputation that I had given a larger amount than we had on deposit, and I made up my mind
on the way that the president of the bank should immediately be informed of the indignity which had been put upon me by what I regarded as the stupid blunder either of one of the clerks or the paying teller.

"He must have glanced carelessly at the check, and taken it for twelve thousand instead of twelve hundred," I said to myself. "Yet that seems incredible. I don't understand it. Well, we shall see."
We soon reached the bank, which was only a few squares from our place of business, and after waiting till the teller

had paid several checks we stepped up to the window and I said:
"Mr. Worth, I don't understand why you refuse to pay this check to Mr. Ed-gington."

He took the check, looked at it and politely replied:
"Oh, I merely supposed that you did not intend to overdraw your account.
You probably drew the check without thinking."

"What do you mean by overdrawing?"
He examined the Ledger very carefully, and returning to his place, said:
"One thousand thirty-two."
"How much?"
He repeated it.

"You are surely mistaken," I said. It is ten times as much."
"So it is," he replied, until I paid
that ten thousand dollars check this morning."

"Ten thousand dollars! No such check was drawn by us to-day."
"Yes; I drew the check myself."
"I signed it?"
"Mr. Wilbur."

"Let me see it." I began to suspect
roguery.
"Certainly."
The teller called to the cashier, who happened to step into the private office
at that moment, and presently handed me
a check, which bore the usual utilitarian impression of filing.

To my astonishment, I found it to be a check for ten thousand dollars, payable to "John H. Wilbur & Co., or bearer." It was signed "John H. Wilbur & Co." and the signature was unquestion-ably of my partner? I saw it all now.

"I had luck and the dull times
made it not improbable that our business should go down," and John Wilbur had concluded to provide for himself—had nearly drawn all our funds and absconded—leaving me, helpless and all alone to meet the howls of creditors. The thought was distracting; it half crazed me to believe my partner a rogue, yet there was the evidence.

I told Mr. Edgington to call again in a few days, and hastened to the office of the chief police, who at my request brought the telegraph into requisition to effect the capture of the fugitive; and the result was, he was arrested at one of the stopping places on the boat, on which he had taken passage, and the next day brought back and ushered into my presence in the counting-room.

"John Wilbur," said I, "is it possible that you are such a rascal?"
"What do you mean? I do not understand all this," he said with an air of innocence.

I explained the circumstances of the
last night, when he said:
"I am amazed that you could suspect me of rascality!"
"But the check—the check," said I.
"It must be a forgery," he said mildly.

Then it is the best I ever saw for I would have sworn you wrote it."
"I must see that check at once. I know it is a forgery."

My partner and I together, with the officer who had him in custody, went to the bank, entered the office and had the privilege of examining the ten thousand dollar check. Wilbur scrutinized it closely then turned pale and said:
"Great heaven! That is certainly my signature. But I must have been insane when I wrote it. I don't understand it.
I don't understand it!"—this in a kind of despairing way.

There was a troubled look upon his face, which seemed so entirely natural, that I almost believed in my belief of his guilt. Yet there was the crushing evidence, and it came back upon me with force.

"John, it looks bad. If I wrong you in suspecting this crime, I shall make every atonement. But you must admit yourself that it looks bad. Does it not?"
"I do," he said, with a sigh, "but I am innocent."

"So my poor partner, in whom I had confidence and whom I had loved and honored for years was committed to prison to await an