

POOR COPY

money. Thus incited, the actress consulted Titus from both business and marital partner-

LONG'S HOTEL,		AS GOOD as the Dest !	ford been persecuting you with his attentions	I have ind to my yoom anonad it and lat	I down in the morning the dag flow at him as	ing admitted. No business of importance	the vestry door and assaulting Lyans, Mr.
	URFICE: LA TUSI UFFICE.		again, or has Bill Fox or Will Selden threat-		down in the morning the dog flew at him as	was transacted, however, because some in-	Smith had fetched from the rectory a sword-
	JOHN C. WINSLOW, Attorney-at-Law, Notary Public, &c.		ened to fight a duel over you ?"	there was suit of boy's clothing and a note.	soon as he opened the door and attempted to	visible miscreant let down a live rat through	stick, with which, and a revolver, he usually
	Attorney-at-Law, Notary Fublic, ec. Woodstock, January 1, 1875	Buy a BELL ORGAN;		Oh. Rosette, how I felt ! He begged me to	breakfast on Mr. Metcalf's legs; whereupon	the skylight, and amid shricks and screams	went armed. The magistrates strongly re-
MOST PLEASANTLY SITUATED,	Woodstock, January 1, 1010	Day a DELL ORGAN,	"Nonsence ! you know, Rosette, that I		Mr. Metcalf suddenly shut the door and sat	the assemblage suddenly adjourned	proved him, and fined him £5, the utmost
Corner of King and York Streets,	The Transport of Compositor	and save 171 per cent., the duty on all American	wouldn't wipe my old shoes on Bill Fox, or			Inlia "Ob Carrie I've got a new faller	possible penalty, regretting its inadequacy.
FREDERICTON, N. B.	Fire Insurance Companies	Instruments.	The bound of the brautory, much less then	meet him just below the lodge, outside of the
		From Instrument fully warranted for five	would I be troubling myself about them."	grounds.	sold the dog, but he had gone out of town	erable for anything." Bings overhears this	duct, are pending against the rector in the
This is a Strictly Temperance House.	Capital and Cash Assets, - $17,000,000	years.	"Who, then, in the name of wonder, is	"He wrote that he wished to talk with	to see his aunt and wouldn't be back for a	extraordinary language of his beloved Julia.	County Court.
GEORGE HUME, PROPRIETOR.	Deposited at Ottawa, 400,000	W. LEONARD ALTERTON.		me without the fear of being seen by persons		and thinks it is all over with him, and that
Superior Stabling and a careful hostler.		Woodstock, Dec. 23, 187452	making you mouble .	THAT HAT THE STATES OF THE WORLD'S CONTRACT STATES		the world is hollow. Poor "feller !" how	THE ORDNANCE LANDSJudge Fisher, in
-15	ROBERT MARSHALL,	in company will a carefal on without fee	"None of your colored people," snapped			was he to know that the dear girl is only	his charge the other, day referred to this sub-
THE CLAN D NEWCOND		T DETEDIV & CON	Lu, and then turned pale as ashes, to think	surprised at his proposing such a thing; but	animal still manifested a resolute determina-	talking about the sewing machine?	ject in the following terms, according to the
WILLIAM R. NEWCOMB,	General Agent for New Brunswick.	F. BEVERLY & SON,	what she had said, "or any one else," she		tion to chew Metcalf's leg, and so Metcalf	The second states to make a second state of the second states of the sec	Reporter : "His Honor next referred to the added, and leaned out of the window, pre-		closed the door again and began to wish he		matter of ordnance lands. With this ques-
STAGE HOUSE - TOBIQUE.	"IMPERIAL," of London, Established 1803.	Booksellers, Stationers, Sc.,	added, and realled out of the window, pre-	1 1 1 - 2 Cle black and half sich that much	had bought a dog less attractive to business.	the other day which he thought would give	tion he was very familiar. Over twenty-nve
Comfortable Extras Furnished at the	"ETNA," of Hartford, Established 1819. "HARTFORD." of Hartford, Established 1810.	DEALERS IN	tending to watch Teddy and little Rosette,	I not be aming that his manufer man appuing	Then he areaured a dauble berralled our and	before the old man and remarked: "Give	years ago he had occasion to investigate it shortest notice for any point. [3	Rates moderate, and losses promptly paid	DEALEROIN	who were making mud cakes in the walk be-
BEOFFest house for any point.	Dwelling Houses Insured on specially favorable	Fancy Goods. Piano Fortes.	low. ditt bas a Bloadt an andom 18 to 1	and that he didn't care to see me, while with-	spent the remainder of the week shooting		the the state of t
AT DION HOWET	terms.	the second and the hand of the second and the	"It strikes me that you are getting a trifle	out him I was utterly wretched.	slugs and bullets down the chimney, and	half a minute and then replied : "I'll move
ALBION HOTEL ,	JOHN T. ALLAN, Agent.	ORGANS, TOYS, &c. &c.	stuck up, since you went to the Northrops	1/ I wat the thought of lows moment and an	through the doors and windows, and up	you if you don't clean off that back yard this
Later the second of the second s	Woodstock, July, 1869.			1 1 1 T 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	through the cellar ceiling, and still the dog	afternoon !"- Detroit Free Press	Ackerman and others. Any transfer made
McGill and St. Paul Sts.,	TINION MITTILLT		as lady's maid," said Rosette. No answer				by the Dominion Government would not be
MONTREAL, CANADA,	UNION MUTUAL	October 17, 1873.—42	from Lu. "I hope living in a real English	the second se	held out, until finally Metcalf got a section	It is anguly proceeded that the internet	worth the paper it was written on."-Tele-
and the second sec	TIND THOTOLNOD COMDANY	The second second second second second	castle, and having fine clothes hasn't spoiled	I had in the world.		many mare to brand to anguna berete the	The second
HAS, for twenty years, been the favorite resort of the general travelling Public in the United		SHINGLE MACHINES!	you for associating with your own people."		loberter ine acce and surfer ine concriter	close of the present month, in connection	La state and a second s
States, as well as in Canada, when visiting Mon-		SHIRUID MACHINID'	Lu picks a branch from the tree, and idly	for I would have waded into the Atlantic to	animal into eternity. Then he entered and	with British Columbia and other matters	The new Palace Hotel in San Francisco, treal on business or pleasure It is centrally	OF MAINE.	dit w. wang training about first his second		meet him any time, so perfect was my confi-		We hope the news is true, for Mr. Macken- zie is such a hard worker, that a trip across	which is now almost finished, will be one of located on McGill street, the great thoroughtare		Drake's Patent Shingle Machine,	pulled off the blossoms. " Or that Mr. Rod-	Hosted the mean and and and and house here for	molasses cans and the cold-oil barrels, and	the Atlantic ought to prove useful to him.	the largest and most complete buildings of
and commercial centre of the City, commanding a	THE subscriber is Agent tor this Old Established	The fill Alle the belower of the same and the	Ber Holentoh nge neen harring suit notions	The second		while his visit might help to settle a knotty	the kind in the world. It has more than Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of Vic-	cations for new Policies, and take payments for	Considered the best in the Province, six of them	into your head," continued Rosette. Lu	THE PARTY AND A TRACK OF ANY	had blown all the china-ware to atoms, so	question to the advantage of Canada.— Tele-	750 private rooms, mostly twenty feet square
toria Square and Mount Royal on the right.	renewals.	now on hand at our Factory, prices low.	flashed a piercing glance at her sister, while		that the store looked as if a fifteen-inch shell	guestion to the advantage of Canada Tele-	half of them with bay windows and bathing
The Hotel is furnished throughout in a superior manner, and everything arranged with a view to	J. C. WINSLOW.	We also keep on hand the	two crimson spots burned for an instant on	long walk, and, oh ! how he laughed at me	had burst in it. Metcalf cleaned up and		rooms. The public rooms have an aggregate
he comfort of guests.	Woodstock, January 1, 1875.	Burton Potent Cong LATH MILL.	A CONTRACT CONTRACT AND A CONTRACT OF A CONT	in boy's clothes, and how I laughed at my-	resumed : but he is anxiously awaiting that	The manufacture of allegator leather has	of over 500 feet in length, with a general
As one of the largest hotels in the Dominion,	L DOOGTOOT		citici check, sur resource was bellaring inno-	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	man's return from his visit to his aunt's	now become an important branch of indus-	width of fifty-five feet. It has, also, inner baring ample accomposition for 500 guests, while	AROOSTOOK	Kamla Improved Food Wheel	courty over her bewing. hu, but bie	1 . I to a second to a second that it and	man s return nom me viert to me autres	try. The skins come chiefly from Florida	court-yards covered with glass roofs, with kept in first-class style, the moderate snm of $1.50 will be charged as heretofore.	Theman (lemmann !	Kerr's Improved Feed Wheel,	quickly, taking a letter from her pocket,	had tried many ways to accomplish it, and	He wants to see him about something.	and Louisiana, and the hunting and skinning	carriage entrances, promenades, fountains,
The travelling community will consult their own	Express Company!	For Gang Saw Mills.	" did you ever see that ?"	had at last struck on the strange plan we had	30413 Tol 1010 Louna Date and	of the animals are extensively pursued About 20,000 skins are tanned every year	statuary, music pavillion and a band, nve
The travelling community will consult their own interests by remembering the Albion Hotel, when	and helperson of the second to description and pair	General Machinery and Mill Work made to	"Lu took it, glanced at the handwriting,	carried out.	The Drunkard.		elevatore, seven star majo, and every miniting Montreal.	TWO TRIPS PER WEEK.	order.	a second s	"After that we met often-generally on	When the books of judgment are open, and		Ciso to correctional and the change Bring
DECKER, STEARNS & MURRAY.	information and an and and and and and	St Stanhan N D	and turned suddenly pale.	the ivy bridge, where he awaited me, on his	ten million drunkards come up to get their		plated ware for the dining-rooms will be made to order from designs made for the
The I Glader Hatel	TTTILL, until further notice, leave Woodstock	St. Stephen, N. B. April 17, 1875-3m-16	"Where did you get it ?" she whispered,				hotel, and enormous quantities of each will
United States Hotel,	WILL, until further notice, leave Woodstock every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY	April 11, 1015-50-10	hoarsely.	black horse, holding a hired one for me.	doom, I want you to bear witness that I, this		horen and enormous quantities of each win
PORTLAND, MAINE.	mornings, for St. Andrews, Calais, Eastport, Port- land, Boston, and intermediate places.		"You dropped it here the !ast time you	"And you should have seen me learning to	morning, in the fear of God, and in the love	There is a large filing off in the immi-	be required. Of plated ware alone, 1,300
PORILAND, MAIND.	Leave Boston every Monday and Thursday	Removal /	came, and as good luck would have it, it fell		for your soul, told you with all affection,	gration returns as compared with those of	pieces will be needed.
THE above popular House, centrally situated	Mornings.		into my hands. No one knows your secret			last year. In the months of January, Feb-
in the business quarter of the Deautiful	Leave Formand every monday and thereasy,			in town and out of town	has already exerted its influence upon your	ruary and March, the numbers who sailed	lowing figures are given us showing the Forest City and in close proximity to the lead-	at o o clock. p. m.	I MHK subscriber having Removed from his Old	but me, Lu," and Rosette's eyes filled with			a mant managin in this accountury The Johow
ng places of amusement and public buildings, has been thoroughly re-modelled, refurnished	with despatch and promptly delivered.	Stand to the	tears. "Now, dear you must tell me how	"At last—oh, Rosette !—at last the end came. One night he told me he was engaged	family. On, it you could only hear this	market however is not likely to be much	the past season :- On the east half of No. 7
and enlarged, and is now open to the public	with despatch and promptly delivered. All freights will be collected on delivery of goods.	Opposite Side of the Street,	far this thing has gone. I swear never to	came. One night he told me he was engaged to a young lady who was coming to the castle in a few days. We were on horseback, stand-	morning, Intemperance, with drunkard's	affected, as the supply is quite equal to the	Range 4, over 4,000,000 feet; on west half
Billiard Booms, Bath Rooms, Barber Shop, Tele-	Freight being shipped to the United States, in order to prevent detention, must in all cases be ac-	opposite side of the street,	betray your confidence, but-it has almost	to a young lady who was coming to the castle	bones, drumming on the head of the wine	damand	of No. / Range 5, 1,010,000 1001, ou 110. @
area h Office, and Gents' Furnishing Goods Store,	companied with an invoice.		Kineu me. Lu.	in a few days. We were on horseback, stand-	cask the dead march of immortal souls, me-	The following sentence occurs in a letter	Range 4, 2,140,000 feet: on No. 8 Range 5, in connection with the house. Permanent and Transient Boarders accommo-	PRINCIPAL OFFICES:	takes this opportunity to thank his past custom- ers for their liberal patronage, and hopes by	"Ask whatever you want to know, and I'll	ing on the junction of Pipe and Stephens		The following sentence occurs in a love	about 1,600,000 feet, and on No. 9 Range 5,
dated on reasonable terms.		ers for their liberal patronage, and hopes by strict attention to business to merit a continu-	answer " nonlied In leaving has head wear	avenue, the moon shining full in my face, and			and No. 9 Range 4, about 3,000,000 feet;
E. CRAM, Proprietor.	8 and 10 Court Square, Boston. 21 Market Square, Houlton.	A Strict attention to pusiness to merit a continu-	answer. replied Lu. leaning her head wear-			Mu, Icau at a Icaportateo contentes in August 15, 1872-tf-33			austreit, representational Base and Home	that man median me some coul Bosette	make you shudder, and the color of the riquer	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have	making a total of 12,550,500 feetNews.
	American Consul's Office, St. Andrews.	ance of the same. He has on hand		that man sending my your coul Posstta	1 12 the man allight of the blood of the	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro-	The Agricultural Department of the United
	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Woodstock.	Light & Heavy Harness	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the	The Agricultural Department of the United
1875. TRUNKS. 1875.	American Consul's Office, St. Andrews.	Light & Heavy Harness	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips,	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is
	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN,	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap.	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me.	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area
1875. TRUNKS. 1875.	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT.	Light & Heavy Harness	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap.	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me.	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area
1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c.,	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN,	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c.	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr.	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people."	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea-
1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade.	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, Woodstock, October 29, 1874. St. Andrews. Woodstock.	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. T Inspection respectfully solicited.	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo-	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. T ADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM-	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker.	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh,	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered,	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gente' Extra Bound do: do.; 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING."	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. We detech Ort 24 1872	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Ro-	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still,
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM-	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Ro-	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free,	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX	ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Ro- sette burst into tears.	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where.	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail. for 25 cents: together with a Marriage	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave—	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Dent's Pell Bags; 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, St. Andrews. Woodstock. Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. JOHN MCLAUCHLAN, Woodstock, October 29, 1874. AGENT. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address,	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one an- 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam-
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia.	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony counter- 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam-
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and L' Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oraele, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony counter- 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended.
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oraele, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony counter- 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended.
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 	American Consul's Office, St. Andrews. Golden Fleece, Woodstock. Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion :	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre ?— Talmage .	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head.	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 	American Consul's Office, St. Andrews. Golden Fleece, Woodstock. Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. The subscription respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers.	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on bis prospective happiness"	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage .	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af-	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oraele, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14	Ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE FACTORY AND WAREBOOMS:	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on bis prospective happiness"	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage .	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af-	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that
1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE.	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oraele, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Removal !	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Tinspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. Office, Factory and Warerooms:	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I wonld meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, 	 that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion : "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man 	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial nur-	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Removal ! TOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. Office, Factory and Warerooms:	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre ?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from arural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company WILL FORWARD DAILY, 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over	Ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: SUSSEX; N. B.	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. Lange assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. Ladies' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company WILL FORWARD DAILY, Th charge of their Species Messenger, via N. B. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Removal ! TOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. For Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. Office, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: SUSSEX; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B.,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre ?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape I her death is a prime of the civilization of Af-	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen-
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas. Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W.H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company WILL FORWARD DAILY, N charge of their Species Messenger, via N. B. & C. and E. & N. A. Bailway. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Removal ! JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store,	Ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: SUSSEX; N. B.	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I world meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God has a balm for such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre ?—Talmage. An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav-
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and L Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company WILL FORWARD DAILY, N's charge of their Speciel Messenger, via N. B. & C. and E. & N. A. Railway. Money, Valuables, Packages and Freight, 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Removal ! JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store, Corner King and Main Streets,	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Terestion respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: SUSSEX; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B., MESSRS. WARWICK & CO.,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for aunsement." 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of his eyes, and a look of perfect despair to take	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre ?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything about it—that he and all his neighbors burn-	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar at Timbuctoo, a distance ef 740 miles. To	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav- ing interests in and control of the mercan-
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. ADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 40 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company WILL FORWARD DAILLY, N charge of their Speck Messenger, via N. B. & C. and E. & N. A. Railway. Money, Valuables, Packages and Freight, Toney, Valuables, Packages and Freight, 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Removal ! JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store, Corner King and Main Streets, where he has fitted up a Frst-class Gallery, and	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Terestion respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: SUSSEX; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B., MESSRS. WARWICK & CO.,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for aunusement." 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of his eyes, and a look of perfect despair to take its place. And then I saw that he loved me	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurcction. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre ?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything about it—that he and all his neighbors burn- ed kerosene.	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar at Timbuctoo, a distance ef 740 miles. To such a highway for opening up the African	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav- ing interests in and control of the mercan-
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company WILL FORWARD DAILLY, N charge of their Species Messenger, via N. B. & C. and E. & N. A. Railway. Money, Valuables, Packages and Freight, To and from Woodstock, Fredericton, St. John, 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Removal ! JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store, Corner King and Main Streets, where he has fitted up a Frst-class Gallery, and intends his work to be the same.	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. Thespection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 1873.—43 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: S U S S E X; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B., MESSRS. WARWICK & CO., No. 8, North Wharf.	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for aunusement." 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of his eyes, and a look of perfect despair to take	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything about it—that he and all his neighbors burn- ed kerosene.	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar at Timbuctoo, a distance ef 740 miles. To such a highway for opening up the African Continent it is believed there are no for- midable obstacles, but that the pontformas	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav- ing interests in and control of the mercan- tile marine.
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. LADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. The Eastern Express Company WILL FORWARD DAILLY, Money, Valuables, Packages and Freight, To and from Woodstock, Fredericton, St. John, Calais, Bangor, Portland, Boston, and intermediate Datase. No Packages or Freight received at the 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGGRAPHIC Removal ! JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store, Corner King and Main Streets, where he has fitted up a Frst-class Gallery, and Intends his work to be the same. Staeial attention paid to COPYING and EN-	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. F Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: S U S S E X ; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B., MESSRS. WARWICK & CO., No. 8, North Wharf. Agents Wanted !	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I world meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for arnusement." "And no one knew you?" "Not a soul—black moustache, smoked 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette ; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of his eyes, and a look of perfect despair to take its place. And then I saw that he loved me And I wondered if he had made up the story	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything about it—that he and all his neighbors burn- ed kerosene.	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar at Timbuctoo, a distance ef 740 miles. To such a highway for opening up the African Continent it is believed there are no for- midable obstacles, but that the pontformas	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav- ing interests in and control of the mercan- tile marine.
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Large assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. ADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zinc and Leather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Canvas. Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. W. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. Destern Express Company WILL PORWARD DAILY, Money, Valuables, Packages and Freight, To and from Woodstock, Fredericton, St. John, Calais, Bangor, Portland, Boston, and intermediate places. No Packages or Freight received at the opaces. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Reemoval ! JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store, Corner King and Main Streets, where he has fitted up a Frst-class Gallery, and Intends his work to be the same. Special attention paid to COPYING and EN- LARGING. All are invited to call and see SPECIMENS and learn prices.	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. F Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 1873.—43 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: SUSSEX; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B., MESSRS. WARWICK & CO., No. 8, North Wharf. Agents Wanted ! 'LAST JOURNALS OF LIVINGSTONE.''	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I would meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for aunusement." "And no one knew you?" "Not a soul—black moustache, smoked eye-glasses, slouch hat," exclaimed Lu, with 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of his eyes, and a look of perfect despair to take its place. And then I saw that he loved me And I wondered if he had made up the story of the young lady to discover the state of my	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God has a balm for such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre ?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything about it—that he and all his neighbors burn- ed kerosene. Doctrines are of use only as they are prac-	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar at Timbuctoo, a distance ef 740 miles. To such a highway for opening up the African Continent it is believed there are no for- midable obstacles, but that the conforma- tion of the great desert of Sahara favors the	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav- ing interests in and control of the mercan- tile marine.
1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Isome and the second provided to the s	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Bgyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 DOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store, Corner King and Main Streets, where he has fitted up a Frst-class Gallery, and Intends his work to be the same. Special attention paid to COPYING and EN- LARGING. All are invited to call and see SPECIMENS and learn prices. JOHN H. HALL.	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. F Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 1873.—43 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: S U S S E X ; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B., MESSRS. WARWICK & CO., No. 8, North Wharf. Agents Wanted ! 'LAST JOURNALS OF LIVINGSTONE.'' Popular Edition. Price $2.50. Terms free. THOMPSON & CO.,	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I wonld meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for anusement." "And no one knew you?" "Not a soul—black moustache, smoked eye-glasses, slouch hat," exclaimed Lu, with a flourish of the hand, and a momentary 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of his eyes, and a look of perfect despair to take its place. And then I saw that he loved me And I wondered if he had made up the story of the young lady to discover the state of my heart. But I would know in a few days, so	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything about it—that he and all his neighbors burn- ed kerosene. Doctrines are of use only as they are prac- ticed. Men go to perdition with their heads	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar at Timbuctoo, a distance ef 740 miles. To such a highway for opening up the African Continent it is believed there are no for- midable obstaeles, but that the conforma- tion of the great desert of Sahara favors the scheme. The author of the project is Mr.	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav- ing interests in and control of the mercan- tile marine. A committee has been formed to obtain public subscriptions for a monument over the grave of Byron in Hucknall Churchyard,
 1875. TRUNKS. 1875. Isrge assortment of Trunks, &c., for Spring Trade. ADIES' SARATOGA TRUNKS, in Zine and Leeather; Gents' Extra Bound do: do.; Solid Leather Overlaid Trunks and Valises; Convas, Enamelled and Comp. Packing Trunks, and Trunks of every description made to order; Ladies' Reticules and Shopping Satchels; Gents' Pell Bags; Boys' School Satchels. Will be sold at exceedingly low prices, for cash. M. H. KNOWLES, Trunk Factory, 49 Germain St. St. John, May 6, 1875 EXPRESS NOTICE. MILL FORWARD DAILLY, Mcharge of their Specific Messenger, via N. B. & C. and E. & N. A. Railway. Money, Valuables, Packages and Freight, To and from Woodstock, Fredericton, St. John, Calais, Bangor, Portland, Boston, and intermediate places. No Packages or Freight received at the Office after S o'clock, a. m. 	American Consul's Office, Golden Fleece, Charges less than by any other line. JOHN McLAUCHLAN, AGENT. Woodstock, October 29, 1874. "PSYCHOMANCY, or SOUL CHARM- ING." HOW either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affections of any person they choose, instantly. This art all can possess, free, by mail, for 25 cents; together with a Marriage Guide, Egyptian Oracle, Dreams, Hints to Ladies, &c. 1,000,000 sold, A queer book. Address, T. WILLIAM & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia. 1y-14 PHOTOGRAPHIC Reemoval ! JOHN HALL HAS REMOVED to the spacious Rooms over W. T. Baird's Drug Store, Corner King and Main Streets, where he has fitted up a Frst-class Gallery, and Intends his work to be the same. Special attention paid to COPYING and EN- LARGING. All are invited to call and see SPECIMENS and learn prices.	ance of the same. He has on hand Light & Heavy Harness OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Collars, Whips, Bells, &c., &c. F Inspection respectfully solicited. T. L. ESTEY, Harness Maker. Woodstock, Oct. 24, 187343 THE SUSSEX Boot & Shoe Company, Manufacturers of and wholesale dealers in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. OFFICE, FACTORY AND WAREROOMS: SUSSEX; N. B. Selling Agency in St. John, N. B., MESSRS. WARWICK & CO., No. 8, North Wharf. Agents Wanted ! LAST JOURNALS OF LIVINGSTONE." Popular Edition. Price $2.50. Terms free. THOMPSON & CO.	 ily on the window-sill. Rosette got up and closed the door, and then seating herself beside her sister, took the beautiful child's head in her lap. "First of all, Lu, this letter is from Mr. Rodger Northrop to you. He speaks of meeting you dressed in boy's clothes. Oh, Lu, Lu, what have you come to?" and Rosette burst into tears. "Simply disguising myself so that we could go out together at night, as we often had no other opportunity of seeing one another," answered Lu, with a stony countenance. "But where did you go?" "Oh, off for a walk and a talk. I wonld meet him below the lodge, down the road, you know, and off we'd go together. Why, Rosette, we've visited more queer places in town here, and had more adventures than I could tell you about in a week. And all for anusement." "And no one knew you?" "Not a soul—black moustache, smoked eye-glasses, slouch hat," exclaimed Lu, with a flourish of the hand, and a momentary 	that man reading my very soul, Rosette. "Suddenly I realized everything. I knew that I loved him, and that my very life was to be torn from me. "I felt my face growing white, and quick as thought woman's pride tempted me to drop my riding-whip. 'Please,'I whispered, pointing to it, and scared up a smile, heaven only knows from where. "He dismounted and picked it up, while I took the opportunity to turn my horse's head away from the moon, and, with an effort that almost tore my heart from my breast, said carelessly, but with sufficient heart for the occasion: "Let me congratulate Mr. Northrop on his prospective happiness." "I must have acted well, Rosette; the man was thoroughly deceived. He was facing the moon this time—I in the shade. At my words the light seemed suddenly to die out of his eyes, and a look of perfect despair to take its place. And then I saw that he loved me And I wondered if he had made up the story of the young lady to discover the state of my	would make you think of the blood of the soul, and foam on the top of the cup would remind you of the froth on the maniac's lips, and you would go home from service and pray God that rather than your children should become captives of this evil habit, you would carry them out some bright spring day to Greenwood, and put them away to the last sleep, until at the call of the south wind the flowers would come up all over the grave— sweet prophecies of the resurrection. God has a balm tor such a wound ; but what flow of comfort ever grew on the blasted health of a drunkards sepulchre?— Talmage . An honest old gentleman from a rural county, who came down to New York to spend the Sabbath with friends, was asked by one of them what the people up his way thought of the Beecher scandal. He replied that he never tried it, and didn't know anything about it—that he and all his neighbors burn- ed kerosene. Doctrines are of use only as they are prac- ticed. Men go to perdition with their heads	Baltimore: "I agree with you that we have great reason for congratulation at the pro- gress this great cause is making among the people of the State. I think the day is now past when any drunkard can expect to fill an office in the State by the suffrages of the people." Mrs. Margaret Middleton, the oldest wo- man in Connecticut, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cook, in Simsbury, last week, at the age of 106 years, seven months and sixteen days. She never had worn glasses, and was always able, until within a short time before her death, to thread the finest needle. She never had a physician to attend her professionally but once before her last sickness, neither had she, at the time of her death, nor did she ever have a gray hair in her head. A bold project for the civilization of Af- rica is announced in England. This is the formation of a canal for commercial pur- poses from the mouth of the river Belta, on the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of Cape Juby and Cape Rajador, opposite the Canary Islands, to the northern bend of the Nigar at Timbuctoo, a distance ef 740 miles. To such a highway for opening up the African Continent it is believed there are no for- midable obstaeles, but that the conforma- tion of the great desert of Sahara favors the scheme. The author of the project is Mr.	The Agricultural Department of the United States has issued its report for April. It is on the whole an encouraging document. From this, it would appear, that the area covered by winter wheat is seven per cent. larger than it was at the corresponding sea- son of last year. The condition of the crop is somewhat below the average, and much inferior to the status of last spring. Still, there is a prospect of plenty, whilst the productive power of the land throughout the States, especially in the West and South, is proved beyond all doubt. Even the intense severity of the winter has not had the dam- aging effect that was once apprehended. AN UNWISE PRACTICE.—The letter writ- ten to the London Times by Mr. Dorian Smith of the Scilly Islands, stating that many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely ordinary signals of arrival, which had frequently been the cause of false alarms, is one deserving of gen- eneral attention upon the part of those hav- ing interests in and control of the mercan- tile marine.