A BABY .- Did you ever watch a dear REMOVED little baby waking from its morning nap? It is one of the prettiest sights in the world. There is the crib with its small preparations and snow-white drapery that To the Store next the Bridge, formerly occupie covers something, outlined round and plump. There is nothing to reveal what it is; not the slightest movement of the pillowed whiteness that is visible-no sound to indicate keenest actual life, until the hour-hand of the clock that stands sentinel like yourself, has twice made its circuit. Then there is a slight pulsing in the white drapery, a small pink, temulous hand, fair as a rosebud, is thrust out, and from the nest thus broken into appears a round diminutive face, with wide, open eyes that have not much speculation in them yet; soon, however, they cease to stare, and become questioning, serious, as if wondering what a kind of a world it is they open upon; and the head lifts itself just a little, and two snow-white feet stand up spasmodically, with a simultaneous movement, each toe of which has an attendant dimple. But the head is too heavy-it falls back on the pillow with its own sweet weight, the hair all damp and goldenthe cheeks peachy—the mouth just pouted, as the angels kissed it in dreams. A first lingering go-o-o comes from its rosy depths, sweeter than any bird's song, for it has a spirit tone and yet retains a thrill of its native skies. The chubby hands are lifted imploringly, persuasively :the baby is awake, and ceases to be an > requires a very considerable amount of disguise to make a pretty girl look anything but pretty. For whom, my dears, do you dress? Do you imagine that, as a rule, men know or notice what you are wearing? Not once in fifty times. They notice a delicate hand or a pretty little foot; and they can tell what color your hair is, and perhaps the color also of your eyes-though this depends upon yourselves; but whether your dress is pink, or white, or blue, whether it is bouiloune or gored, and how it is trimmed, men never think of observing, and could not tell if they did observe. Look as pretty at the seaside this autumn as you have loooked in town this summer, and the average of wounded hearts will be well maintained; and the average is always Early Large York, higher in the country than in the town. The weaker sex, which in affairs of the heart I take to be the male, falls in love equally as much in both places, only in the latter he forgets it sooner. Do you imagine that if Rosalind's father had been reigning in his own palace, instead of keeping court in the forest of Arden, she and Orlando would have been married, even supposing that Oliver had repented of his unfraternal conduct some months sooner than he did repent? In the forest there was little else to do, and leisure is the friend of love. Marriages, as we know, are made in heaven; but those preliminaries which take place on earth are more smoothly made in the country. I know a man who seized the opportunity of tendering his heart and hand during a journey down Piccadilly in a four-wheel-

We the undersigned residents of Cornwallis, having observed the astonishing effects resulting from the use of Graham's Pain Eradicator, and having used it ourselves and in our families with the best success for the removal of complaints for which it is intended, confidently recommend it to the public as surpassing any Liniment or Pain Killer in use.

So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great cor-ruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system dote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive dis-orders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipe-las, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ul-plaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhæa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons. It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or ac-companied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution stitution. Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
