The Toronto Globe of a recent date, in an article on the religious liberty that | Madawaska, Canada sustain, after referring to the Queen's, Restigouel possible establishment in Toronto of a Chinese Joss house, says :-

And yet many an ignorant weakling and Victoria, many an unreasoning zealot would cry out in holy horror at the idea of such a prefanation York, of Toronto as to have a joss-house established within its borders. Why not? Don't we cry out against heathen people not allow-ing Christian churches to be built within their jurisdiction? Don't we exclaim against the monstrous illiberality and short-sighted bigotry of Spaniards or Mexicans refusing liberty for the erection of Protestant churches by deep religious and genuine Protestan in Spain or Mexico? And yet a heathen feeling we do not believe. It is, on the conthat fifty of them, wherever the believers in most cherished principles of Protestanism,

Protestants and Catholics toward each recently displayed towards such outbreaks other. But the illustration is scarcely must also share, so far, in the condemnation. scarcely to be determined by the obligations that exist between different bodies that exist between different bodies.

Chairman C question suggested by the Globe is a nice of those who are trembling on its borders, one; it is one that involves very grave and who, therefore, hoped that in the general considerations, and is worthy discussion confusion they might be able to gratify some by the learned in such matters. We do not think it follows that, because we, as christians, seek by sympathy and the use of all proper means to convert the heathen, and because individual heathens who come among us are to be treated with due courtesy and respect, therefore we should countenance in our own christian land the institutions of heathendom or its temples of idolotry, encouraging just so far the spread of that which is not sible energy, "I can't march through Covenced with directly discovered with disco only obviously wrong but directly dis- try with them.
