Books of the Bible. THE OLD TESTAMENT. Leviticus and Numbers see, Followed by Deutermony. Joshua and Judges saw the land, Ruth gleans a sheaf with trembling hand Samuel and numerous Kings appear, Whose chronicles we wondering hear, Ezra and Nehemiah now, Esther, the beauteous mourner show, Job speaks in sighs, David in Psalms, The Proverbs teach to scatter alms;

Ecclesiastes then comes on, And the sweet songs of Solomon, Isaiah, Jeremiah then, Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea's lyres, Swell Joel, Amos, Obadiah's; Next Jonah, Micab, Nahum come, And lofty Aabakkuk finds room; While Zephaniah, Aaggai calls, Rapt Zachariah builds his walls; And Malachi, with garments rent, Concludes the ancient Testament. THE NEW TESTAMENT.

Matthew, Mark, and Luke, and John, Acts of Apostles follow on; The Romans and Corinthians learn, Galations and Ephesians turn Philippians and Colossians next, With Thessalonians have the text. To Timothy the truth is shown-To Titus and to Philemon. The Hebrews has Prul's parting words, When James, the brother of our Lord, And Peter, and beloved John Take up the strain and bear it on, Jude's solemn words great things reveal, And Revelation sets the seal.

The contrast between the two systems

The contrast between the two systems above named is not easy to reconcile, and yet is too important to be overlooked. Each method is sound in some of its features, and defective in others, and the formulas laid down are not in all cases the best. Though both theories have given good results, yet the formulas of each are a standing protest against those of the other.

SCIENTIFIC FERTILIZING .- Two distinct

Scientific Fertilizing.—Two distinct theories have recently been advanced for applying chemicals to growing crops. Prof. Stockbridge in Massachusetts, and Prof. George ville in France, have attracted wide attention to the subject of artificial manuring, and each by a system entirely peculiar and distinct. The theory of Prof. Stockbridge, though differing essentially from that of Prof. Ville, has one point of resemblance. They both claim that chemical fertilizers are sufficient for all the purposes of farming, and capable of better results than
