also wish to tender our sincere and hearty Grand Lodge for the current year: thanks for the energy and zeal which you have always exhibited in the promotion of healthful and temperate principles among us, to which the Templars of Richmond generally, and especially the members of this Lodge, are so much indebted. During the past seven years, or since the organization of this Lodge, you have endeavored to make our meetings as instructive and beneficial as possible, always urging upon us the necessity of adhering to the principles of total absti-nence.
