NOTICE.

Dated the 22nd May, 1877. THOMAS GRAHAM,

NO QUESTION That Fire Scatters and Destroys!

A Card of Thanks! I RESPECTFULLY thank those friends who kindly assisted in saving a portion of my goods at the late disastrous fire. And although I was among the number of unfortu-nates at the fire in 1860, the patronage and favors I have received from my friends and the public ever since that time encourages me once more to try, to the best of my ability, to suit the public, as a Tailor and Cutter. I leave it with my patrons to say whether my work praises me.

For the present, my place of business is in one of the well known shops of Mr. James McCann, where I hope to receive a portion of the public patronage. The Cloth and Clothing, saved from the fire, will be sold at cost for cash. Particular attention paid to Cutting Garments.

Miscellancous.

The following we clip from the Halifax Reporter. The events to which it alludes must be regarded as among the striking historical events of the century. The enthusiastic and spontaneous pilgrimage of representatives, from all nations, of the undivided church, to visit its venerable head, has its suggestive lessons for Protestants.

The prophecy of the Nun, who, some years ago, predicted the downfall of the temporal power of the Popes, but declared that purified, and ennobled by the destruction of the outer shell, the Roman Catholic religion THE SCIENCE OF LIFE would become vitalized and strengthened and spiritualized, seems to have been a true prophetic utterance, in part at least. One cannot read the accounts of the pilgrims who, with staff and crook and bag, throng to Rome,—one cannot see in the daily telegrams from all countries under the sun, without being compelled to assent to the idea that the medical work entitled the "SCIENCE of LIFE; Jubilce of Pius IX. has called out an immense Manhood, how lost, how regained and how peramount of enthusiasm and of large-hearted petuated; cause and cure of Exhausted Vitality 2 bbls. There is a box of unset diamonds from South America; a gold cup from Lyons; two keys half a yard long, one of silver and the other of gold, symbols of the pontifical power, from Clermont; a gilt oak throne covered with ancient sculptures, and 56,000 francs from Marseilles and three purses full of gold. One of the gifts is an album richly bound, the leaves of which are bank bills; a society of workingmen sent a silver statue of Jesus as a laborer; and the ex-officers of the Pontifical army have sent him a sword, a natural gift from them, but by no means an appropriate one for the servant of the Prince of Peace. The Belgians sent thirty altars for poor churches; the Swiss pilgrims bring no less than thirty silver watches. The elericals of Venice send a magnificent chandelier,

RUSSIAN STRATEGY.—An article in Th Russian Magazine of Political Economy on the strategical conditions of the campaign, contends that it was impossible for the Russians to send at once an overwhelming force across the Danube against the Turks, as was done by the Germans against the French in 1870; for sufficient provisions and amunition could not be supplied for such a force. But little could be obtained in the country itself; they could not be sent by sea or river, the few railroads would be destroyed, and there would be scarcely any means of transport. In order to secure the continuity of the operations of a strong army, it was necessary to organize an immense transport service and Equal difficulty was found in applying another leading principle in strategy—that of securing the operations of the army. For this three conditions are of essential importance-first, the safety of the line of operations for attack, retreat, and communications for attack, retreat, and communica-tions; second, the safety of the base; and third, a favorable position and direction of the base for the line of operations. In view of these dangers, the author concludes that it would not be safe for Russia to send more than 150,000 men to the Balkin; another army of 100,000 men would be required to occupy the line of the Danube, to mask the During the coming Summer. fortresses, and to keep open the communications; a third, also of 100,000 men, to protect the northern coast of the Black Sea; and a fourth, of 300,000 men, to protect the ations against Austria. CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS.—Mr. Blake's Act of last session for the suppression of the practice, which of late years has become so general, of carrying concealed weapons, is being vigorously enforced in the Upper Provinces. In Toronto a few days ago a man who had been arrested for larceny, was convicted of having a revolver in his possession, and was fined $50 and costs. THE subscriber would hereby return his sincere thanks to his friends who so ably assisted has some sensible and timely remarks which has some sensible and timely remarks which THE undersigned desires to announce to his reach of the late disastrous fire, and has now got will apply to many communities in this part

A REMARKABLE CRIMINAL RECORD.-MURDER AND SUICIDE. - St. Louis, June 15 -A despatch from Rockwell, Texas, gives the details of a recent remarkable murder and suicide resulting from an affray in April 1875, when Emberey Cannon, his son William and two nephews, in a spree, severely beat and cut Sheriff Alexander C. Starks, who, in defending himself, shot William Cannon dead. The feud grew strong, and Starks tried to sell his farm preparatory to place on the FIFTH day of JULY next, is unleaving the place.

In September, 1876, a stranger, who desired to purchase the property, accompanied Starks there, and the dead body of the latter was found the next morning in the woods. The murderer, whose name is George W. Garner, fled, but was subsequently indicted with Emberey Cannon as the instigator of the crime. Neither could be found. POND'S

PORD'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destreyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

GHILDREM.—No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains, are relieved almost instantly by external application.
Promptly relieves pains or Burns, Scalds,
Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores,
Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests infamation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discolorations and heals rapidly.

FEMALE WEAKHESSES.—It always relieves pain in the back and loins, fullness and pressing pain in the head, nausea, vertigo.

MEUCORRHEA it has no equal. All kinds of ulcerations to which ladies are subject are promptly cured. Fuller details in book accompanying each bottle.

PILES—blind or bleeding—meet prompt relief and ready cure. No case, however chronic or obstinate, can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS.—It is the only sure cure for this distressing and dangerous condition.

KIDNEY DISEASES.—It has no equal for permament cure.
