SALT AS A MANURE.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman, residing in Brant County, Ontario, writes as follows concern-ing the use of salt as a manure:

last issue upon the application of salt as a manure, I fully endorse the good results from its use, as expressed by your correspondent. In Brant County, where I reside, its non-application will soon be the exception and the rule, as a material benefit accruing to those who have used, is such as to make us feel that our success in growing good crops, particularly barley, depends to a considerable extent upon its application.—

Experiments have been tried, such as leaving strips in a field without any salt, resulting in such a contrast as to cause any one not knowing the facts to wonder at it. But the most noticeable difference within my knowledge is where a farmer sowed the salt with an attachment on a grain drill for the purpose, by which, not working properly, some drills were salted and others not, making the barley field at harvest time present a rather ludicrous appearance as the salted drills were of a brighter color, taller and ripened
