IN MEMORIAM.

THOMAS NESBITT was killed in Colorado, March 22nd, by the caving in of an embankment. The deceased was a native of Richmond, Carleton County, N. B., aged twenty-one years. Far away from his childhood's home, By the rocky mountain's side; In the stranger's land his feet did roam, And the farewell tear was dried.

Yet oft he sighed for his native land, But checked the falling tears When his heart grew strong with the cheering hope Of joy in the coming years.

He thought of the hours when he'd return To the land he loved so dear, To greet the friends of his early youth And his parents' hearts to cheer.

But alas! that form shall no more be seen By the well loved cottage door,

For he sleeps the sleep in the stranger's land

That wakes to life no more.

And the loved ones mourn in cottage home

And around the hearths at twilight hour They miss that form so dear.

One form less in the throngs of earth,
One more we trust in heaven:
Where all shall meet with the ransomed ones, That rest on the promise given.

The only profusely Illustrated work on the Education of the Horseinthe World The only profusely Illustrated work on the Education of the Horse in the world. Containing nearly 600 pages of 150 full page engravings. Teaching everything connected with the feeding, fitting and doctoring of the horse in the most thorough manner, and illustrating every idea so plainly that any one can understand and practice the system with the same success as the Pro-Testimonials from Saint John Class, numbering 384.

To my Friends in WOODSTOCK and vicinity, I AM COMING to visit

you in person for the first time with my new system and STUD OF EDUCATED HORSES.

PROF. O. S. PRATT is the Greatest Educator of the Horse on Earth.

Will Open my ACADEMY at WOODSTOCK, from 5 to 10 days, commencing MONDAY, MAY 7th.

We, as members of your St. John Class, feel that we should not be doing our duty to you nor to our fellow citizens, as well as to the people of our Province generally, were we to allow you to depart from our City without placing on record among your numerous testimonials the high opinion we entertain for your popular and practical method of educating the horse without harshness or cruelty. After having thoroughly criticised your system, we have no hesitation in pronouncing it the best which has ever yet been offered to the public, and we believe it is destined to be universally adopted. It has proved itself to be sc practical, inexpensive and gentle in its operations that we believe no man or boy can afford to be without the knowledge which it offers, and we consider that we have been fortunate in having it placed within our reach. Each lecture and exhibition is worth many times what the whole course, including your valuable Book, "The Horse's Friend," has cost us; in fact we cannot properly estimate their value in dollars and cents. We therefore cheerfully recommend you and your system to the favourable consideration of the entire people in this Province; and ask them for the sake of that noble animal, the Horse, as well as for their own comfort and safety, not to lose the opportunity afforded them by your visit to this Province.
