OUR ENGLISH LETTER.

Liverpool, Eng., May 2, 1878. would not be so bad if our internal relations (I mean the relations betwixt employer and employed) were satisfactory. It is well known that dissatisfaction at home means insecurity abroad, and vice versa; and this dissatisfaction is being fomented by a class of rank radical writers, whose productions, when read, are enough to make the heart of every true Englishman, who honours his every true Englishman, who honours his every true Englishman, who honours his N. Y. every true Englishman, who honours his Queen and loves his country, swell with indignation. Upwards of 100,000 persons are out of work because they will not accept a country and times are out of work because they will not accept a country.—Thomas' Excelsion Eclecters and English Tweeds; New Mantle Cloths; Meltons, Victorias and Broad Cloths; Canadian and Union ment on Wednesday evening, in the basement of shall next week go to press on Thursday morn- ten per cent. reduction in their wages. One in price, and yet are in little demand. Has the late war or the rumors of war been the sole cause of the depression of trade? Or we might ask, is there any trade at all to be had, even by competition with other countries?—

We have hitherto been so accustomed to holding our own with foreign manufactures and pain and soreness in any part as welled neck, at St. Luke's church, Woodstock, May 9th, by Rev. Thomas Neales, Rector, William T. Reed of Fredericton, N. B. to Mary L. To the Electors of

VICTORIA COUNTY.

WILL be a Candidate at the ensuing general L election for the position of representative of Victoria in the House of Assembly. My acquaintance with the County of Victoria extends over a period of ten years, during which time I have visited every section of it, as well those which are unsettled as those which are settled, and have endeavored to inform myself fully as to its resources and requirements. The information I have thus acquired I have used as best I could to direct public attention to your County. The prosperity of the communities along the St. John depends in no small degree upon the development of the great agricultural and manufacturing facilities which your County possesses. The elements of wealth which Victoria contains are greater than those of any other interior County of New Brunswick. What you require is a representative whose objects in life are such that he will labor to identify him-
