The Carleton Sentinel.

SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1879.

SENTINEL Office, in Brick Building, directly opposite Post Office, up stairs.

On Dominion Day we enjoyed an experience which would have been an impossibility a year ago, and one which three years since even the then active manifestations of railway progress scarcely justified by anticipation. On the day mentioned, having breakfasted in Woodstock, a not late tea was taken at the new, comfortable and well kept hotel of Mr. Whitney, at Elmsdale, and a more delightful ride by rail could hardly be desired; certainly a more pleasant day for such an excursion could not be had anywhere. The railroad—narrow gauge—was in excellent order generally. The cars were new ones had just been added—ride early and run smoothly. The officials are attentive, obliging and prompt. There are several essential features to an enjoyable railroad trip, but when with the trip is made through a country such as that which this road passes, for the greater portion of the hundred and twenty miles, or so, intervening between Woodstock and the Little Falls of the Madawaska, on a July day, just warm and cool enough for comfort, then little more need be said.

Most of our readers know as to the character of the country along the river from Hartland to Andover; they are familiar with all its features of attractiveness; its native beauty and its continued stretch of improvement and cultivation.

From the Arkosk to Grand Falls more of wilderness prevails, awaiting settlement and development. From the falls to Edmundston one passes through an almost continuous settlement, enjoys most beautiful landscapes and sees a country which, under a more advanced system of husbandry than has prevailed there, might be the very garden of the Province.

With the railroad and other stimulating causes improvement is manifesting itself, and the future of the Madawaska country may be regarded as one of hope and promise. Edmundston, at the confluence of the Madawaska river with the St. John, is finely situated, and here the few years since we paid a previous visit, has made a vast change; so much so that when under the kind escort of Mr. Thorburn, M. P., we went out to view the town, the old landmarks were scarcely recognizable, and the new growth and recent improvements in the way of public and private buildings and the various of progress generally.

The new Court House, looking at its exterior, a commodious, substantial, and its purpose, a most becoming building. Here the Court Council had on this day held their annual session; a new session; that a new Council in a newly established Municipality could finish its half yearly labors in a day indicates that the members attend to business. Whether it was a legal session, being on a public holiday, is another question. When the proper program of business is completed, and the much praised new hotel there are added certain physical improvements and facilities for recreation and enjoyment of the scenery, which clergy must establish for that place a practical recognition on the part of summer tourists, then the district about will participate in the benefits, for those who go to the place will be attracted to it, and the place will be a place of resort, and the place will be a place of resort, and the place will be a place of resort.

We were greatly surprised on this trip to find, remembering the unpropitious weather of the season, the crops generally looking so healthy and promising. Even corn, which has had many chances for being feeble and yellow, looked of a good color and thrifty. The potatoes are growing well and may turn out a good yield, if the Colorado bug, which has, unmistakably, made its appearance, does not ruin the crop.

We judge that, with reasonably good weather, the prospects for a satisfactory harvest are vastly better than earlier in the season they were.
