Miscellaneous.

HER FATHER'S COACHMAN.—A radiant young fellow shook our hand with a vice-like grip yesterday, as he ejaculated in volcanic words : "Congratulate me! congratulate me! I am the happiest man this side of the Elysian fields. At last, at last! Why, I am a walking to triumph! What is it? Won a lottery prize? Faugh! She has consented—she has promised to marry me—the prettiest girl in Kentucky—the girl who jilted me seven times before she said yes. Five long years have I loved her. I wooed her ardently, tenderly, gallantly. I had money ; I was young ; I was not bad-looking. But she refused me. I sought honors and eminence in my profession ; I gained them ; I laid them at her feet ; she declined them. Seven separate times had I addressed her, and seven separate times had I been refused. I was in despair ; I was losing my own respect, and probably hers ; and I determined to quit, to go away, to look upon her face no more. I packed my trunk for Leadville. I started out to buy my ticket, when a plan flashed to me—a plan, a plan, a plan! I went back. I tried it. I won." "And the plan?"—"I hired myself to her father as a coachman."—Ex.

PAINT, PUTTY AND PIETY.—A lady writes to the Christian at Work :—"I wish you would say a word about putting one's religion into one's work. Last year I built a new house, and got a professing Christian man to paint it. He makes good prayers at the prayer-meetings, and says a good word of advice to the young. But he didn't fill the nail holes of the outer and upper trimmings with putty, and he didn't paint the top edge of the doors of the upper storey. He took care to slight his work where he thought it would not be discovered. But the nails were drawn out by the sun, causing a leak, so that his neglect in this direction was discovered ; then, having occasion to have the top of one door planed so it might shut—again his slighted work told its story. I have discounted that man's piety and prayers ever since. Perhaps the painter treated me as he did because I am a widow. Any way, I prefer Christians who will fill up the nail-holes with putty, and paint the tops of the upper doors!"

The man who don't advertise has his store hung around with shingles and pieces of barrel-heads, inscribed with lampblack, "Irish Pertaters," "Korn Meel," "Flower," "All kinds of kontury produce," "Kaikes and Kandies for sail here." He says, "There aren't no sens in noospaper advertizin' so long as a man is smart enuff to tend to his own business and kin stand at the door and holler the fellers in."

The Indianapolis News says that a ruralist seated himself at a restaurant table in the city the other day and began on the bill of fare. After keeping three waiters nearly an hour employed in bringing dishes to him, he called one of them to him, heaved a sigh and whispered, as he spread the bill of fare before him and pointed with his finger :—

"Mister, I've et to thar," and moving his finger down to the bottom of the page —"ef it ain't agin the rule I'd like to skip from thar to thar."

"Mother, this book tells about the angry waves of the ocean. Now, what makes the ocean so angry?" "Because it has been crossed so often, my son."

"It's all very well to talk about how the thermometer stands in the shade," remarked a gentleman with a boiled lobster colored face. "What I want to know is how it stands in the sun. That's the way I have to take it."

We are surrounded by dangers from the cradle to the grave ; and the only wonder, as an Irishman says, is that after making our first appearance in the former we should ever succeed in living long enough to reach the latter.

A stranger was strolling about Costello's tannery, and accosted Pat Daily, the bark grinder. "Is there a man about here with one eye by the name of Jerry McCarthy?" "What's the name of the other eye?" said Pat.

"And they were all talking so unkindly of you, dearest Louise, and"——"And what were they saying?" "Saying that you painted your face ; and I told them that it was untrue, and that your color was only erysipelas."

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

Is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Health, Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, re-establishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:—

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax or irregular habits, Bronchitis, Acute or Chronic Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

An endless chain of good effects is formed by

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites,

and we are safe in saying, from a long experience in medicine, its virtues are not possessed by any other combination, as the following will demonstrate.

IT IS ACCEPTABLE to palate and stomach

SUFFICIENTLY POTENT to insure decided benefit, yet harmless, however long its use may be continued. This characteristic is possessed by no other remedy.

IT ASSISTS DIGESTION and assimilation

IT VITILIZES THE BLOOD, supplying such ingredients as may be required.

IT RESTORES TONE to the nerves.

IT GIVES POWER of endurance and of concentration to the mind.

IT PROMOTES VIGOR in the organs which depend for health on the involuntary muscular action, viz : the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach and Genitals.

And unless afflicted with some disease involving ABSOLUTE ORGANIC LOSS, it will sustain the system until it reaches the age allotted to man by a beneficent Creator.

NO PERSON will be disappointed in the effect of FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES, who rigidly follows the directions.

Fellows' Hypophosphites.

INCEPTION.

The experiments which perfected this preparation occupied many months, and were instituted with a view of curing that insidious disease, and in order to supply the deficiencies in Hypophosphites already in use; for, although their nature was correct as to theory, their preparations were, owing to their imperfect organization, found wanting in practice.

While they caused the formation of fat and generated heat, they did not improve the blood. The tonic effect upon the nerves and muscles were circumscribed, and, owing to their diluted state, involving large doses, they were also too expensive.

The desiderata sought by Mr. Fellows, were:
A convenient, palatable remedy;
Unalterable by time;
Harmless, though used continuously, yet might be discontinued at any time without any ill effect.
Which would induce an appetite;
Strengthen digestion;
Promote assimilation;
Create healthy blood;
Strengthen the nerves and muscles;
Enable the subject to successfully combat disease;
And sufficiently economical for all.

All this has been indisputably attained. The success of the work is complete; and Fellows' Hypophosphites stands foremost amongst the remedies for chronic organic diseases, possessing properties to which no other medicines has ever aspired.

ABSTRACT EFFECTS.

Fellows' Hypophosphites, on being introduced into the stomach, unites with the food, and immediately enters the circulation, and, being perfectly miscible with the blood, speedily pervades every part of the system. Its effects are first declared by a pulse slightly increased in fullness and strength, a general exaltation of the organic functions, and exhilaration of the intellectual powers. Its specific influence is on the brain and nervous substance, increasing the activity of the absorbents, and renewing the blood, thus causing the healthy muscular formation so necessary in restoring the functions of the previously weakened organs.

Being them, a tonic of the nerveus and circulatory system, it follows that, when there is a demand for extraordinary exertion, its use is invaluable, since it supplies the waste through the circulation, and sustains the general system.

At no period of life is watchful care over the functions of the brain more requisite than during the acquisition of knowledge by the youth: plodding, persevering study requires a store of vigorous, nervous force, or the child many sink under the mental toil.

Stern necessity may compel the student to strain his powers beyond the dictates of prudence, and the early promise of excellence may be blighted thereby.

To such we recommend Fellows' Hypophosphites; it will not only restore the sinking patient, but it will enable the toiling student to preserve his mental and nervous standard without detriment.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good" though bearing a similar name, and of those who offer the cheaper priced article.

NOTE.—It is only the Independent, well-posted, and unselfish Physicians who can afford to prescribe this remedy. Experience has proved this. The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Price $1.50 per Bottle, $7.50 for six Bottles.

Our new patent which we now offer for the first time, adapted for any kind of raking, is the most simple and easily worked hand and horse dump ever put upon the market.

LACTO-PHOSPHATE OF LIME

This medicine can undoubtedly be used with greater success than any other remedy now known, in cases of Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Chronic Rheumatism, General Debility, Wasting Diseases of Children and Adults, and whenever it is necessary to increase the vital forces and build up the system.

Nearly every person that has taken any preparation of Cod-Liver-Oil, knows how very liable it is to disagree with them after a time; this is mainly due to the inability of the stomach (weakened by disease) to digest the full amount of the oil taken. To overcome this trouble we have added Pancreatine to our Emulsion, which not only assists in digesting the oil, but is an acknowledged remedy of itself in the treatment of Consumption.

In taking Mattison's Pancreatic Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Lacto-Phosphate of Lime, you receive the benefit of three of the best remedies known to science, in the treatment of any of the above diseases.

It is not a Patent Medicine, as we claim no secret in its composition, but every physician will be furnished with the formula by applying to our wholesale agent,
