THE LUTON HATMAKERS. MR. EDITOR,-It is pleasing to welcome Mr. Boyle back once more to the only subject which I propose to discuss with him, but it will not increase his character for veracity, to assume that he has had to follow me away from the main issue, for I had begun to think he had forgotten what we were to discuss. The burden of Mr. Boyle's last production is a proposition of such enormity, such glaring absurdity, that it would be entirely unworthy of refutation, but that it is also held so fair." by those who unfortunately hold the reins of power in this Dominion and County. This proposition is no more nor less than that the people of England may be made rich by load. ing them with taxes. That in the race for supremacy in mannfactures, the people of England would run more successfully if they communications in the Carleton Sentinel were well weighted. That especially the of late, over the names of E. M. Boyer, Esq, spindles and forges will work better, if the and J. W.
