WOODSTOCK, N. B., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1879.

Our Queen and Constitution.

Poetry.
That's my Boy.

Big blue eyes with roguish twinkle, Dimples over running riot, Busy tongue that's never quiet; Forehead fair, with never a wrinkle, Clustering hair 'so sunny brown, None a little snub, "his true."
That's my boy!

Fun and mischief never stopping; Teasing now for "pate and boots,
And a truly good that shoots!" Kisses on my cheek fast dropping—Bragging he of Jim his master, Till I cry, "O mercy, stop!"
That's my boy!

Never ending, still beginning;
Pockets full of dirt and crumbs; Crazy over horse and dog, Noise in all things ever winning;
Bragging he of Jim his master,
While I run for white cut plaster—
That's my boy!

Do you hear a fearful noise?
Do you see a burning smell?
Do you hear a curdling yell Low enough for twenty boys?
Do you hear, with all your prayers,
Some one tumbling down the stairs?
That's my boy!

So it goes—some pain, some pleasure!
Wonder, 'twixt fear and smile,
Will be the child's lot here, Joy and grief in quick measure?
Shall I cry in bitter sorrow,
In some dread, far-off to-morrow,
That's my boy!

Ab, no, no! Mother's eyes look far ahead,
And mine see, with proud pride,
By a gray-haired woman's side One, whom now that years have sped, Brave, yet gentle, is her stay,
One of whom she'll proudly say,
That's my boy!

Select Tale.
The Violet Flower.

On a low miserable cot in a small, dingy room, under the roof of a crumbling tenement, a woman was dying.
The shadows of night were fast falling over the little village situated in the Ar-denne, and the sufferer turned her glaring eyes from the window, and looked for a moment on the figure of a young man kneeling beside her.

"My son," the woman gasped, "listen to me, I am dying, and I have but a few words to say to you. I know it is a good medicine for the completion for our aged fathers and mothers, for it gives them quiet rest, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep."

"I did my best in all things," she went on, "but I will not forget me when I am gone? You will remember your duty always?"

"I shall remember as long as I live," she went on, "and you will never forget the last words of your mother, who gave you a murdered man among the men, as they separated to let a horseman advance to the centre of the column. He looked neither to the right nor left, but made straight for the platform, and dismounted within a few yards of the column, and he was shot dead."

"That is all I have to say to you, my son. I have just heard your whole story. If the life which you so freely offer to the memory of your mother, it was Bonaparte, hero of the Pyramids, who appeared before me."

"Without a word the 'little corporal' walked up to the platform, and placed himself directly in front of the disgraced man, 'Pierre Valore,' he said in his clear, pure voice, 'your crime has been clear to me only a short time. From yonder clump of trees I have just heard your
freely offer to the memory of your mother,
it was Bonaparte, hero of the Pyramids,

Concussion—For the cure of this distressing disease there has been no medicine yet discovered that can show more evidence of real merit than Allen's Lung Balm. This unexcelled expectorant for coughs, colds, and all diseases leading to it, such as Affections of the Throat, Lungs, and all diseases of the pulmonary organs, is introduced to the suffering public after its merits for the cure of such diseases have been fully tested by the Medical Faculty. The Balm is, consequently, recommended by the highest authorities, and is marked with its great success.

Georgetown, Demerara, January 17, 1873.
Gentlemen—I suffered for eight months with palpitation so that I could not do anything for myself. I called in Dr. Fortie and he recommended me to try Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills, and after using them four weeks, I was relieved of the trouble.—WILLIAM WIL-SON.

The uses to which Murray & Linnam's Florida Water is put, without exaggeration, he said to be universal. It is used in refined and cultivated society. It is recognized as the most refreshing and agreeable of perfumes for the handkerchief, the toilet, and the bath.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGES is, probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as Davis' Kidney Pills. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey, and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the elementary influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, Cholera, and Fever. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, &c. Sold by druggists generally.

Whooping Cough is successfully treated by separating the patients beyond hearing distance of each other, and by the employment of Fellows' Hypophosphites. Whooping Cough is a serious disease, so sympathetic a nature, that a paroxysm may be produced in one susceptible by simply hearing the cough of another person. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and ex-
by druggists generally.

An Eastern paper says: "Every man who goes into the lumber woods this winter should Lumbar and Pains-Expeller Pills. This little precaution may save months of labor and much suffering."

The exposure of the utter worthlessness of the large packs of horse and cattle powders has saved our people a vast sum. There is only one kind now known that are strictly pure and there are Sheridan's. Don't throw Mr. Gladstone has recently defined the principle of English Conservatism to be "a loyalty to the liberty of the people, only qualified by fear." The principle of English Liberalism, on the other hand, to be "a trust in the people's capacity for prudence."

The New York Sun tells of a singular case of recovery from insanity through an injury in the homeopathic asylum for the insane.
A male patient, twenty-four years old, when in a state of violent irritation, sprang up from his bed, caught hold of the iron railing, and swung himself with considerable force.
The fixture gave way, and the patient fell, striking his head against the stone pa-ment. Instantly he arose, walked out of the ward, and gave a clear account of the accident he had met with. He had, in fact, recovered his mind, and he was discharged from the asylum, and he was discharged from the external injuries to his scalp.

From time to time come and stories of the reverses caused by the failure of the Glasgow Bank. A few weeks since a young man commenced a business in the city, and he was a year the loss of £30,000 by the failure;
and by the last papers a young girl was charged with theft by her employer at Kelvington, where she had been employed for a long time, and who committed the theft to go food for her starving mother and two little children. Her father had been a substantial man in good position, and died of grief. The Charity Organization Society will provide for the family.

THE DEATH OF Our country is getting to be fearfully alarmed by the failure of the Glasgow Bank. A few weeks since a young man commenced a business in the city, and he was
a year the loss of £30,000 by the failure;
and by the last papers a young girl was charged with theft by her employer at Kelvington,
where she had been employed for a long time,
and who committed the theft to go food for
her starving mother and two little children. Her father had been a substantial man in good position, and died of grief. The Charity Organization Society will provide for the family.
