CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY CURES CATARRH

Thousands Applaud its Wonderful CURES. Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq.,

BROCKVILLE, ONT. DEAR SIR,—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true." I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your Agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite corred of that ailment, and have not used any since the like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. cured of that ailment, and have not used any since

A PUT-UP JOB IN MATRIMONY .- I have been a subscriber of the News Letter for the last ten years, said a "broke-up," ooking young man coming into this office yesterday and sitting down in front of the managing editor, "and I call upon it for

The editor looked rather pointedly at the clock, and asked what he could do for the visitor? "Why, I want you to hold up to public scorn and detestation a fellow called Mooney and a mean red-headed girl named Morrissey." "Scandal case, eh?" "A heap sight worse. You see I was engaged to be married to that girl-her name's Maria-and Dr. Stone was to hitch us up the first of the month, so I asked this mean cuss, Mooney, to be one of the groomsmen." "He consented, of course."

"Yon bet he did. You see, Mooney has a big black moustache and-and all that-and he's a good deal of a masher, as it were. He said he'd try to make it lively and pleasant for the bridesmaids.' "And did he?"

"Why, he actually made love to all four. Got the other groomsmen furious by ffirting with the whole lot. Told 'em around before and after the ceremony, for cash. and that they ought to meet and practice to get the thing in good running order. "Did they practice?" said the editor, laying down his pen. "Did they? Why, it was just disgusting the way they went on every evening. To see that villian Mooney pretend to steer down the aisle and back up against the chancel rail, and then, when the mock service was over, kiss and paw around the girls, would have made your hair K the people he when it is known that they raise a foot. Why, he actually began can obtain rissey girl.' "Made love to the bride, eh?" " Exactly; and she a-letting him do it -mind you. Well, yesterday they said they were going to have a final rehearsal that night, and to make the thing more perfect they intended to get Bings, the young divinity student, to read the service. And as I was going over to Oak land with a load of furniture for our new house, Mooney said he would officiate in

"That was kind of him." "But wait a minute. When I got back and called at Maria's house about eleven p. m., I found all the party sitting around the parlor looking very serious, except the bride who seemed kinder frightened · What's the trouble?' said 1 'What's happened?""

"Well, the fact is," says that cheeky Mooney; "there's been the most singular accident, and queerest mistake you ever heard of in your life. You see, we were rehearsing the service as usual, and I was a-holding Maria's hand just like this, when young Bings got sorter absentminded, so to speak, and the first thing we knew he pronounced us man and wife Gravel, Kidney Disease, Liver Com in the regular form, and he now says we

"But the worst of it was the way that false-hearted hussey took it. She said it was pretty hard, but what couldn't be cured must be endured, and that she supposed they couldn't get a divorce under anyway, and a lot of stuff like that." "Peared resigned to her fate, as it

"Exactly; and then Mooney chipped in with a lot of stuff about not crying over spilt milk, and said he'd take the 1879. furniture off my hands, and pay for the ring. Said he'd give his note for 'em. Cheek? Why that man has more gall than a pawnbroker's clerk, and I want you, Mr. Editor, to show him and his bigfooted, red-headed wife up the very worst way. Accident, indeed! Why it's the plainest put-up job I ever saw in the whole course of my life. Just let 'em have it in italics if you please, and I'll take 500 extra copies!"

The editor said he'd attend to it, and has since written to Mr. Mooney to say that a position as reporter was always open to him on his go-ahead journal. San Francisco News Letter.
