GRAVEL

MEDICINE!

A SURE CURE FOR

Gravel, Kidney Disease, Liver Complaint, and Diseases of the Urinary Organs.

$1.00 per bottle.

NO CURE, NO PAY.

Manufactured by M. MACKEY, FREDERICTON, N. B.

Is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Health, Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, re-establishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:—

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax or irregular habits, Bronchitis, Acute or Chronic Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

An endless chain of good effects is formed by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and we are safe in saying, from a long experience in medicine, its virtues are not possessed by any other combination, as the following will demonstrate.

IT IS ACCEPTABLE to palate and stomach.

SUFFICIENTLY POTENT to insure decided benefit, yet harmless, however long its use may be continued. This characteristic is possessed by no other remedy.

IT ASSISTS DIGESTION and assimilation.

IT VITILIZES THE BLOOD, supplying such ingredients as may be required.

IT RESTORES TONE to the nerves.

IT GIVES POWER of endurance and of concentration to the mind.

IT PROMOTES VIGOR in the organs which depend for health on the involuntary muscular action, viz: the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach and Genitals.

And unless afflicted with some disease involving ABSOLUTE ORGANIC LOSS, it will sustain the system until it reaches the age allotted to man by a beneficent Creator.

NO PERSON will be disappointed in the effect of FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES, who rigidly follows the directions.

Fellows' Hypophosphites.

INCEPTION.

The experiments which perfected this preparation occupied many months, and were instituted with a view of curing that insidious disease, and in order to supply the deficiencies in Hypophosphites already in use; for, although their nature was correct as to theory, their preparations were, owing to their imperfect organization, found wanting in practice.

While they caused the formation of fat and generated heat, they did not improve the blood. The tonic effect upon the nerves and muscles were circumscribed, and, owing to their diluted state, involving large doses, they were also too expensive.

The desiderata sought by Mr. Fellows, were:

A convenient, palatable remedy;
Unalterable by time;
Harmless, though used continuously, yet might be discontinued at any time without any ill effect.
Which would induce an appetite;
Strengthen digestion;
Promote assimilation;
Create healthy blood;
Strengthen the nerves and muscles:
Enable the subject to successfully combat disease;
And sufficiently economical for all.

All this has been indisputably attained. The success of the work is complete; and Fellows' Hypophosphites stands foremost amongst the remedies for chronic organic diseases, possessing properties to which no other medicines has ever aspired.

ABSTRACT EFFECTS.

Fellows' Hypophosphites, on being introduced into the stomach, unites with the food, and immediately enters the circulation, and, being perfectly miscible with the blood, speedily pervades every part of the system. Its effects are first declared by a pulse slightly increased in fullness and strength, a general exaltation of the organic functions, and exhilaration of the intellectual powers. Its specific influence is on the brain and nervous substance, increasing the activity of the absorbents, and renewing the blood, thus causing the healthy muscular formation so necessary in restoring the functions of the previously weakened organs.

Being them, a tonic of the nervous and circulatory system, it follows that, when there is a demand for extraordinary exertion, its use is invaluable, since it supplies the waste through the circulation, and sustains the general system.

At no period of life is watchful care over the functions of the brain more requisite than during the acquisition of knowledge by the youth: plodding, persevering study requires a store of vigorous, nervous force, or the child many sink under the mental toil.

Stern necessity may compel the student to strain his powers beyond the dictates of prudence, and the early promise of excellence may be blighted thereby.

To such we recommend Fellows' Hypophosphites; it will not only restore the sinking patient, but it will enable the toiling student to preserve his mental and nervous standard without detriment.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good" though bearing a similar name, and of those who offer the cheaper priced article.

NOTE.—It is only the Independent, well posted, and unselfish Physicians who can afford to prescribe this remedy. Experience has proved this. The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Price $1.50 per Bottle,
$7.50 for six Bottles.

Miscellaneous.

THE VICE OF TREATING.—If there is a human noble impulse or virtue perverted and abused worse than others by the Americans, it is that of generosity. And perhaps one of the very worst perversions of this beneficence may be found in that degenerate custom commonly known by the term "treating." Possibly its origin may be traced back to spontaneous generosity, but if so, how widely has it diverged from the first principles of the admirable virtue which gave it birth.

But who would have the effrontery to claim that it is a generous motive which prompts men to tempt their fellow-men? Strangely enough, he is sometimes called a warm-hearted, whole-souled man who leads his neighbor up to a bar and urges him to partake of that which may deprive him of situation, self-respect and reputation. Reflection does not improve the complexion of this worse than burlesque upon liberality, to the sad effect of which there are thousands of wretched monument to be seen in every large city.

Even though stripped of its ruinously injurious features, the custom of treating would yet be a ridiculous one. Imagine its application to the purchase of other commodities than liquor and cigars. Think how ludicrous would be the proposition of a young man to his companion, while they are promenading the pavement in the Arcade, of such an idea as this:

"Aw, come along, I say, and have a pair of spectacles with me; I want to wet this new hat."

What if one of a company of young gentlemen on the street should say:

"Now, boys, I want to set 'em up for the crowd; come in and have a chromo, or a bracket, or something with me!"

Yet which would be more valuable to a man and his family, chromos, brackets, and even spectacles, or liquor enough to make him drunk?

It is a lamentable fact that "treating" is a custom as purely American as it is ruinous in its effect. And yet, with this, as with many other injurious practices, people recognize and acknowledge their evil influence and power, but will not abandon or condemn them because they happen to be customs largely observed by those who have the name of being generous, and shunned by the stingy, hard-fisted class.—Rochester Democrat.

"Sam," said one little urchin to another—"Sam, does your school-master ever give you any rewards of merit?"—"I s'pose he does," was the reply; "he gives me a lickin' reg'lar every day, and says I merit two."

The Princess Louise calls him "Lorney" in her pleasant moods; but, when she gets up these cold mornings to build the fire and finds no kindling-wood split, she says, "You John George Edward Henry Douglas Sutherland Campbell, is that what I married you into the Royal Family for?" Then he wishes he hadn't forgotten the kindlings.

During the Russo-Turkish war there were two volunteers lying beneath their blankets, looking up at the stars in the sky. Said Jack: "What made you volunteer, Tom?" Replied Tom, "I had no wife, and I loved war." "What made you join the Turkish army, Jack?"—"Well," he replied, "I had a wife and loved peace, so I went to war."

"I should just like to see somebody try and abduct me," said Mrs. Smith at the breakfast table the other morning.—"H'm! so should I, my dear—so should I," said Mr. Smith, with exceeding earnestness.

He was a countryman and he walked along our busy thoroughfare and read a sign over the door of a manufacturing establishment, "Cast Iron Sinks." It made him mad. He said that "any fool ought to know that."

Said he—"Matilda, you are my dearest duck." Said she—"Agustus, you are trying to stuff me." She was too sage for him.

Will science please stand up and tell us why a girl who freezes to death every time she sweeps off the front steps can ride fifteen miles in a sleigh with nothing around her but some other girl's brother's arm, without even getting a blue nose?

Beautiful, beautiful silken hair, how I wonder what you aire, whether you belong to the head you adorn, or whether from another girl's head you were shorn.

"Mamma, can't we have anything we want." "Yes, my dears; but be careful and don't want anything you can't have.

Intelligent girls should marry farmers, because they are men of' culture—agriculture.

If second thoughts are best, it is wrong to make men pay damages for breaches of promise to marry.

"Sambo, what am your opinion of rats?" "Why, I think de one dat hab the shortest tail will get into de hole de quickest."

"Ours is none of your front-gate common matches," said she; "no, no; it was a regular high-toned parlor match."
