W. A. EVERETT,
No. 2 Connell's Brick Block.

Woodstock, Jan. 30, 1879.

Is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Health, Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, re-establishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:—

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax or irregular habits. Bronchitis, Acute or Chronic Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

An endless chain of good effects is formed by

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and we are safe in saying, from a long experience in medicine, its virtues are not possessed by any other combination, as the following will demonstrate.

IT IS ACCEPTABLE to palate and stomach.

SUFFICIENTLY POTENT to insure decided benefit, yet harmless, however long its use may be continued. This characteristic is possessed by no other remedy.

IT ASSISTS DIGESTION and assimilation.

IT VITILIZES THE BLOOD, supplying such ingredients as may be required.

IT RESTORES TONE to the nerves.

IT GIVES POWER of endurance and of concentration to the mind.

IT PROMOTES VIGOR in the organs which depend for health on the involuntary muscular action, viz.: the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach and Genitals.

And unless afflicted with some disease involving ABSOLUTE ORGANIC LOSS, it will sustain the system until it reaches the age allotted to man by a beneficent Creator.

NO PERSON will be disappointed in the effect of FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES, who rigidly follows the directions.

Fellows' Hypophosphites.

INCEPTION.

The experiments which perfected this preparation occupied many months, and were instituted with a view of curing that insidious disease, and in order to supply the deficiencies in Hypophosphites already in use; for, although their nature was correct as to theory, their preparations were, owing to their imperfect organization, found wanting in practice.

TUBERCULAR CONSUMPTION,

While they caused the formation of fat and generated heat, they did not improve the blood. The tonic effect upon the nerves and muscles were circumscribed, and, owing to their diluted state, involving large doses, they were also too expensive.

The desiderata sought by Mr. Fellows, were:
A convenient, palatable remedy;
Unalterable by time;
Harmless, though used continuously, yet might be discontinued at any time without any ill effect.
Which would induce an appetite;
Strengthen digestion;
Promote assimilation;
Create healthy blood,
Strengthen the nerves and muscles;
Enable the subject to successfully combat disease;
And sufficiently economical for all.

All this has been indisputably attained. The success of the work is complete; and Fellows' Hypophosphites stands foremost amongst the remedies for chronic organic diseases, possessing properties to which no other medicines has ever aspired.

ABSTRACT EFFECTS.

Fellows' Hypophosphites, on being introduced into the stomach, unites with the food, and immediately enters the circulation, and, being perfectly miscible with the blood, speedily pervades every part of the system. Its effects are first declared by a pulse slightly increased in fulness and strength, a general exaltation of the organic functions, and exhilaration of the intellectual powers. Its specific influence is on the brain and nervous substance, increasing the activity of the absorbents, and renewing the blood, thus causing the healthy muscular formation so necessary in restoring the functions of the previously weakened organs.

Being them, a tonic of the nervous and circulatory system, it follows that, when there is a demand for extraordinary exertion, its use is invaluable, since it supplies the waste through the circulation, and sustains the general system.

At no period of life is watchful care over the functions of the brain more requisite than during the acquisition of knowledge by the youth: pleading, persevering study requires a store of vigorous, nervous force, or the child may sink under the mental toil.

Stern necessity may compel the student to strain his powers beyond the dictates of prudence, and the early promise of excellence may be blighted thereby.

To such we recommend Fellows' Hypophosphites; it will not only restore the sinking patient, but it will enable the toiling student to preserve his mental and nervous standard without detriment.

NOTE.—Be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good" though bearing a similar name, and of those who offer the cheaper priced article.

NOTE.—It is only the Independent, well posted, and unselfish Physicians who can afford to prescribe this remedy. Experience has proved this. The highest class medical men in every large city, where it is known, recommend it.

Miscellaneous.

A PARIS STORY.—HOW A GOOD YOUNG MAN SWINDLED A TAILOR.—I—A gentleman irreproachably dressed goes into a confectioner's store and says to the gentlemanly confectioner, 'I want a hundred and fifty of the nicest cream-tarts you can make.'

A hundred and fifty! That is a pretty large order; do you want them at once?'

'Within three hours at the latest.'

'I can have them ready in that time. Ahem! It is customary to ask a deposit on such orders—say ten francs.'

II.—About two hours later a gentleman irreproachably dressed goes into a tailor's shop across the way from the pastry cook's and asks to be shown some overcoats. He selects one of the nicest and asked the price.

'One hundred twenty-five francs, sir.'

'Very well. I will take it. I have some money to collect at the confectioner's across the way. I presume you have no objection to letting one of your men come over with me to get it.'

'Certainly not. A worthy man is my friend, Mr. Puff.'

III.—Into confectioner's enter irreproachably dressed gentleman now wearing an overcoat and tailor's young man. The confectioner greets the former with the respectful friendliness due to a good customer.

"Ah Puff, I've called 'round for that 150. You promised to have them for me at 2.30."

"You shall have them in five minutes, sir."

"Very well. I have to go round the corner to see a man. You will give this young man 125 of the 150. I will return and get the remaining 25 myself in a few moments, sir."

"With pleasure, sir."

IV.—Five minutes after a confectioner gives the tailor's young man 125 cream-tarts—and a bill for balance thereon 21 francs 25 centimes.

One minute thereafter a confectioner and a tailor's young man are scouring the neighborhood in search of an irreproachably dressed gentleman with a new overcoat, whom the great city with its ceaseless bustle and confusion has swallowed up as a yellow dog swallows an oyster cracker.

BREAKING IT GENTLY.—A boy, apparently very much agitated, rushed into a house and said to the lady:—

"I don't want to alarm yer, but I've got big news. The man sent me up from the livery stable to tell yer."

"Good heavens! what is it?"

"Why, you know yer little boy Aleck, what the man can't keep outen in the livery stable round the corner?"

"Yes, well?"

"I told Aleck just now not to go inter the stable among the horses, but he would not mind me."

"Oh, dear—what has happened?"

"He said he wanted to see what a mule would do when yer tickled its heels with a straw."

"Oh, heavens! gasped the lady, and clung to the mantle for support."

"Well, sir, yer boy Aleck got a straw sneeked up behind a sorrel mule, tickled him on the heels, and—"

The lady started for the door.

"And the blame critter never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never so much as switched its tail. It's a mighty good thing for Aleck that he didn't, too; and I thought I would come up and tell yer, ma'am.'

And he dodged out at the side entrance.

BAROMETRICAL BREECHES.—"Y-a-a-s it is a little miste this morning," said a grizzled veteran, seating himself in the barber's chair, "an' I wouldn't be surprised ef we'd have a long spell of wet weather. I rember in '52 goin' from San Antone, down in Texas, to Santa Fe. Druv a team. Just as we left San Antone the rainy season sot in. Well, it rained 'bout forty days and forty nights with an occasion shower between times, an' it mout be considered unpleasantly miste with a man without a numbrellar. I had on a pair a' buckskin pants, and you'd better believed they stretched. Every day I had to cut off a nich or two, from the bottom to keep 'em down to regulation pattern. Comin' back to Santa Fe things shifted and the dry season sot in. You should a' seen them breeches shrink. They was as delicate as a sensitive plant. Day by day they faded away until I pranced into San Antone, where a brass band an' the mayor an' the chivalry were waitin' to receive me. I blush to remark there was nothing left but the thinest kind of a shoe string."—Indianopolis News.

And be convinced that we have the best Mowing Machine in the market. See what two of our best Farmers say about the Walter A. Wood Mowing Machine.

JACKSONTOWN, June 5, 1879.

MESSRS. SMALL & FISHER:

Dear Sirs.—The Wood Mower I bought of you last season, gave me good satisfaction. I cut about seventy-five acres of grass, part of it very rough and stony. The machine did its work well every time. It is the easiest machine on a team I ever saw, and I believe it will be a durable machine.

Yours, truly,

WILLIAM KITCHEN.

WATERVILLE, June 7, 1879.

SMALL & FISHER:

Gents.—In reply to yours of the 4th inst., asking how I liked the Walter A. Wood Mowing Machine that I purchased from you last season, will say that it is the best machine I have ever used. It is satisfactory in every respect. I have used the Warrior and Buckeye Machines (both good Machines) but I must say I think the Walter A. Wood beats them all. I am satisfied one horse can mow with it as easily as two can with any other machine made. You can say just what you please in its favor and I will endorse it.

Yours, truly,

LUKE DEWITT.
