

and supported by Wilson, Lockhart, and many others equally well known, and "the pages of the book are filled with the most interesting and valuable information of the times." Accounts of many of the contributors are given as well as notes on Magazines in general.

EVOLUTION.
In 1824, Dugmore commenced experimenting. In 1839, he gave to the world the process of making Daguerotypes. By patient industry, he has evolved into the perfect picture of the present. He who views the fast fading pictures of his ancestors, and compares them with the almost living and lasting photographs of today must acknowledge an advancement. If an other science, in its infancy, is to be a success, it cannot be a success unless it is a success in the past. The doubts and uncertainties of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's time be set aside, and an equal improvement granted in the science of medicine? Must the ability of the student and experienced physician be doubted, simply because the negligent and inexperienced fail? But a few years since, the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women were regarded as incurable. Now Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a cure for a positive guarantee. Ladies, afflicted, and who wish to avoid painful examinations and useless local treatment, and employ a medicine that is scientifically prepared, that is chemically pure, that is regularly graduated in strength, and that will never disappoint you in its action, use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

A Leading Medical Authority says: "Consumption is essentially a disease of degeneration and decay. So it may be inferred that the treatment for the disease, part should be of a sustaining and invigorating character—nutritious food, pure air, with such varied and moderate exercise as it is the strength will bear, the soothing influence of bright sunshine and agreeable society, and cheerful social and occupation aided by a judicious use of medicinal tonics and stimulants, are among the means best suited to restore the defective functions and sources of frames prone to decay."

Robinson's Phosphated Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Lacto-Phosphate of Lime by its gently stimulating and nutritive tonic properties is adapted in an eminent degree to the office of restoring the "defective functions and structures," as the number of cases in which it has been so successfully used, together with its short record of a few months that has placed it in the front rank of proprietary remedies will fully testify.

Prepared solely by J. H. Robinson, Pharmaceutical Chemist, St. John, N. B., and for sale by Druggists and General Dealers. Price $1.00 per bottle; six bottles for $5.00—25¢.

PASCOOT, ONT., 24th of June, 1878.
Mr. T. GRAHAM, Dear Sir:—I have long desired to add my testimony to the many others who have regarding the efficacy of your Pain Expectorant, and have only been deterred from doing so long ere now by the difficulty of saying all that I have found it good for in two compass of a letter. I have used it in every kind of pain from a mosquito bite to severe inflammation, and have always found it to give immediate relief. On several occasions suffering from severe pain on the left side, which is almost chronic, and when I otherwise would have had to go to bed and submit to medical treatment, an application of your valuable remedy has made me fit for work in an hour's time. I take pleasure in recommending it when I see any one suffering, and hope for the sake of humanity that its use may be universal. I shall only be too happy to know that you make use of this in any way you think best.

I remain in gratitude yours
THOS. A. ANDERSON.
Editor and Publisher of the Prescott "Plaindealer."
