Temperance Column,

This column, by special arrangement is under the control of the Executive of the Grand Lodge, I.O.G.T., of New Brunswick. All notices in it may be regarded by the Lodges and Deputies as official.

OFFICIAL NOTICE. - All communications relating to Constitutional questions, must be addressed to James Watts, G. W. C. T., Woodstock, N. B.

G. W. Secretary.

What a grim joke it would have been had there been exhibited at St. John in the re cent Exhibition there among the products of the soil and the sea; of skill and taste of the artizan's browned hands and of womens fair fingers, a w sample specimens of the fruits of the liquor traffic. More remarkable would it be if among the other processes illustrated, that of making drunkards, of creating misery, of achieving a fabric with warp of demori lazation and woof of want and woe, hunger and rags, had been presented to the startled gaze of thousands who think little and appear to care less about the many manufatories of such productions in constant and active operation in their midst. They would see the usual order of things reversed. Genius, skill, industry take the roughest, rudest, material afforded by mine or plant or veget able, and lo! from beneath their hands come productions of beauty and utility. They begin at the bottom and work up to perfection. Not so with the liquor traffic, which takes for its raw material the consummate off spring of Deity's creative power and from that the noble lineaments and noble brain the manly physique and the giant intellectby the application of its forces produce the drunkard-with all of terrible cousequence, all of attendant debasement, which that term

REMEMBERING the especial purpose to which this column is devoted, it would be well that short communications from a member or officer of each Lodge should find a place here. These communications must necessarily be short but in a very few lines, the general condition of the Lodge and the state of pubhie sentiment in the locality could be given,

PROVINCIAL WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN TEM-PERANCE UNION.—The morning of the 7th was occupied in presenting topics for consideration by the delegates from different Unions. The first contained in the following preamble and resolution, moved by Mrs. Jewellery, Phillips of Fredericton, after some discussion passed unanimously :-

Conscious of the need of more knowledge concerning the physical and moral ruin entailed upon humanity by the use of intoxicating drinks, and desirons of increasing in every possible way the public sentiment in favor of Temperance, and feeling that one principal way in which this double object may be reached is by instructing the childmen and youth in the science of Total Abstin-

Therefore resolved, That the women's Christian Temperance Union of N. B. respectfully ask the Board of Education that Temperance Text Books be introduced into our schools, and furthermore would take the liberty to state that in the opinion of this organization Miss Coleman's Juvenile Temper-erance Manual and Dr. Richardson's Temper-ance Lesson Book are works admirably ad-

The session was an interesting one and corcluded with a prayer meeting and in the evening by a public meeting in the Reform Club Hall, presided over by His Worship.

the Mayor. Sun.

Mr. Editor,—I have noticed by different articles in your paper that although the temperance question has been waning for the last few months, it is showing symptoms of revival; its supporters in Carleton County are exerting themselves with renewed energy in its behalf. They who are engaged to-day working for the cause of temperance in Carleton are the very essence of the temperance men and women, from the fact that the question for the past few years has been boiled and boiled, and those who had not the cause at heart have evaporated, descrited their regiments. But thanks to Him whose power is omnipotent there still remains dotted over Carleton County little bands of staunch and consistent total abstainers, who are bound to conquer or die in the field. Although the traffic has been crippled by the Canada Temperance Act, there still remains a great work to do. Shall we who profess to love our country not lend a helping hand?

As we work a staffed that intemperance is an action of the past few years has been crippled by the Canada Temperance Act, there still remains a great work to do. Shall we who profess to love our conntry not lend a helping hand?

CAPITAL, ------$1,000, 00-Some people say we have a League, let them do this work. It is true we have the Canada Temperance Act, which has been the means Condell's Block. of doing a great amount of good, but it requires the individual influence of every right minking man and woman in the country in JAS. B. FORGAN, order to execute the work for which it has order to execute the work for which it has been designed. There have been some in this County who have fought bravely and unceasingly to suppress this evil; they have stood side by side facing the adversaries of the temperance question when the battle waged the fiercest; they have seen the deserter slip from the ranks when his assistance was most needed; to-day they call tor help. Let us who have never exerted ourselves in this matter buckle on the temperance armor and come to the rescue. Is it not a question

GOODS! and come to the rescue. Is it not a question that every true patriot should have an interest in? What is the use of saying it is impossible for us ever to have a Prohibitory Law? Some people once thought it impossible to abolish American slavery, but the evil grew to such an extent that no amount of sophistry could conceal its revolting features and the American people rose in their might and swept forever from their land that remnant of barbarism. Let us with the same burning enthusiasm present a united front to the supporters of this nefarious traffic; bring to bear on them from the pulpit, the platform and the press, such expressions of denunciation as will make them tremble because of their connection with this iniquitous evil. Now the long winter evenings are at hand, on we not originate some plan by which we can strengthen the advance of the temperance army by organizing ourselves together in a tie of brotherly union; by our unfluence we will be brotherly union; by our influence we might lend such aid as would

Says the Archbishop of Canterbury "There is one dreadful evil overspreading Woodstock, Octobe 8 1880 the whole land, which makes havec of our workmen-the evil of intemperance. SHERIFF'S SALE. erance Manual and Dr. Richardson's Temperance Lesson Book are works admirably adapted for this purpose.

Topics:—The importance of Juvenile work in our Union—The propriety of obtaining a lady lecturer—The best manner of keeping the membership—The preparing of papers upon the subject of Temperance to be read at our next meeting.

The afternoon session was fully occupied in taking up these subjects, each one eliciting earnest and feeling remarks. The question: How we should retain our membership? Was answered by Mrs. DeWolf of Brooklyn:—If our hearts are warm in the cause we will fill our places; our dependence is in a higher power.

A resolution, moved by Mrs. Sampson, touching the question of the use of fermented wines at the Lord's Table and approving the use of unfermented wine, with a recommendation that the subject be presented to the different Christian bodies in Convention was fully discussed and unanimously adopted.
