In our experience while at the superabundance of talk, still this talk is on pointed a Finance Committee.

Notwithstanding the fierce storm which prevailed on Tuesday evening, the attendance at St. Luke's Church school room was large. The lecturer of the evening, Rev. G G. Roberts, A.M., treated his subject, " An cient Mariners," in a masterly manner, as we should naturally expect from the scholarly attainments of the Rev. gentleman. We have not space further to refer to the lecture than to say while it was of a character to suit every literary taste, it must have been of especial interest to classical students. The other portions of the programme were: A duett, "A voice from the waves," Mrs Neales, Mrs. Baker; Solo, "The Scotch mother's letter to her son," Mrs. Wetmore; Bourne, Wetmore and Kerr; Reading. Wetmore, Mrs. Merritt, Miss Connell, Messrs Bourne, Wetmore, Kerr, somprised the Pinafore company. Miss Alice Connell presided at the organ, and the music, reading, &c.,
