It is, perhaps, not surprising that, in a time marked, as a the present, by a spirit SELLING AT COST of unrestful seeking for novelty, some should ask for something new on this subject of Temperance. It s not strange that a theme such as this should be worn, in a sense, somewhat threadlare, when it it remember ed that it is, saveone, the oldest topic that the world and man has discussed. Our venerable ancestor Nah, while yet the solemnities of the ark and the escape from the pre vailing flood were fresh upon him, delivered, by his own submission to the tyranny of drink, the first address on temperance, from that primative test erected within the first vineyard, his audience the ages that have succeeded him. And down through all the historic records, sacred and profane, and thickly strewn are practical, and elequent appeals against intemperance and in favor of that virtue which it is the privilege of our Order to preserve, the virtue of abstinence. When a subject has been thus the theme of so much thought, so much discussion, little wonder that in its presentation to-day it is difficult to spice it with the flavor of nevelty ity. Such change in the manner of showing the character and associations of the rice as may come from the peculiar temperament and manner of thought of him who speaks or writes of the subject there may be but the picture, wherever presented and by whomsoever, still retains and must retain the same general features. And still while the evil is old and the form of appeal against it old, it is still as fresh and new in its individual operation as when it covered the person of the old patriarch with shame. And while the evil retains vitality, and while it continues to ashumanity must continue to use the weapons | Brunswick - All the right, title, claim and demand which Francis McCarron had on the 27th day of Januat hand, however old or battered, in defence of right and against the wrong. The very antiquity that surrounds our cause gives it dignity; its history, its ample records afford resources available for use today; resources that afford if not now yet powerful weapons in the discussion of this A. JAIL CHAPLAIN ON DRINK — Before a crowded audience at Christ Church Schools,

Biackfriars, the Rev. J. W. Hosley, Chaplain of her Majesty's Prison, Cherkenwell, delivered an address on "Rays from a Prison Lamp." He said that one of the rays from a prison lamp showed them that three-fourths of all the crime in the country came from drinking habits, which was proved—as far as London was concerned—by the police reurns.

Recently, in the course of a week, 148 women were brought to Westminster Prison, and of these 78 had to attribute their position to drunkenness. The prisons of London cost £80,000 a year, but if there were no drunkenness Holloway, Newgate and Westminister might be pulled down, and Clerkenwell Primight be pulled down, and Clerkenwell Prison would suffice for all the prisoners in London. He argued that it was shown that drink was not a necessity of life by the fact that hard and moderate drinkers had their drink absoluted stopped in prison, and at once. And the prisoners he had to deal with were not wicked people, for he had under his charge clergymen, lawyers. doctors, and last year two baronets—all of whom agreed that alcohol was not a neessity of life, and were astonished how little they missed it. Another ray from the prison lamp was the fact that whereas the death rate of London averaged 21 per 1.000, that of the whole of the London 21 per 1,000, that of the whole of the London 21 per 1,000, that of the whole of the London prisoners was only 12 per 1,000. There was no such place for long life and good health as the prisons of England. There were actually women who would have been dead from drink years ago but that they got into prisons now, comparatively. He had asked an explanation of that some years ago, and was told that neonle were saving up for "a was told that people were saving up for "a good drink Christmas." How full would the prisons be a month later! After concent. cash discount; cluding his address with an exhortation to Sizes, at 20 per cent. cash discount; his hearers to adopt temperance principles,
Mr. Horsley was accorded a warm vote of Youths' Reefers at $3 50;

Cost of Spirits and Beer.—The profit on the sale of whisky by retail is enormous. There are in a barrel of whisky 31 gallons. At retail there are 64 drinks in a gallon, and 1,984 drinks in a barrel; cost per gallon, say $2.50. This makes the cost of 31 gallons $77.50, and 1,984 drinks at 10 cents a drink are $198.40. Deduct the cost, $77.40, and it leaves of profit for one barrel of contract the cost of the cos and it leaves of profit for one barrel of whiskey, $120.90. If a saloon keeper can sell four barrels a month he receives $583.60 expenses $1,500, and it leaves a net profit some $800,000,000 a year. This is an enormous sum for drink! And not a dollar of this vast expenditure adds anything to the physical, mental, or moral well being of our family, but creates misery and evil beyond the power of any pen to describe or any imagination to conceive. And yet we have this fas to console us; There are not as much nt spirits consumed now, per capita, as fifty years ago. The consumption of beer and ale is greater .- Exchange.

tues of MAGNETIC INFLUENCE, it will therefore be found of surparaing value in all Nervous Diseases, such as Tic-Doloureux, Neuralgia, and all those complaint which arise from derangement of the Nervous System. By its constant supply of Magnetism, it subdues those complaints, equalizes the Magnetic Current, balances the circulation, removes all spasmodic affections, and aliays all Nervous Irritation.

It is without a rival as a remedy, as it immediately supplies Magnetic Force to every part of the feeble and prostrate body. It is used with the most astonishing success from the start. As soon as its use is begun all aches and pains must disappear as rapidly as water quenches flame.

It is so penetrating that you get the benefit of every drop as soon as applied, so great is its power. It does not stay on the surface like a grease spot, but is absorbed by the powers and carried at once to the seat of disease, expelling the pain instabily. the pain instantly.
