A GOOD THING FROM THE STATES .- In this age of quackery, it is consoling to dis-cover that there is something solid in existence, and that, though there are vendors who lie most cheerfully about there wares there are others who tell the truth and allow time to test the merits of what they offer for sale. As year after year rolls over, the frauds and the shams sink away out of sight in the pools and Corasses of obscurity, while what is really good and true stands boldly forth all the granter for its age and solidity. Thus while within the present decade thousands of patent medicines, puffed at one time to inflation, have shrunk before the test of analysis, St. Jacobs Oil has bravely borne the strain, and is to-day renowned all over the world for its famous curative powers. It the world for its famous curative powers. It is truly one of the phenomena of the age we live in. The sale of this article is incredible. It is to be four all over the civilized world and in a good many places which are not civilized—for, unfortunately, the bones of sorrowing man are racked and ache with pain rowing man are racked and ache with pain no matter what region he inhabits—and we believe it is yet destined to be found in every house, and to supercede the many nostroms which still remain abroad to rob and defraud humanity of its money and its health. The firm of A. Vogeler & Co., Baltimore, spend half a million dollars yearly in advertising St. Jacobs Oil, and hence we may guess at the full extent of their enormous business. It is truly marvelous, or would be, did we know the circulation of this inestimable.

The mean time we are opening an immense stock of

A small sensation was created here on Wednesday morning when it became known that during the night the Provincial Museum, situated in the upper story of Dominion situated in the upper story of Dominion building, had been robbed of two valuable gold specimens. Prof. D. Honeyman, who has charge of the affairs of the museum, closed the place at the usual hour the previous evening, and between that time and the hour at which it was opened next morning the robbery took place. The gold was only recently purchased by the Government, and was kept in an iron box, which, strongly locked, had been placed under a desk usually occupied by Mr. Honeyman. It consisted of two bars, together valued at between twelve and thirteen hundred dollars, and came from occupied by Mr. Honeyman. It consisted of two bars, together valued at between twelve and thirteen hundred dollars, and came from the well-known Rose lead at Montague, in this country. The box was found to be forced open, but though it contained other valued at least on the stingle special grades at part of the dead is unknown, as when Mr. Honeyman arrived in the morning he did not observe that the door or its lock hid hoen tampered with. What adds to the daring aspect of the robbery is the fact that a man is both night and day continually on the watch shout the building. Detectives are now searching for a clue to the thisf, but have not yet been successful.—Holface Ec.

During the Guiteau trial on Wednesday the assassin said: "On Wednesday after the resignation Conkling was feeling very blue, when suddenly it came over me like a flash that if the President was removed all would be well. It kept coming to me every day. At first I was horrified, but I kept thinking and thinking until I knew it was inspiration. I knew the Lord had employed me, because He always employs the best material, and He knew I had the courage to do it. Then, too, I felt the Lord wanted me to do it in order to advertise my book, I kept praying to the Lord to intercept my act if it was not intended to be. I have never since had not a doubt of my divine inspiration and that the act was necessary to save the country." During the Guiteau trial on Wednesday

An iron mine, of some considerable worth, has been discovered at Milford Haven, Guysboro' Co., Nova Scotia. A large quantity of ore was unearthed, and specimens shipped to the Londonderry Iron Co Works, where it was burnt out with excellent results. A New York Company of speculators have taken hold of the lead, and are making every prepartion to commence work next Merch.

The official investigation into the accounts of the Bank of P. E. I. by Messrs. Fyche and Smith of the Bank of Nova Scotia is now completed. Nothing new of any importance has been brought to light by the examination. It is now generally admitted that though the Bank's capital and rest will be lost, and though it may be necessary to make a call on the shareholders, the depositors and note-holders will suffer no loss. The Directors are busy valuing assets and collecting outstanding accounts preparatory to a meeting of the shareholders of the Bank.—Charlotte fown Patriot.
