dwelling house more attractive by the addition ing such names as President Porter, of Yale Coldwelling house more attractive by the addition of a new and neat verandah.

A new dwelling house has been erected during this fall by Wm. Briggs, Esq., (our central blacksmith) which is nearly ready for occupancy. The concerning connection with the Sabbath School was held in the F. C. B. meeting house yesterday afternoon. The house was crowded to its attractive by the addition ing such names as President Porter, of Yale College, late George S. Hillard, of Boston, Bishop Huntington, of N. York, late Bishop McFarland, of Providence, R. I., late Prof. Henry, of Washington, D.C., and Rev. Dr. Palmer, of New Orleans.—43

FOUND—the evening of the Episcopal Sabbath School Picnic, a Child's Jacket. The finder can have the same by proving property and payto its utmost capacity, and the concert as a whole, was a grand success. True religious principles characterized this concert throughout Woodstock, Oct. 17, 1881—1i-43 the entire entertainment, while though disinteresting to some, was highly appreciated by the majority of those present. The programme was too lengthy to give here, bat the following recitations: "On the death of a loved one," by Mrs. W. H. Yerxa; "To dare and not to dare," by Miss Hattie Gibson; "The child's great sorrow," by Miss Minnie Yerxa, and "Going to church," by Miss Minnie Brooks were well rendered. Good music was discoursed by the choir, Mrs. M. Q. Shaw, presiding at the organ. During the entertainment, a sleeper, under the floor broke, the report of which caused a lady to faint THURSDAY, OCT. 27, but as the result was not serious we will not enter into particulars. At the close an interesting and enthusiastic address was given by Rev. S. E. Gurrie, on "Gather up the fragments," which was very appropriate and highly appreciated. After the address, a song, "Sabbath Tickets - Admission, 10 cents; Tea 25 cents. Proceeds towards the Building Fund of St. Schools must have their concerts," by Misses

The majority were engaged on the upper floor.

Men and women rushed to the windows crying frantically to the crowd below to save them. It was proposed by the crowd to form a square in the street and catch them as they leaped, but before anything could be done a young woman leaped from the fifth story. It seemed that every bone in her body was broken for she never breathed again.

Кокомо, Col, , Oct. 14.—A fire broke out in the Summit House, at 7 o'clock last evening, by the explosion of a lamp. The flames spread rapidly until 10 o'clock, when they had consumed every house within reach, Less than 20 houses are left standing. The fire communicated to the powder magazines, causing several terrific explosions. About eighty families are homeless and destitute, The loss is over $400,000; insurance light. Whiskey was free, and hundreds of men infuriated.

EIGHT MONKS MURDERED.—A shocking murder, says the St. James Gazette, was committed a fortnight ago at Varanyo-Selo, in Hungary. The monastery, which was in-habited by eight monks who were believed to be very wealthy, was attacked by brigands, but an alarm having been given, a body of soldiers came to the rescue. The brigands endeavored to barricade themselves in the monastery, and exchanged several shots with the soldiers, who were several hours before they could force an entrance. When they did get in they found the monks lying gagged on the floor, but could find no trace of the brigands. After the monks had been set at liberty they informed their deliverers that the brigands had escaped by an underground passage leading from the cellar to the forest. The soldiers at once searched for the passage, while the monks went to the chapel to give thanks for their delivery. The soldiers, having explored the cellar and having failed to find the door of the passage, eight monks in a small room, and the mystery was then solved. The brigands, seeing that they could not escape, had murdered the monks and hidden their bodies in this room, having first stripped them of their clothes and put them on themselves. They
