NEVER was truer sentiment uttered by man than that attributed to Shakespeare, when he says :—

'The character of mercy is blessed,
It blesseth him who gives him who takes."

No argument is necessary to prove the facts stated in this text, when we contemplate the two characters, the giver and the receiver. Few men have lived, and those inside the pale of even civilized society, have not in some sense been contributors to their fellows, whether in the circumscribed generosity such as marked the widow's mite, or up to the larger gifts which affluent men in their blessings to those whose recipients; and of these givers all have had that delightful sensation of the inner consciousness that always rewards those who moved by proper motives, relieve in any degree the necessities of the worthy. And so, by words, can tell the emotions of those to whom in, perhaps, the moment of direst want comes the benison of an unexpected relief.

There are forms of pity in this world in which there is, alas! much misery that money can relieve—wide for which gold is an infallible salve and restorer. But there are other forms in which charity, to be successful, must be charity of kind words and of helpful acts.

We who are enrolled members of that far extended community known as Good Templars, find urgent calls at times upon our pockets, but these appeals come to us rather as members of generality than a specially constituted brotherhood. But to us there are ever coming up appeals strong and eloquent, as appeals from miserable victims of appetite—the individual and direct victims, as well as those upon whom is entailed participation in the misery from their connection with the direct victims—as only such can be strong and eloquent.

As the poor, so the victims of inebriation are ever with us. Appeals to us for relief come borne upon the breezes of the night and reach us in the cabins. They come from the poor tottering drunkard on our streets; from the poor drunkard bed-fellow of the uncleanness of the gutter; from the poor drunkard writhing, struggling in the devilish chains of Delium Tremens; from the poor drunkard given over to his bonds and from the poor drunkard having left just enough glimmering occasion to understand how desperate his condition is, how black and deep and awful is the gulf that yawns to receive him. And these appeals come from the poor wife and children in their home, where desolation and despair, hunger and cold are the only heritage. And, too, appeals in behalf of these bondaged ones come from the graves where sleep the long line of victims immolated on the shrine of this most destructive appetite.

It is our obligation to hear these appeals, and hearing them to go out on a mission of relief. To close our ears or to hear unheeding is to violate that moral responsibility expressed and understood in and when we assumed the position of membership in the I. O. G. T.

To relieve the present distress; to fight the battle of total abstinence and of prohibition, is a fight to which we are called. Let the year be begun with a new girding on of firm resolve, and out into the battle field let us go, truth our watchword, the rescue of our fellow men the benignant aim of our action.

UNDER any circumstances a victim of rum presents a sad sight; when the victim is a woman, the sight awakens feelings of the profoundest horror. And yet in this Christian land, where all the influences of the Bible abound, and where society is pervaded by the graces of civilization, of culture, of religion, women drink and women do get drunk. The following item, from a St John paper, shows what an officer found on visiting a house in that city :—

Two women lying on the floor in a state of intoxication, while in an inner room, upon a piece of old bagging, lay two children, ignorant of the condition of their protectors.—There was no fire in the house, which, to say the least, is a most cheerless abode, and its scanty surroundings gave every evidence of the extreme privation that exists beneath its roof.

THE vote on the Canada Temperance Act was taken in Queen's County, N S., on Monday last. As was to have been expected the vote was in the affirmative by a very large majority.

PORTLAND Division, S. of T., Portland, St. John, which has been dormant for some time, was resuscitated, under very favorable auspices, on Tuesday evening last.

GRAND LODGE OF MISSOURI, I. O. G. T.—The following summary of proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Missouri, which opened at Columbia, Mo., on the 19th October, is from the Good Templar, the official organ of the Grand Lodge of Missouri :—The Grand Lodge Degree was conferred upon those entitled to receive it by our Worthy Brother Col. J. H. Hickaman, R. W. C. T., Much important business was transacted, and many resolutions brought about which may materially change the working of our Order in the future. Among the latter was a motion of Bro. R. B. Scott, which was carried and read as follows :—'That our delegates to the R. W. G. Lodge are hereby instructed to vote first, last and all the time against the abolition of the ceremony of reobligation.' The number of Lodges last year was 440, with a membership of 25,942. This year the number was 510, with a membership of 37,903, making a gain in the year of 61 Lodges and 3,260 members.

Drunkenness is spreading so much in Germany, it is said, that a new measure for its punishment and prevention is being prepared for presentation to the Imperial Parliament. As we have been always told by people of the E. King Dodds stripe that beer and light wines rather conduce to temperate habits than otherwise, it is perfectly wonderful that the nation best supplied with these "milk liquors should be so great a sufferer that the iron hand of Prince Bismark—who does not wish the material for soldiers to deteriorate—should require to be brought to bear in making it sober!—Witness

Kansas has gone a little further than any other State in prohibitory legislation by adopting an amendment to the constitution by prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, except for medical, scientific and mechanical purposes. This has been adopted by a majority of 7,000 votes. As a part of the constitution this prohibitory law cannot be changed or repealed, except through a two-thirds vote of each branch of the legislature; ratified by a vote of the people.

Dr. Willard Parker says —" It has been demonstrated that the use of alcohol when employed moderately, as many young men often use it, as they think with impunity, makes the average of life thirty-five and a half, while that of non users reaches an average of sixty-four and one sixth years, a difference of about twenty-nine to each individual, a thousand individuals, 39 000."

LOST—Either on Connell Street or Chapel Street, a Gentleman's Linen Cuff with Moss Agate Sleeve Stud attached. The finder will confer a great favor and be suitably rewarded by leaving it at the SENTINEL Office.

MANHOOD
How Lost, How Restored!

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc , resulting from excesses.
Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer no matter what his condition may be may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

FREE TRADE!!

Every Farmer in New Brunswick, as in all our Provinces, are paying at least 50 per cent. more than actual cost for all their merchandise, and why? Because they don't come together and all agree on the one point that interests their Pocket Book more than all other politics combined. Being loyal to one's country is well enough, but be loyal to yourself and your family first. FREE TRADE is what every man, woman and child wants, to make Canada one of the most prosperous places in the world. It will badly affect a few but benefit many.
When we open our Store in Houlton, we don't care how many Goods the people smuggle, and will invite every Farmer between St. John and Grand Falls to come to Houlton and buy all their Goods, until the little Flag bearing the mark FREE TRADE is heeded, and every farmer can feel happy. We can fill orders of any size, for any kind of merchandise, at very low prices.
