THE FASCINATION OF DRINK.—There is a dreadful fascination about drinking. "What is fascination?" asked a little girl of her Science Master, He replied, "Dr. Malachi Foot would say fascination is the power to awaken feelings of pleasure so great as to absorb, or swallow up all other feelings, and eyen fears, and that too at what seems to be the most trifling cost." This feeling goes on TRAINS NORTH.—Express Trains leave St.

Thus a snake captures its prey by 'fascination.' It fixes its glittering eyes with hungry hope on a lark singing in mid-air. It raises its tail, and makes a constant waving motion, soft and inviting. The bird sees and is arrested. Its eye once caught becomes ensared in the endless waves of motion. Little snared in the endless waves of motion. Little the little it less central of itself and draws.

It fixes its glittering eyes with headam Junction with Trains east for Fredericton and St. John, and at Vanceboro with trains west for Bangor, Portland and Boston; at Woodstock with the New Brunswick Railway for Fort Fairfield, Caribou, Grand Falls and Edmundston.

Then it flutters helplessly into the serpent's folds, where it is stung and devoured. Presisely so is it with the fascination of drink Do you know any words that can prove it?"
"Oh, yes," replied the girl. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." "Very good." said the master. "How shall we best avoid the fascination of drink and its craving?" "I shall any how," said Mary "abstain from drink all my days, and try to lead others to do the same." "Nobly resolved, and God K. OSGOOD'S, help you to keep your resolution."-Rev Wm.

W. S. SAUNDERS,

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions, promotes energy and strength, restores and preserves health, and infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial.

It is folly to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, of cheap materials, and without medicinal virtues, offered as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated. Aver's Sarsaparitla is a medicine of such concentrated curative power, that it is by far the best, cheapest, and most reliable blood-purifier known. Physicians know its composition, and prescribe it. It has been widely used for forty years, and has won the unqualified confidence of millions whom it has benefited.
