Mr. Cameron thought that it would be about right for the Councillors of Perth and the good government of said lock-up to be Drummond to pay $1 each, for not running regulated by the County Council from time The question was now put and carried.

Drummond, June 29, 1881. Justices of the Peace for the County of Vic- division. toria, this 29th day of June 1881, at Drum-G. W. DAY, J. P.

last, so help me God. JOHN MICHAUD. Drummond, July 2, 1881.

Witness, ARTHUR DUBEE. Sworn to before me, G. W. Day, J.P., this 2nd July, 1881. for record, which was read.

Moved by Coun. Cameron, seconded by Coun. Burpee, in amendment, that the matter lay over till January next. Mr. McCluskey said that this matter seemed to be kept like a ball on the foot of some ed. Lost. Councillors, to be kicked here and there at pleasure The road had been laid out and the only obstacle in the way was Mr. Day's own acts. Fifty dollars had already been paid to one party for land damage on the road. Like the King of Siam or the Autocrat of Russia, Mr. Day seemed to follow this matter and make trouble : he should be careful how he proceeded; he is not all supreme, and may not always represent Drummond at granted. Carried. the Council Board. How could they get the $50 back from Merritt, and if they did whet would they do with it?

Mr. Day said he would like to make a few remarks before he voted. He had his doubts, in January, when the report was read, that time he has seen reason to believe that the rethe some extent it was bogus. Since that port was never in the hands of more than one Commissioner, and he was not sure that it was even in that one's. O'Neil's statement, Beveridge, that Constable Street be paid for sworn to, says he never was in company of the Commissioners when the road was laid out; did not sign report, nor authorize any one to sign for him. Also John Michaud swears that he did not sign the report of having laid out a road, nor did not authorize his signature to such a report; in fact he was not a Commissioner for seven months previous to the date of said report. Mr. McCluskey said this was a delicate question; he owned 200 acres of land in Drummond, and therefore he was personally interested; but the matter was a public one, and therefore he had duties to perform as a Councillor. The Clerk of the Peace was to blame if he did not record the Commissioner's report. Mr. Day had himself on two occasions given $20 a year to have this road ran. The Commissioners had made proper returns; two of them had sent in account of damages, and on strength of that award $50 had been paid to Merritt. Why did Mr. From Aroostook to Spike's farm, 15 00 Day not get Mr. Price's affidavit? Day not get Mr. Price's affidavit? On Sisson Road on Brook, 10 00 Mr. Day did not think as the matter now Road to Nelson Murphy's, 10 00 stood it should be laid over. The necessity To repair public wharf, Curry of the road was not objected to, only the ille-gal way in which it had been laid out. Re- To repair where needed, presentative Tibbitts had not authority to say how the road should be run. He had previously showed that Price had expended money where it was never authorized. He had been accused of spending money on the had been accused that he conferred that he had road twice, and he confessed that he had On road from Scott's to Cassidy's 10 00 given money towards a road connected with On road from main road to Stethe one under discussion; if they had diverg- phen Vallee, ed from the original route it was not his On roads where most needed, fault. The law said that no money shall be expended till the road is recorded. The affidavits presented show the Commissioners never signed the report. The whole proceed-ings were illegal and they had better close them up and begin anew. He had been informed that money was offered by Government to Merritt, but he refused it, saying he would not take it if the road was to go as at present located; a few days afterwards, when given to understand that the road would go
