

Temperance Column.

This column, by special arrangement is under the control of the Executive of the Grand Lodge, I.O.G.T., of New Brunswick. All notices in it may be regarded by the Lodges and Deputies as official.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.—All communications relating to Constitutional questions, must be addressed to James Watt, G. W. C. T., Woodstock, N. B.

All Remittances, Orders and Returns, must be addressed to A. W. D. Knapp, G. W. S. Sackville, Westmorland Co., N. B.

A. W. D. KNAPP, G. W. Secretary.

In the Scottish American Journal we find the following under the heading "Temperance and Legislation." Some of the suggestions though not novel are worth repeating.

American ingenuity is being directed in almost every State in the Union to the framing of new and original expedients for the suppression of intemperance. Nor is it only in the United States that measures are being taken. Last month a bill for the purpose came in force in Toronto, Canada, by which all liquors confiscated on unlicensed premises must be publicly destroyed, and, as a beginning, ten gallons of lager beer, ten of whiskey, and forty bottles of beer, were emptied into the sewers in the presence of a large company.

The plan of originality, however, for the invention of novel devices for preventing drunkenness must be awarded to the State of Indiana. Its Legislature is discussing a bill by which every person who desires to drink anything stronger than tea, or other equally mild beverages, must take out a yearly license costing ten dollars, the fees for which are to go to maintain inebriate asylums, and the license is to be forfeited on the first conviction for drunkenness. The idea of licensing the drinker, instead of relying solely upon controlling the licensed vendor of drink, is novel and worthy of attention.

But after all the principal value of temperance work will be directed towards individual effort, and, therefore, all aid, whether in the form of total or partial abstinence, should be gladly welcomed by temperance reformers. There are yet, unfortunately, thousands of habitual drunkards to whom reform seems a physical impossibility. The fearful craving for liquor none can understand except those who have felt it. To these unhappy people some better and more practical help should be extended, not by talk, merely, but in helping to raise such a higher level.

It can only be accomplished by putting the hand in the pocket and giving the victim a chance to recover his lost ground, by convincing him that it is not merely a sympathy of words that is felt for him, but an actual desire to set him again on his feet. Help of this kind is a little more expensive than the verbal process of good advice, but in the end it is worth far more than talking—and stopping there.

We are glad that the feeling in St. John relative to testing the Scott act there has not died out. The News states:—

A meeting of the Temperance Executive Committee, in the matter of the Canada Temperance Act, was held yesterday afternoon. The secretary handed in the petition from all the wards which were signed by more than the required 25 per cent. It was resolved that funds be employed for the purpose of having a majority of the signatures of the registered voters of the city and county. It was also resolved that an invitation be extended to Hon. Neal Dow, of Portland, Maine, to speak in St. John about the first of July.

We are especially glad to know that Neal Dow is expected to visit St. John.

Was that story about action of the English authorities with reference to an appeal, against the Scott act a Canard.

Dr. Day, superintendent of the Washington home in this city, has written a long letter to the New York Herald on "Intemperance as a disease," in which he reaches these conclusions:—

First.—That intemperance is a disease, developing diseased emotions, weakening the will power, depressing the moral elements of nature, and developing the lower or animal propensities. It is a disease that feeds upon itself, and if the habit is established by a family it will become extinct in the third or fourth generation. It depresses the vital forces, and makes men indolent and improvident.

Second.—Alcohol in excess is not a stimulant, but a powerful depressant. Instead of stimulating it produces anaesthesia. The victim becomes insensible to all outside impressions. It produces not only chronic alcoholism, but other diseases in their various forms.

Third.—That with proper treatment the disease may be cured, as other diseases of the nervous system.

Fourth.—That while we would not in any degree undervalue public sentiment which is calculated to correct this great evil which affects our race, yet it is a vast and important necessity for asylums and homes for the cure of the intemperate, as experience has shown. States and communities cannot too soon be made aware of their value.

How to MAKE LODGE MEETINGS ATTRACTIVE AND INTERESTING.

Attend regularly.

Be active and cheerful in your manner.

Devoted earnestly to the work.

Encourage each other.

Finances should be looked after carefully.

Good officers should be chosen.

Help from all insured success.

Industry will bring forth good fruits.

Justness in the programme should be aimed at.

Kindness works wonders. Use it freely.

Literary programmes regularly.

Musical exercises should be frequent.

Never despair in a good cause.

Order and discipline at all times.

Punctuality is absolutely essential.

Quarrels should be avoided.

"Remember your obligation."

Stay until the lodge closes.

Think wisely and judiciously.

Unity of purpose and effort is necessary.

Value the time of the lodge.

Work for the cause—not for self.

X—don't get crosswise like the letter.

Y—should be enlisted.

Z—zero is a point we should all avoid in the lodge thermometer.—B. F. C. in Star of Hope.

Precisely so, as the Lewiston (Me.) Journal remarks.—Let a paragraph appear which seems to discredit prohibition in Maine, and it will be copied and commented on from one end of the country to the other. But any correction of such criticism, or any array of statistics bearing the other way, is studiously avoided. Recently a paragraph was set forth to the effect that crime had multiplied in Maine under enforced prohibition. It was sent over the country and is still traveling. But a contradiction of the statement, showing by statistics that under enforced prohibition crime was lessened, would not be sent until the war closed that enforced prohibition became a settled fact crime had decreased in Maine, and the statistics would be the first item with such avidity. Prohibition can, and does, prohibit.—Adverse.

Senator Morrill, in the United States Senate.—"The liquor traffic is the gigantic crime of crimes in this age, and particularly in this country."

The Bishop of Manchester, England.—"Beer and wine shops with vaults are gateways to hell."

Dr. Willard Parker, of New York: "The alcohol is the one evil genius, whether in wine, or ale, or whiskey, and is killing the race of men."

John Williams, the married missionary to the Pacific Islands: "I dread the arrival of an American ship, for though she may have missionaries in her cabin, she brings in her hold the death-deaths of damnation."

Dr. Humphrey, President of Amherst College, 1851: "It is plain to me, as the sun in a clear summer sky, that the license laws of our country constitute one of the greatest evils on which the city of the future is in intemperance now rests."

Ayer's Hair Vigor, FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once lustrous and effective, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brassy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, soothing and soothing properties, it relieves not only all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

New Advertisement. Dry Sawed Lumber for Sale at Victoria Corner.

THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE: 120 m feet of seasoned Pine Boards, 3 in. in thickness, from 14 in. to 30 m. 20 m feet of Hardwood—Birch, Maple and Ash, from one inch to four inches in thickness. 20 m feet of seasoned Spruce Flooring, 10 m feet of seasoned hemlock Boards and Planks, 72 m Cedar Shingles, from $1.25 to $2.50 per m. Also offer for sale one-half of the steam saw mill, situate on the bank of the river St. John, near Victoria Corner. Said property has a rotary mill that will saw one thousand superficial feet per hour; together with Edge and Trimmer, also Shingle Machine and Lath Machine. One advantage this mill has, is that it has the upper St. John and its tributaries to furnish a never-ending supply of logs; also the privilege of the noble St. John to that manufactured lumber to market. This mill is capable of manufacturing twenty thousand dollars worth of lumber per year, which amount of business, no other mill would yield a good profit to the operator.

I also offer for sale one-half of the property known as the Taylor property, situate at Victoria Corner, consisting of a one and a half story dwelling house, 24x34, with old and new attached; also a stone house 24x34, two stories, consisting of dwelling house and all attached; also store building in good style for a dry goods and general business, also a large barn, and a fine garden and orchard. Terms given to the purchaser of said mill and other property will be made by day, and satisfactory reasons given for selling.
