FOR THE CARLETON SENTINEL.

MISSISSIPPI. There is a very eccentric and supercilious idea that the minds of the voters for members of parliament, &c., which ought to be handled very roughly, until its entire extinguishment is accomplished, and that this means a candidate without a penny of money to secure his return. Now Sir, what does this mean? It means corruption and bribery; the principle is the same whether it is a dollar or a thousand pounds. Now, this being a national election, there is a law of the nation against such an absurd state of morality, showing it to be what it is, nothing but an unrighteous and unlawful proceeding.

How can we expect anything but rascality and hypocrisy in Mr. P.'s, if we send them to parliament on such grounds as these? No wonder we have no confidence in them. (A pretty large one I suspect) of the national income, family compact, &c., corrupt practices of all kinds. As for the fact of anything being done by either party—Grits or Conservatives—when such is the tenor of our dealings with them.

With regard to Mr. Irvine, I think it very unfair not to give him a better chance than he has had, for his bold and honest behavior since he was elected by the people, and it is to be believed, very shrewdly to him after his weariness and hard fought battles, to give him the gold shield without a chance (in his own time) of his ultimate election. Mr. Lindsay is all very well, but I think he would do just as well where he is in our local Legislature for a year or two, as he is wanted here, if not for this I should prefer him to any other, and also for the shabby behavior with which we should treat the old speaker, Mr. Irvine. He is a talented man, and in the religious world and in statesmanship, and for literary talents I suppose every one will agree to the fact. Mr. Lindsay is a very good man, but I think he is a fair chance. He may be equal to more than we expect from a novice, and show talents that will surprise us all, notwithstanding any defect which might possibly be placed in his novel situation and unusual surroundings. I am, Dear Sir,

Yours truly, N. B. C.

FOR THE CARLETON SENTINEL.

DEAR MESSRS EDITORS.—Having lately visited the Dominion and vicinity, I thought that perhaps some observations might be of interest to many of your readers. After a very pleasant trip down the river in the "Florenceville," I was landed in the Dominion, where I was met by Mr. J. H. Bates, the Methodist Minister of Nashua, who very kindly conveyed me to his home and then turned me over to the care of the Rev. Mr. W. W. Colpitts, who was my companion "de voyage" next day across the well remembered Portage. The Portage crossed, I looked once more at the Dominion, which I had changed since I first saw it nearly eight years ago; a number of new, and some quite pretty buildings have been erected since then, particularly in the town of St. John, and the old stone house owned and occupied by Mr. P. Saunders, which Mr. Colpitts and Campbell's new stone look clean and airy. The old stone house, which was once a very fine building, has been pulled down, or dissolved into "thin air," and evidence of thrift and comfort have come instead. I naturally enquire, what has made this so easily to be reversed? and I get for answer, that no one is no longer sold here. The Scott Act has done the last seven, and those who were once in the Dominion, as I once heard a speaker here call them, have been stopped. With the exception of a bottle now and then smuggled by some one who sympathizes with a few who, for coming water in an old barn, there is very little drinking now in the Dominion. The lower end of the Dominion, which was once a very thriving town, is now a very quiet place, and the lower end of the Dominion, which was once a very thriving town, is now a very quiet place, and the lower end of the Dominion, which was once a very thriving town, is now a very quiet place.

It is in this County there is a disposition being shown by both parties, to use the Dominion to inform the people of the various issues involved in the coming election, and the arguments, pro and con bearing upon these issues. We notice that large numbers of copies of the speeches delivered here last summer by Sir Leonard Lindsay and Sir Charles Tupper have been printed and are being widely circulated, and now the liberals are sending out copies of the Dominion, which was once a very thriving town, is now a very quiet place, and the lower end of the Dominion, which was once a very thriving town, is now a very quiet place.

Two barns belonging to the Messrs Carvell Bros., Lakeville, were burned to the ground last night. One of the barns, which was occupied by Mr. Charles London, who lost by the fire, a horse, wagon and harness. The fire originated in this barn, from a pipe smoking. The other barn was a new and costly one, in this case half of it was burned. The new grain mill narrowly escaped, being saved from destruction by the most strenuous efforts of the neighbors. At one time the whole village seemed doomed, but the heavy fall of rain, and change of wind, fortunately, saved the mill. The cottage in which Rev. Edwin Miller resided, too, and Mrs. Miller, who was prostrate on a bed of sickness, had to be removed in the inclement weather; we are pleased to learn that she received no material injury.

We join with Canadian generally in the welcome which greets the Princess Louise on her arrival again in the Dominion. Following is an account of her arrival:— (Special to The Star.)

Queen, June 4.—The "Sarmatian," with the Princess Louise on board, arrived at 7 o'clock. The steamer had been expected as early as 2 o'clock, and long before that hour the people were waiting for her. The steamer was met by a large number of people, and the Princess Louise was received with the greatest honors. The steamer was met by a large number of people, and the Princess Louise was received with the greatest honors.

At the last Regular Monthly Meeting of the Dominion, June 1, the members passed the following:— Resolved, That the members of the Dominion, No. 1, tender their heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Woodstock, who so kindly and generously assisted them on the 24th of May; especially to the ladies and gentlemen who gave them the use of the Town Hall and Skating Rink. Also the different Military and Engine Companies who assisted in making the parade a success.
