The solution of th the capital over Sunday. There is a great | York City deal of work on hand, an unusually large number of bills having been introduced. The chief talk to-day was upon a bill in f which is to limit the jurisdiction of the sheriff, and requiring that in the appointment of pall clarks and presiding officers he shall choose these from residents of the Parish in which they are to act. Thompson, of York, supported the bill which came from the Municipal Council, and British and Foreign he argued that the training received in holding Parish elections had qualified residents of the Parishes properly to fill the positions of returning officer and poll clerk. Fraser and Blair were opposed to the bill because the principle involved was a wrong one. The former said if it was a wise and necessary measure it should be made general; the latter would never be influenced even by the County Council, much as he respected that body, to vote for a measure he believed would be injurious. Colter, in supporting the bill, while eulogizing Sheriff Temple, held that the offices On Wednesday the Prov. Secretary laid in question year after year should not be given to his city friends, but respectable men outside should not be debarred, and the money should be distributed in the County. The bill was lost, only 4 voting for it. The Prov. Secretary submitted the educament, I suppose, each member of the House all of Woodstock
