LITERARY NOTICES -In the September Win Awake George F. Barnes shows a very beautiful drawing as frontispiece for Mrs. Champney's charming Norse story, "The Castle of the Winds," and Mr. Campney has a fine, full page "How Elbridge Gray Played Little Boy Blue." James Otis gives a phase of his late travels in Florida, under the title " A young Alligator Catcher." There is also another Southern sketch, "A Little Texas Nurse Girl," with a good drawing by the Georgia artist, J. II. Moser. Long installments are given of the serials "The Trojan War," and "Lost Among Savages," and for the latter Bolton Jones has made some good drawings. Mr. Talbot's comedy "No Questions Asked" is evidently approaching some residuable crisis. Miss Harris" Wild Flower Par No. VI," is full of color and fragrance, and Miss Humphrey has given it several beautiful illustrations. And if not for all these charming things in prose and picture, together with poems exquisitely illustrated by Miss Lathbury.

Addie Ledyard, Taylor, Barnes and Church, this number will be carefully preserved on account of Mr. Mr. Bartlett's second programme for "A Summer Evening's Entertainment," which contains many carefully prepared novelties. The Chautauqua Reading Course for the mor moludes the series for the Chautauqua and on the cover is announced the Reading Course for the year beginning in October. Among the specialties announced we notice a series of Health and Strength Papers, by Prof. Sargent, of Harvard College. Only $250 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

Herper's Magazine for September opens with a beautiful frontispiece, entitled "A Sunday Morning in Surrey," from a picture by Alfred Parsons. The same artist, with equal charm, illustrates Mrs. Lillie's papers, "In Surrey," the first of which appears in this number. English country scenery has never been so attractively presented as in this delightful paper. From the rural beauty of an English county we turn to a quaint description of one of our most characteristic coast towns-York, in Maine, near Portsmouth-beautifully illustrated by W. F. Halsall and E. H. Garrett, The fifth and last paper of Mr. Lathorp's "Spanish Vistas" describes the coast towns from Malaga to Barcelona—a series of "Mediterranean Ports and Gardens," full of picturesque bits, of which the writer and the artist have made the most. Mr. Reinhart's illustrations for this paper—as for the entire series have never been surpassed. "The Weibertreue" (Faithful Wives) is the

The third part of Colonel Higginson's American History is devoted to the discoveries made by the Northmen. His paper is illustrated with CORNER MAIN AND REGENT STREETS, Edwin P. Whipple contributes an entertaining paper, entitled "Some Recollections of Ralph Waldo Emerson."

Bernet Phillips contributes a strong story,
"A Doctor Spoiled." Another excellent short story, "Love will find out the Way," is centributed by Mrs. Elizabeth D. B. Stoddard. Poems are contributed by Hjalmar H. Boyesen and Phillip Boukke Marston.

William Planking and the Shandan Polls."

William Black's new novel, "Shandon Bells," becomes more interesting with every new part, and is finely illustrated by William Small. The Editor's Easy Chair, Literary and Historical Records, and Drawer are full of timely and entertaining matter. The Phrenological Journal and Sbience of of Health for September 18 a valuable number, containing much in reference to the well being of the physical system that every individual should know. cheap at the subscription price, $2 per year. Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine. The number for October overflows with good things; the contents are exceedingly varied, and afford delightful and edifying reading, "The Religion of the Ancient Egyptians," by J. Newenham Hoare; "The Study of Biology at Princeton College;" "Lace-making;" "The Mount Axen Road in Switzerland;" "The Copts of Egypt and their Church," are among the noteworthy, profusely illustrated articles. There are also some admirable sketches and essays, one by Rev. Dr. Talmage, "The Old Homestead," is reple te with charming ideas, Marian Harland's serial, "A Good Fellow," is concluded, and MacDonald's "Weighed and Wanting is continued with increasing interest, Among the numerous poems is a very beautiful one, "The South Wind," by the late Fanny Parnell, which was received by the editor on the dsy of her death. "The Home Pulpit' has a sermon by Dr. Talmage, "Christianity as a Delusion." There are also "Wit, Wisdom and Pathos of Childhood, The Collection Basket," "Information for the Curious," "The Bow Uubent," etc., etc. Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine, The

It is a happy circumstance that Mrs CONN Lydia E. Pinkham has come to the front to instruct and cure the sufferers of her sex.

Of those killed by railroad accidents in Great Britain last year by causes beyond their own control, the proportion was one to 27,050, 435. The proportion of the injured was one to 630,384. The totals were 108 passengers killed and 1,854 injured. From trespasses, suicides, and miscellaneous causes death came to 467 persons and injuries to 265. The risk of travel is seen to be extremely low.

ing the cold season are very subject to them, and no household where there are children should At the Eleventh hour, A Novel-by Annie Edand no household where there are children should be unprovided with an effectual safeguard against lung disease. Such a one is Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, a preparation in which the former ingredient possesses the utmost purity, and where its well-known pulmonic properties are increased by the admixture of the lime and soda salts. Of these the basis is phosporus, an essential constituent of the brain, the muscles and the blood, and long recognized by physicians as a strengthening and fortifying agent of surpassing efficacy. The waste of bodily tissue consequent upon lung, chest, and throat complaints is promptly checked by this time-honored remedy, and the irritation of the breathing organs arrested and overcome by it. The article has arrested and overcome by it. The article has been pronounced by physicians the best preparation of its class, and this professional verdict has found an echo in the grateful acknowledgements of many who, despairing of aid from any source have nevertheless sought and found relief from
it. Persons whose chest and lungs are weak

Atthres coughs should use it as a preventive. Asthma, coughs, colds, spitting of blood, bronchitis and laryngitis are promptly remedied by it, and it also possesses properties as a blood purifier very manifest in various types of scrofula. Prepared only by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Canada.
