There never was, and never will be, a univeral panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which flesh is hear-the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient-what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtainable in a sound undulterated state, a remedy for many and grevious ills. By its gradual and judicious use, the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack | 30 One Harrow, of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquil- 31 One Fanning Mill, izing the nerves, disposes to sound and refresh- 32 One Double Barrel Gun. ing sleep-imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, thereby making activity a necessarv result, strengthening the frame, and giving ife to the dige-tive organs, which naturally denand increased substance-result, improved apetite.
