C. C. S. S. CONVENTION. Send matter for this space to the President of the Convention, Mr. J. W. Sherwood, V.c. toria Corner.

THE meeting for Bible study, which is con- stock Press. ducted by the Rev R. R. Meredith, at the Tremont Temple, Boston, every Saturday afternoon, is attended by from two thousand to twenty five hundred people, the large mapority of whom are teachers.

WE hear that Rev Thos. Todd, of the Al bert Street Baptist Church, Woodstock, con ducts a weekly Bible Class, every Thursday evening, to which are welcomed all who wish to study the next Sabbath's lesson. It is the intention to present the subjects from a catho lie standpoint, in order that all denominations may join. Why not have a full class of Sabbath School workers at Bro. Todd : Church every Thursday evening?

There is no place of public worship near, or the hours enjoyed by thousands of our people, between services drag heavily The guests and inmates of the family would welcome something to break in upon that listless mo notony. A few of them can be gathered to the porch or under the trees Even if singing is impracticable, the B ble is available ; and even if we are to suppose that no Bible or Testament can be secured, yet enough of divine truth is lodged in the memory to afford a basis for profitable conversation. Perhaps some of the best opportunities of a lifetime may come to a Christian in such informal services. There is a genuineness, free dom and directness about them that brings Hart traced his conversion to the influence of a little Bible service which a Christian lady held, with five boys, at a country farm-house during the coming autumn.
