

Jottings.

We are justified in stating that Hon. Wm. Elder, who occupies the platform in the Methodist Church, in the Town Hall, on Monday evening next, 2nd April. Chair taken at 8 o'clock. Mr. Elder's ability as a writer is well known, to require any further allusion on our part. His subject will be "Out West".

Special services are still being held, with blessed results, in the F. C. Baptist and Methodist Churches.

Mr. Kennedy, who has charge of the Alma House, was thrown from his sled against a post, one day last week and seriously injured. He is, we are glad to learn, recovering.

The new bell has arrived.

We understand that our Presbyterian friends intend extending a "call" to Rev. A. MacDougall.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. J. G. Emery, in this issue. Those who contemplate buying a Clock, Winger, Sewing Machine, or any farm implement, whether it be a Plow, Harrow, Rake or Mower should give Mr. Emery a call. He believes in keeping pace with the times, therefore you can rely on getting from him the best article in the market. His motto is quality first; price afterwards.

While Joseph Parlee was working at a circular saw in Grant & Atherton's Carriage Factory, Monday afternoon last, his left hand in some way was brought into contact with the saw. The two first fingers were cut off at the hand and the third finger so cut that it had to be amputated at the second joint. Mr. Sharp, assisted by Drs. Smith and Turner, performed the surgical operation.

At 10 o'clock, on Monday night last, on the streets of Woodstock, a black jet necktie. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at the store of B. B. Byers.

Wm. Price, Sen., one of our old, well known and worthy citizens died, after a brief illness, on Saturday evening last, in the 70th year of his age.

We direct attention to the advertisement of Laurance's Spectacles in this issue. Persons whose sight is in any way affected, had better embrace the present opportunity, and call upon Mr. Laurance, or Mr. D. Harris, one of which gentlemen may be found at Apothecary Hall here for a few days ready to give perfect satisfaction to all who may consult them.

Rev. G. W. McDonald, one candidate on Sabbath morning last, in the evening of the day named he received six members into his Church.

Mr. Merrill Wade, a Sackville student of Trinity, preached an acceptable sermon, to a large congregation, in the Methodist Church, on Good Friday morning.

Large congregations filled the Town Hall on Saturday evening and on Sabbath afternoon when the services of the Rev. Wm. D. Harris, W. D. Hart, Rev. T. Todd, S. J. Parsons and Mr. Chubbuck. At the close of Saturday evening's services some 120 persons attended the service. The singing in these services was excellent. Mr. W. V. Segge, singing, Miss Taylor at the organ.

Rev. C. O. Sullivan, of Hamilton, preached on Sunday the 13th inst. in Rev. Father Gaynor's Church, Richmond, where he being the Patron Saint of Ireland.

We have received a report of the political convention held at Ashcroft, on the 24th inst. It came to hand too late for this issue, but will appear in our next.

The West and Parish Asylum, Fredericton, was destroyed by fire on the 26th inst. None of the pupils were injured.

Harper for April, an exceedingly interesting number, comes from the editorial establishment of T. O'Brien & Co., 25 King Street, St. John.

On Friday last there were on the N. B. Rail, way, between Woodstock and St. Stephen, 50 cars loaded chiefly with potatoes and hay; of these, on the day mentioned, some 90 of them reached Vancouver for the west.

Thanks to Mr. S. O. Shaw, Livingston, Montana, for late newspapers.

Upper Woodstock Items. March 28, 1883.

The residents of this village are not particularly apprehensive of the efforts being made to deprive them of the County Buildings. They feel that for the people to condemn the present spacious and comfortable Court House would be suicidal. They believe that if there be a necessity for a new jail, the present site affords a more ample one than any that could be procured in Woodstock. They also think that a less ornate and expensive one erected here would satisfy the people generally as well as one of more massive construction situated in the town. They know full well, too, that the erection of a new jail in Woodstock now, means the ruin in regard to the Court House, for the two are inseparable. Hence the County has left on hand a large and valuable building in good repair which cannot be applied to any appropriate use unless it is removed to Woodstock, to take the place of the proposed new building. They claim that the point so well put by Mr. Stickney, that the land on which the buildings are now placed should revert to the heirs of the donor on ceasing to be used for its present purpose, carries a strong degree of moral force. For these and other reasons that we need not mention today, they expect to be confirmed in their opinions, when the vote on the question is taken.

Last Wednesday, Mr. John Fisher, Jr., disposed of his farm stock and implements by auction, and has since moved to town. Upper Woodstock parts reluctantly with Mr. Fisher, who has spent so many years of usefulness among its people. In his declining years we wish him and Mrs. Fisher much comfort and peace.

Mr. George Briggs, who last fall purchased the property of Mr. Thomas Harrison, and purpose removing thereto this spring, has since resolved to go west. He accordingly leaves for Montana, in a few weeks. Mr. Harrison will continue to occupy the farm for his present owner for some time. Mr. George Little, blacksmith, and Mr. John Walton intend going in the same direction as Mr. Briggs. We understand the families of these individuals also go with them.

The Presbyterian Mite Society met on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. A. Henderson, where a very pleasant time was spent.

Foreclosure Items. March 27, 1883.

The accounts which we read of floods in Nova Scotia, wheeling in the streets of St. Stephen, J. C., are read up here with some degree of wonder, as our fields and streets are still hidden under the snow of the fall season, and not sufficient rain has fallen since November last to prevent our springs from trying up.

One day last week a little child of Thomas Withers, about a year old, by some means went over a fence and fell into a boiler of water which had been left on the stove. It was so badly scalded about its face, neck, chest, arms and legs that it could not survive. Its injuries were attended to by Dr. Haggan, and there is now a prospect of its recovery.

Mr. Symes was to have lectured in Kearney's Hall, this afternoon (Tuesday) the attendance, however, was so small that no lecture was delivered.

A concert will be given in Kearney's Hall, on Saturday evening next, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the relief of two needy families. As there is no one in actual want and as the situation in circumstances which appeal heavily to the sympathy of the community, it is probable that the charity disposed will extend to the entertainment a generous patronage. During an intermission in the concert, or at its close the ladies will serve hot coffee and refreshments.

Work on the Methodist Church, which has been discontinued for some time, is about being resumed.

St. Leonard (Vic. Co.) Items. March 27, 1883.

The snow plough jumped the track below John Lynch's, and went over the river bank, where it was running.

Parties above Little Falls have been forced to bring their teams out of the woods, for want of fuel to carry on their camp, owing to the block on the railroad.

Violet Brook & Co. will do a flourishing business this season, if it goes well, and it will not be Howard's fault if not.

G. N. Hammond's new steam mill, near St. Leonard Station, is doing good work, and he deserves credit for the spunk shown in leading his means to open up our country's resources.

To the oyster-eating community of Woodstock, who by their liberal patronage have shown their appreciation of his efforts to gratify their appetites, the following lines are respectfully dedicated by BOB:

There's no malediction so wretched, To which man is heir, But will find alleviation If you dine on Bob's fare. There's no such deep affliction, And no such fit of "blues," As you'll find the burden lifted If you try his Oyster Stews.

Have you drained life's brimming chalice To its bitter, acid dregs? You will find sweet consolation When eating him and eggs. And there's none yet, so desolate To all sense of bliss, I ween, But will find a thrill ecstatic When he masticates "a bean."

Have you with your level one quarrelled, And your heart seems gone from you, She will sweetly smile upon you, If you treat her to a "steak."

If in summer, should the lady Cold and distant to you seem, Fear not, if you but treat her To a sweet Vanilla Cream.

But a closing word of warning, Reader, I earnestly thee, Have're oft you call at Bob's, Don't rouse the "Bumble Bee."

JOHN H. BARNES, of Sussex, is well known as a Threshing Machine Expert. We have engaged his services, and appointed him Manager of the Threshing Machine Department of our business.

His special work will be:—

First—To carefully superintend the manufacture of the Threshing Machines which we have under contract, watching all the details of construction and having carried out such improvements as his skill and experience, and our own recommendation.

Second—To instruct agents and customers who may need instruction in the best methods of working the machines which will pass into their possession.

We are having manufactured the two best double horse power threshing machines now known, viz:—

Gray's American Threshers with Railway Powers, as sold by us last year, with improvements, and the Little Giant Threshers with Level Tread Powers, with latest improvements and better construction and material.

Both machines will be made with all the latest foreign and domestic improvements, and every one sold will be fully warranted to do good work, and against defects in material and construction.

Parties who may be considering the idea of buying threshing machines are invited to correspond with us at an early date. Last year we were only able to fill two-thirds of the orders which we received.

For further information, call upon either of our undermentioned agents.
