THE CHOLERA PANIC. - There is no brutality like that of the panic struck. The deaths at Damietta from cholera exceed 100 a day, though the population is only 30 000. A cordon of troops has been accordingly drawn round the wretched town, with orders to shoot any one found leaving it. Consequently every one is afraid to enter the place, which has become a fetid prison, and there are neither sufficient doctors, guardians of order, nor medical comforts. The people die or live uncared for, relatives are divided, business is Of any school, what is the best thing in the stopped, and for all any one knows the inhabitants may be starving. At the same plaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing time, any one who can bribe the police gets sleep always? through, so that if cholera were contagious, And they will tell you unhesitatingly it would be conveyed in spite of the cruel re-strictions. It is believed that the outbreak is, in the main, local; and Lord Granville on Tuesday read an opinion from Sir William Gull, stating that he saw little ground for be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys alarm, as severe epidemics of cholera were always preceded by small outbreaks in the previous winter and spring. All the states and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to of the Mediterranean have published quarantine rules, and the French and Italian papers insist that the cholera came from Bombay.

Saint John, October next. They also desire to bring together from different parts all the old portraits, paintings and other works of art which can be obtained, for the purpose of further illustrating the lives and manners of that venerable race of men. A Committee has been appointed by the Society to whom will be specially dele-gated the work of collecting all these valuable and interesting relice, and who will take every possible precaution to ensure the safe handling, the security and the prompt return of everything entrusted to them for the Exhibition. They will be happy to have and respectfully solicit aid and co operation in London, Aug. 6.—A great demonstration took place to-day, in Trafalgar square, the object of which was to protest against the ex-clusion of Bradlaugh from the House of Commons. There were 30,000 persons present. The meeting passed a resolution favoring resistance by Bradlaugh of the mandate of the House of Commons. Copies of the resolution were forwarded to the Queen, Gladstone and to the Speaker of the House.

The total number of deaths from cholera in Egypt on Friday was 870, including 170 at Cairo, 27 at Rosetta, 187 in the Province of Garbich; 107 in the Province of Dankalieh and 14 in Benisuef. Deaths in Egypt on Saturday numbered 728, including 160 at Cairo, 22 at Rosetta, 19 in Garbich, 44 in Dakalieh, and 89 in Benisuef. Saturday's return is somewhat incomplete, but there seems to have been an improvement since

The Fountain Enclosure is made in any size and supplied with granite or marble tablets on which is carved the memorial or inscription for the dead. The Canopy is for trailing vines. To fill the frame with water, remove one of the vases. The water is drawn off at the bottom to prevent freezing The Fountain Enclosure is very durable and cheap, and, in connection with the growing plants, presents a prominent and pleasing appearance. In the Underground Fountain the pipes are laid near the surface, and as the earth near the surface is warm both night and day during the summer season it will be found that the evaporation is just as effective as though the pipes were above ground, as shown in cuts Nos. 1 and 3.

This system of irrigation is also adapted for Conservatories. Lawns, Window Gardening, etc. As an enclosure for Cemetery Lots and Graves, this Enclosure or Reservoir is being universally adopted, and in connection with the Tablets it is fast superceeding the ordinary head stones, being Woodstock, June 1, 1883 one of the latest and most durab'e and beautiful designs ever introduced.
