The firm of Grant & Atherton, who have it their employ twenty-seven men, are now busil engaged in preparing for the wants of the public next summer. They have now in course of construction, one hundred light waggons, of different designs, and the same number of team waggons, many of which will be ready for the earliest demand. They contemplate erecting in the spring, in the rear of their factory, a wareroom 60x36 feet and two stories high. Such evidences of advancement speak favorably for the firm.

From a personal inspection of his stock we are prepared to affirm that Mr. Osgood, who advertises in the SENTINEL, has at his store in Houlton, a disp'ay of goods in jewelry, watches, fancy goods, &c., that would do credit to a city of more metropolitan pretensions. We are quite sure that those who wish to gratify the eye by looking at such goods may be gratified at Mr. Osgood's, and those who want to buy need not leave his store without having their wants satisfactorily satisfied.

Messrs. Appleby & Courser have just had placed in their law office a very handsome and convenient walnut office table, made large enough for two to occupy, giving each, beside ample room for writing purposes, some twelve large drawers. The table is made in sections easily taken apart, so that it may readily be removed in case of fire. It was manufactured at A. Henderson's factory, Upper Woodstock, on which establishment it reflects credit.

A Lodge of the 1 O G.T., was organized in this town, on Wednesday evening, by Deputy Wm Gibson.
